STAYS BY HIMSELF. After being given possession of his apart ment in the car Ward remained away from the other passengers most of the time and spent all of his time in his own apartment spent all of his time in his own apartment. Early yesterday morning he began to show signs of insanity. He flourished two revolvers on the train several times and almost created a panic among the other passengers. He told the conductor of the train who he was and continued to act in a very peculiar manner. At nearly every stop of the train he would get off and send telegrams. One of those messages he sent to a resident of Los Angeles, Cal., saving that if Mrs. Brad-Los Angeles, Cal., saying that if Mrs. Brad-bury wanted him she could come to him, but for the present he would have to go to England to visit his wife. Lieutenant Collins received the message and, thinking it was in regard to some fugitive from justice, turned it over to Lieutenant Hars and this morning the latter detailed Detective Broderick of headquarters to meet the train. Ward's effects consisted of several expensive satchels and his rail road tickets. The satchela were examined by the Pullman officials at the union depot lit was through the papers found in them that his identity was learned. The North western people were notified of this fact and the train dispatcher of the Galena division of that roud immediately proceeded to have the body seached for. Telegrams were sent all along the line as far as Fremont, Neb,, and orders given agents to search for the BODY FOUND AT WHEATLANDS. Several hours later a dispatch was re-ceived from Wheatlands, Ia., that the body had been found alongside the track near that place. The body was dressed only in a night robe and was much bruised. The re-mains were taken to Clinton, Ia., where they are being held.

In Ward's satchels were found only $12 in cash, but he had a draft for $450. He also had in his clothing a hotel bill for $34. All yesterday and last night Ward acted in a restless manner and frequently left his apart ments, creating consternation among the passengers by his peculiar actions. He remained up all night and refused to retire until 3 o'clock this morning, when he ap-proached the colored porter and told him he was going to sleep. Ward then went into his room and when De Kalb., Iil., was reached, the porter krocked on the door of Ward's room, but received no answer. He made sev eral efforts to get into the room, but with-

BOARDED THE TRAIN AT FREMONT. Another report is to the effect that War was brought into the train at Fremont Neb., by a gentleman who was well dressed and apparently a business man of middle There was nothing unusual about him attention. Just before the train started from Fremont the other man placed Ward in the state room, and, shutting the door behind him, leaped from the train. It is not known whether he locked the door from the outside. Immediately after leaving the car the stranger rushed to a telegraph office and sent a message to the police of this city requesting them to take his friend in charge when the train arrived. The police are inclined to believe that Ward was of unsound mind and that he was sent to this warded by the police to Fremont requesting

When the train pulled into the Northwestern depot this morning Detective Broderick leaped on board and endeavored to gain en-trance into the drawing room bearing the letter "B" on its door. The door, however, was securely locked on the inside and all the efforts to gain entrance were without avail for the time. However, the train crew fi-nally managed to get in through an annex, and when the detective was admitted the room was found to be empty. A pile of clothing which Ward had worn was found scattered about the room, but no trace of him could be found. It was soon decided that he had Jumped through the window and all his effects were taken in charge by the Pullman company. In the meantime the police and officials of the Northwestern road proceeded

In going the rounds of the train he found Ward's berth empty and the car window wide open. All of the man's clothing was found in the berth. A new book entitled "Witty, Wife and Wicked Maxima," with all the passionate love pasages and those pertaining to heartless women heavily underlined with pencil was also found. It is thought by the railroad people that Ward had become insane brooding over his elepement with Mrs. Bradbury. The porter of the car, C. M. Calloway, and the conductor, C. F. Godman, both say that Ward was of the morose and moody from the time he boarded places.

WARD'S WOMAN SCRAPE. SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 3.-W. Russell Ward, who committed suicide by throwing himself from the window of the car in which he was traveling from this city to Chicago today, first gained notoriety very marked attentions to the wife young Los Angeles millionaire, Colonel John Bradbury, at Santa Monica, a seaside resort some eighteen miles from Los Angeles. As Ward was a married man and the father of a family, his fiftation with Mrs. Bradbury caused a rupture between himself and Colonel Bradbury, and it was rumored that the latter had even challenged his rival to fight a duel.

a duel. At the same time vague stories of a rupture between Colonel Bradbury and his wife were bruited about, but were strennouely denied by Bradbury.

Matters came to a climax on June 30 last when Mre. Bradbury cloped with Ward to this ity. Upon their arrival they startled the community by openly admitting their folly and defying public opinion by the most shameless conduct. Their career, however, was cut short by their arrest upon the charge of adultery, at the instance of the Society for the Prevention of Vice, Mrs. Bradbury was released upon her was released. was released upon her own recognizance by Police Judge Lowe, but in default of ball. NO TRACE AT FREMONT.

FREMONT Neb., Sept. 3.—(Special.)—Only a trace of W. Russell Ward can be obtained . Yesterday afternoon the telegraph company's messenger was searching for him for ie, and as near as can be learned, was unable to find him. He sent no night mesage from here, but may have sent one from he uptown office of the Western Union. The licket agent of the Elkhorn road says he sold no ticket to Chicago yesterday. He sold several thekets to Blair to strangers, who took the afternoon train, and Ward may have been one of them. The agent at the Union Pacific mays no strangers took the Union Pacific eastbound tains yesterday afternoon. Ward is not registered here at any of the hotels.

RESIDENT AT OHIO STATE FAIR Mr. McKinley Puts in a Pleasant Day at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 2.-Presiden McKinley and party arrived at 10 a. m. as guests of the Ohio State Fair association. They were preceded by Hon, James Wilson, secretary of agriculture, who rejoined them here. With the president came Mrs. McKinley, Senator and Mrs. Hanna, Secretary and Mrs. Alger, Colonel and Mrs. Myron T. Herrick, Webb C. Hayes and other personal Upon arrival the committee on reception appointed by the board of agriculture escorted the president between lines of police to carriages. The crowd in the vicinity of the tation was immense, the weather being and the attendance at the fair very large Colonel S. Poland, lu command of the Seven teenth United States infantry, and Colone loit in command of the Fourteenth regiment Ohio National Guard, and J. C. L. Pu Ninth battalion, Onio National Guard, re-eived the president at the station entrance He was then escorted, the city police leading the way, to the Great Southern hotel. Enroute to the hotel the president was walcomed by thousands of people and handsome patriotic decorations of buildings, to which he responded in the usual way. The outbouring of people evinced more of the feel-ing of a warm welcome home to a great favorite than anything to which the scene night be compared.

Luncheon having been served at the hotel mual, the president and party took carriages or the fair, overtaking the military, which had gone ahead "to rest in the shade," as desired by the president. He came upon them at a point near the entrance. Having carried a gun himself and other military accoutrements, he seemed not to have forgotten how soldiers in war, and especially on parade, are often required to stand for hours awaiting the convenience of dignitaries Marching into the large fair grounds, the procession moved through a sea of human beings to the main building, where the president addressed school children from Colun bus and many parts of the state, all whom had been especially invited by card and admitted free. The president expressed himelf as being especially pleased to meet the children. Later in the day the party wa escorted to various buildings of interest where short speeches were made and informareceptions given. The president was inter-ested in the cottage in which Grant was born. It is enclosed in a building of steel and glass and is the property of the farmers of Ohio, being permanently located on the fair grounds.

As unpleasent feature of the president's visit to the city was a report which gained currency through the publication today of an anonymous letter to the effect that the president was in bodily danger because of the appointment of Immigration Commiscloner Powderly, and that extraordinary pre-Kinley. THEY ENCOUNTER MANY DIFFICULTIES

Result of Explorations is to Revolu tionize Several Old Ideas of the Polar Regions _ Nothing Heard of Andree.

LONDON, Sept. 3 .- The British steamer Windward, having on board the Jackson-Harmsworth expedition, which has spent three winters near Cape Flora, Franz Josefland, arrived here today from Franz Josefland with F. J. Jackson and his colleagues. All the members of the expedition are in good health. They report having explored Franz Josefland thoroughly with the exception of some odd corners. Before the Windward sailed, the quarters of the expedition at Elmwood were fastened up, but Mr. Jackson left there a quantity of suphusband, who was enroute to Europe with his mother. A reconciliation was effected and the couple went to New York, whence they departed for Mexico, where they now also established a depot at Bell island. plies in case the place should be visited by Prof. Andree or other explorers. Talking over his experiences, Mr. Jackson said that since the Windward left Franz Josefland last year with Dr. Nansen, the winter had been less severe and less windy than usual. Mr. Jackson and Albert Armitage, nautical astronomer of the expedition, started on March 16 with a pony and dog siddges to explore the western part of Franz Josefland. They encountered boisterous weather, and at the end of the first month a majority of the dogs and the pony constant mists which prevailed made the journey very hard. They shot a bear, the

The most valuable magnetic, meteorological and geological observations were made, and very valuable botanical and zoological collections were brought to England. The winter life of the explorers was uneventful. The members of the expedition killed 1,400 loon (a webfooted bird found in the northern regions) in the autumn, which provided ample fresh meat. During the winter they caught nineteen loon and twenty-two kittlwakes (a bird of the gull kind), to which they fastened labels in-itialed "J" and liberated them. The cold sometimes reached 40 degrees below zero freezing point.

The members of the Jackson-Harmsworth dition falled to see King Oscar lan and are convinced that there is no great land north of Franz Joseffand. They add that the existence of Petermannland loubtful and that at most it must be small These alterations in the map render the prospect of reaching the north pole from Franz Jesefland more than doubtful, as the returned explorers are satisfied there is no land north of 82 degrees. They did not see anything of Prof. Andree, who started on July 11 from the island of Tromsoe in an attempt to cross the north pole by balloon. Mr. Jackson announces his intention of head-ing another Arctic expedition, this time on his own account.

The proposition does not involve arbitration and in effect provides for an immediate settlement of the President Ratchford said tonight that there were special reasons for the board recommending the proposition. In the first place, concedes the miners a material advance. Had a 69-cent rate been secured he was con-fident it could not have been maintained for more than seventy days. The proposition does away with all the uncertainties of the matter and will bring the strike to a speedy termination. As soon as the miners ratify the proposition work will be resumed in all the mines. In the second place, the propo-sition provides for a revival of the joint conferences for the adjustment of prices. The operators are pledged to meet with the miners prior to the termination of the agreement and determine the rate of mining for the next year. Both the members of the miners' ex-centive board and the operators' committee are pleased over the outcome of the conferonce and feel that public sentiment will sustain their action.

This morning the operators' committee re-newed 4's first proposition for a 61-cent rate, pending arbitration. This was again rejected by the miners' board. Then the operators' committee got together and submitted a new proposition for a straight price of 65 cents and after a long discussion it was accepted by the miners' beard subject to the approval of the miners at large.

and Cleveland company returned to work a the vame price they were receiving when they quit. President De Armitt figures that the strike has so far cost the miners of the ountry $8,000,000. He based this statement upon the supposition that 100,000 men were out and that they averaged $10 per week. His men have lost $15,000 in wages to the company by breaking their contracts. The fight of the De Armitts against the miners has also been a very costly one. Already about $11,000 has been spent by the New York and Cleveland Cas Coal company wages and board of deputy sheriffs.

A body of strikers were stopped by deputies this morning while marching to Centhrees, but a crowd of seventy-five soon collected and when the order was given by John McGuire the rush was made and they went through in spite of the deputies. DEAD WOMAN'S RINGS

Mrs. Luetgert's Jewelry Plays Important Part in Murder Trial.

IDENTIFICATION BY THREE WOMEN

Rings Found in Vat Same as Those Mrs. Luetgert Wore.

WITNESSES SAW THEM ON HER FINGERS

Sharp Cross-Examination Fails to Shake Their Testimony.

DAMAGING EVIDENCE AGAINST PRISONER

Judge Adjourns Court Early in Order to Visit the Sausage Factory and Examine All the Surroundings.

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.-Three women gave damaging evidence against the defendant in the Luetgert trial today. They positively identified the rings found in the vat as being the property of Mrs. Luetgert and said 4 p. m..... 93 they had seen them on her hands and one 5 p. m..... 93 of them had talked with her about the rings of them had talked with her about the rings 6 p. m..... 90 at one time and so felt sure that the rings S p. m 83 found in the vat and those she saw on Mrs. 9 p. m..... 81 Luetgert's fingers were the same. The defense made a desperate effort to break down Yesterday was not only hot, but it was the evidence of the three women, but they windy and dusty. The wind came from the all stuck to their stories and swore that . south and blew a stiff gale nearly all day, rings were those which the wife of the peared.

The session of court was short in the afternoon, as Judge Tuthill said he desired to make a personal visit to the factory and see for himself where the murder is said to EXPLOSION IN COLORADO MINE, have been committed. He took with him one attorney from the side of the defense and one from those engaged in the presecuion and during their visit to the factory no other person was allowed around the premises.

Carl Voelker, a chemist, who had been at ne time engaged with Luctgert when he manufactured permanganate of potash and was at one time a chipping clerk in the factory, testified during the afternoon session that he was familiar with all of Lucigert's processis for the making of sausage, and that he had never had any occasion to use have gone from Glenwood to care for those any caustic potash around the place. The defendant could not, he said, have secured it for the purpose of using it in the making of sausage. During all of the time that Voetker was around the factory he said that the vats were never used. The crush around the court room has increased to such proportions that it was found necessary to take active measures today to keep the crowd away from the trial. The court room is on the third floor of the criminal court build-ing and orders were given that none of the passenger elevators should stop except at the second and fourth floors. Officers were then stationed at the stairways and mobody who did not have business in the court room was

SCHUETTLER CALLED AGAIN. The cross-examination of Police Captain Judge Decides that All But One May Come Before the Jury.

MARYVILLE, Mo., Sept. 3.—(Special Telegram.)—Judge Herndon ruled this morning in the Rasco case that the confessions made by gert had been seen there alive, but to look up the reputation of Grotty, the man who said he had met her on Broadway. Attor-ney Vincent said the statement was prejudicial. The court refused to sustain the motion and Captain Schuettler told of his trip to New York and his investigation of Grotty's reputation. He said the state wanted to be prepared to prove he was a perjurer if fied to here shall be admitted before the jury | compelled to begin a habeas corpus proceed-Judge Tuthill refused to admit any widence regarding the matter. "Inspector Schaack is not on trial here."

said the court. Captain Schuettler was excused and Police Captain Charles Hutchinson was called. This witness corroborated the statement of Captain Schuettler as to the visit made by him and Schuettler on May 8 to Luetgert at the latter's home to secure from him a state-ment regarding the disappearance of his wife. He said Luctgert stated he had hired no detectives to look for his wife, although he had previously told Bicknese that he had engaged two private detectives.

MRS. LUETGERT'S RINGS. Officer Walter S. Dean of the Sheffield sta-tion introduced the subject of the rings found in the vat in the sausage factory. It was Officer Dean who found the two gold rings in the middle vat, in which it is charged Mrs. Luctgert's body was dissolved in the potash. The officer told of the examination of the vat and the discovery of the trinkets in the same manner it had been related by other witnesses.

He was followed by Mrs. Ida Harris, who was the first of a series of witnesses who dentified the rings as having been worn by Mrs. Luctgert. Mrs. Harris said she had known Mrs. Luctgert for several years and had often visited her at her home. She was positive that the large gold hand, with the initials, "L. L." and the mark "Isk" in the inside was Mrs. Luetgert's wedding ring. About five years ago, she said, while sitting with Mrs. Luctgert in her kitchen, the sausage maker's wife took off her rings and showed them to her. The smaller ring and showed them to her. The smaller ring was worn as a guard to keep the wedding ring on the finger. The guard ring had milled edges, but the milling was more distinct five years ago than it is now. The witness could not tell when she had last seen the rings on the hand of Mrs. Luetger!

On crove-examination Mrs. Harris said that when shown the rings at the East Chicago Avenue police station after the arrest of Luetgert she remembered that the initials "L. L." were in the wedding ring in German script. She said she had never seen a large ring with a cameo in it on Mrs. Luetgert's hand. She was asked if Mrs. Luetgert did not wear a large gold ring with a chain and heart attached, but

Mrs. Sophie Tuchy was another ring witness. She identified the rings which she said Mrs. Luetgert had worn for years. From her own finger she took a small guard ring somewhat resembling that found in the vat and said she had bought it from a jew-She brought this ring, she said, on the advice of Mrs. Luctgert, who recommended her Attorney Vincent objected to this testi-mony and it was sustained.

Mrs. Touhy caid she had a conversation with Luetgert on May 8 regarding the dis-appearance of his wife. He told her he had aid $20 to two private detectives and had told them there was more money for them if they needed it. Lueigert said his wife did not have much love for children. He also said her brother, Bicknese, was angry cause the disappearance was not reported to
