All the Main Buildings Will Be Under Course of Erection Before the Close of September.

The work on the exposition grounds is progressing favorably. The grading on the main court is now completed and it is no longer difficult for a violtor to form in his mind's eye a picture of how the main court will look when the buildings are erected and all of the embellishments are in place. All is now ready for the building contractors and within the next thirty days the main court will be a veritable bee hive.

Contracts for the erection of the Administration building, the Manufactures building, the Mines and Mining building, and the Machinery and Electricity building have been let, and the Agriculture building will be put on the boards for bids this week. The worklet, and the Agriculture building will be put in the public schools of the United States, on the boards for bide this week. The working drawings for the Art building will be copy of the Northern Pacific's new and ready for the contractors within a few days, and the revised plans for the Auditorium it is especially adopted for use in the public

SECOND BUILDING UNDER WAY.

The Manufactures building is let to R. C. Strehlow of Omaha, carpenter, and Smith & Rastman of Chicago, staff workers. The pile foundation is all in place, and the sill and portions of the superstructure have been completed in some parts of the building. The material is nearly all on the ground and the work is progressing capidly. The staff contractors have their workshop completed and have commenced work on molding to taff ornamental work. Goldle & Sons of Chicago have the carpente.

Coldle & Sons of Chicago have the carpenter contract for the Mines building and they gay they will commence work putting in the foundation this week. The staff contract for this building was let to Smith & Eastman. The contract for the Machinery and Electricity building was let Filday of last week to Hamilton Bros., carpenters, Omaha, and Smith & Eastman, staff contractors. The supervising architect of the Treasury department of the federal government is at work on the plans for the government build-on the plans for the government build and it is announced from that office that the building will be under cover by Jan-uary 1, and that the staff work will be carried on Inside the building.

When it is borne in mind that the erection of staff buildings is almost like the growth of a magic city in the night by the lamp of Alladin, it will be seen that the progress made up to this sime is really wonderful. If the necessity arose for extereme haste any building on the ground could be completed within sixty days, so that the apparent slow-ness la only the result of involuntary com-parison with ordinary building operations. BUILDINGS TO BE PAINTED.

Although no official announcement has been made, it has been practically decided that the "old ivory" effect on the buildings will not be accomplished by mixing the coloring material with the staff as it is being prepared, but will be obtained by painting the buildings after the staff is all decision sceme to be the result of a strong disinclination on the part of the staff contractors to try what they say is simply an experiment. Notwithstand-Ing the fact that the art building in the Nashville exposition is a forcible proof that the staff may be successfully colored, the contractors refuse to concede that it may done, and the attempt to convince them has been abandoned.

Experiments are now being made with a cheap paint by which the same effect may be produced. This paint will be sprayed on the immense surfaces of the main buildings air brushes, similar to those used at the World's fair. For this purpose com-pressed air machinery is used and the pain sprayed in a fine stream through a nozzle which is handled by a workman in much the same manner as hose is used to sprinkle a lawn. Experiments have recently been made at the Union Pacific shops, which has the larger to the la the largest compressed air plant in this part of the country. It has been demonstrated that this paint may be put on by these machines at a price which is ridiculously low. One of the machines with which these experiments have been made has seven nozzles and the surface which may be covered in a day by a single machine is associated. ered in a day by a single machine is astonishing. The paint with which experiments have been made is a rich, warm cream color and appears to be permanent in its color. It is being subjected to severe tests and will be adopted if it passes through the ordeal successfully. With this as a back-ground the rich bues contemplated in the elaborate color scheme of the main court will stand out in strong contrast and impart rich flavor to the scene w scene which will rival DIVISION OF BLUFF TRACT. The grading of the bluff tract is about completed and the work of erecting the buildings which are to stand on this portion of the grounds will soon be commenced.

A line drawn across this tract east and west from the east end of the viaduct leading into the bluff tract from the main court will divide the tract into two distinct see tions. North of this line will be the Plaising novelties, and its various sources of amusement and instruction. South of this line will be the horticultural section of the great show, taking the form, in part, of a beautiful park where the public may seek rest and repose and enjoy at the same time, a view of the beautiful valley of the Missouri and the frowning bluffs skirting the river on the lowa side The Horticulture building will form a prominent feature of this section of the ounds. It will stand about in the center the south half of the bluff tract, opposite Lothrop street. It will be a hand-some and imposing building and will be filled with rare and beautiful creations of nature. Surrounding this building will be beautiful park, filled with flower beds ad winding walks and with plenty of shady nooks where the visitor may seek rest while enjoying the beauties of nature.

Here and there about this park will be the various state buildings, each of which will be used only as a meeting place for visitors from all over the land. The Ncbraska building will be prominent among these and will probably be the headquarters for many of the states. The Nebraska Ex-position commission has offered accommodations in their building to any state which desires to take advantage of it, and the building is designed to afford plenty of office room besides the ample parlors and reading rooms, toilet rooms, and the numerous other things necessary for the accommodation of the visiting public, but which could find no place in an exhibit building.

Young Girl Arrested Charged with Incorrigibility.

Lizzie Davies a girl of 17, is locked up in the matron's department at the police station on a charge of incorrigibility. Her parents live at 4932 Davenport street. About three weeks ago the girl became imbued with an idea to see the world, and accordingly left home one night without first bidding her parents goodbye. She was gone for nearly a week and was finally located by the police and sent to her home. The girl was dissatisfied with her surroundings and last Monday again suddenly took her departure for places unknown. She was arrested last night near Fifteenth and Webster streets in company with a young man whom her parents have forbidden her to with. She has no complaint make of her home, except that she does not like to be restrained, and following this plan

USE AND ABUSE OF WEALTH

Bishop Newman Discusses This Problem at the First Methodist Church.

WEALTH IS GIVEN TO BLESS HUMANITY

Any Other Use of It Becomes Abuse and Brings Discredit Upon the Possessor of It.

Seldom has the seating capacity and standing room of any Omaha church been so severely taxed as at the First Methodist Episcopal church yesterday morning. The choir was considerably augmented, and in addition to the regular musical program several special anthems and colos were rendered. Revs. McQuoid, Maxfield, Saunders and Hodgetts, the latter formerly pastor of the Tenth Street Methodist church and now stationed at Norfolk, Neb., were also present. In his sermon Bishop Newman devoted much attention to wealth and the use thereof. He said that ministers were not altogether free from the worship of many parts.

There is no condemnation in Christianity, young men, against popularity or ambition, whenever the motive is of high purpose. Remember this, young men; let this always live in your hearts: the truly good are the truly great, and the truly great are the truly good. One of the slanders that has come down to us through the drama is the statement of Shakespeare that 'the evil that men do lives after them; the good is oft in terred with their bones.'
