

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE.

E. ROSEWATER, Editor. PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING. TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION: Daily (Without Sunday), One Year, $4.00; Daily (With Sunday), One Year, $5.00; Six Months, $2.50; Three Months, $1.50; Single Copies, 5 Cents.

STATEMENT OF CIRCULATION. Total returned and unsold copies, 61,995. Total net sales, 68,179. Not dated, 1,725.

THE BEE ON TRAINS. All railroad newsboys are supplied with enough Bee to accommodate every passenger who wants to read a newspaper.

INSIST ON HAVING THE BEE. It remained for the fusionists to distribute nominations for university regents on the lottery plan.

Perhaps that resignation of President Andrews was really nothing but a bid for a little free advertising after all.

The people's independent party in Nebraska may have been independent once, but it is certainly independent no longer.

For democratic nominee for sheriff—Edward E. Howell. Motto—"Vindication or Bust." Emblem—A cat full on knives.

Edward Bellamy is reported to be about to move west and locate in Colorado. He will then be in a better position to look backward.

Omaha has more public street improvements under way than at any time in the last five years. This does not look as if prosperity were a myth.

As a stalking horse to be thrown aside when the game was within gun-shot, the little giant served his purpose well, though that must be very cold comfort for the giant.

It has been some time since the same county and the same town has been honored with the nominations of the heads of the two principal opposing tickets in this state.

Omaha job printing establishments are actually refusing orders on account of unexampled business on hand. If any skilled mechanic in the printing trades lacks for employment in this city the fault lies with himself.

If the speeches at the triangular state convention at Lincoln are taken as the keynotes of their Nebraska campaign, the popocrats in this state may be expected to talk nothing but calamity from now until election day.

No democratic historian should fail to record on the eternal tablets of party history the illustrious name of the unselfish patriot who rushed with his telling oratory to the rescue of that noble democratic bird—the rooster.

Over 100 licensed slot machine gambling devices are in operation and several times that number that are not licensed. Every one of these machines are running in direct violation of the law and should be suppressed without further delay.

When it comes to arrant hypocrisy and demagogic insincerity the political party that denounces corporations in its platform and then makes such a notorious corporation plunger as Frank Ransom chairman of its state committee should have a prize.

While the temperature in this vicinity is still several degrees above the freezing point, the spread of the strike into the Iowa coal mines is bringing it uncomfortably near, especially in a year when at the market price corn is too costly to burn.

The final act of the railroads taking back the property which they pretended to have sold for a bona fide consideration is the best proof that could be asked to sustain the charges so often denied by them that the now defunct Union Depot company was never anything but a blind to cover the transactions of the railroads that went into it.

Perhaps the reform police commission will take another step in the direction of reform by restoring Detective Bloom to the police force. Bloom has just as good claims for reinstatement as has Sigwart, who has just been restored, notwithstanding his connivance with Bloom by shielding him and keeping him on the force after admitting having appropriated and spent money stolen from another man which he had recovered from the thieves.

BETTER THAN KLONDIKE.

In the general hubbub among gold standard contemporaries over the price of wheat and silver it has been altogether overlooked by them that a bushel of wheat is worth 12 in Mexico, and yet the Mexican dollar will buy just as much of everything else as it ever did and will pay just as much of debt—Livered Post.

The proof of the pudding is in the eating. If a bushel of wheat is worth $2 in Mexico and the $2 will buy as much there as ever, why does not our silverite contemporary urge Nebraska farmers to take their wheat to Mexico and exchange it at the rate of $2 a bushel for Mexican products, which it says can be bought there at the old silver prices?

Why not, for example, buy coffee with the proceeds of the $2 wheat and bring it to the United States, where it will sell for 200-cent gold dollars? The cost of taking Nebraska wheat to Mexico should be less than taking it to New York, where it fetches only a dollar.

The better trick yet would be to sell the wheat in New York for an American dollar, which exchanges there for $2.50 in Mexican money and then go to Mexico and invest the Mexican dollars in Mexican staples "at the old silver prices," to be disposed of in the United States for good gold dollars. Here is an eye-opener for Nebraska free silver farmers and for that matter for every one else who is gullible enough to believe that in Mexico the decline in the price of silver has made no change in the purchasing power of the Mexican dollar because Mexico enjoys the blessings of free and unlimited silver coinage, regardless of other nations.

The fellows who will swallow this Mexican dollar fake belong to the same class that last year gulped down the exploded India wheat fiction. We were told that an Englishman came to India, buy up India wheat with depreciated silver rupees at gold standard prices and then sell the wheat in Liverpool for gold, thus doubling his money almost without turning a hand.

Even such a great statement as the infallible Bryan actually tried to palm off the India wheat fiction on millions of unsuspecting and credulous people when every rational man must have realized that if an Englishman could get rich by India wheat deals there was nothing to prevent the Yankee from doing the same thing, and that if it could have been done the Yankee would have been the first man on the ground just as he is in the Klondike gold fields, although they belong to the British.

Popular Irritation in Germany at the demonstrations attending the visit of the French president to Russia and the manifestations of hostility to Germany which were features of his reception on his return to France has been shown in the comments of the German press, but there had been no thought that the government would take any notice of any incident connected with these events.

Another thing the police board should explain, is why it is necessary now to carry upon the pay roll three captains, two chiefs of detectives and five sergeants, when the police fund is exhausted, and there is absolutely no need of an increased number of do-nothing officers. Is not this increase a confession that the board has elected as chief a man who is to be simply political boss, while others are employed to perform the police duties for which he is paid?

There is a very practical lesson in the recent statement of the condition of the national banks throughout the country which should be studied by those who persist in asserting that there is not enough money in the country for the requirements of legitimate business. This statement shows that according to the last reports received by the comptroller of the treasury from the national banks deposits had increased, since the previous reports in May last, as follows: Pacific coast states, $2,100,000; western states, $3,500,000; middle western states, $8,500,000; eastern states, $24,100,000; New England states, $3,200,000.

There is a demand in our legislative bodies for men who have the independence and courage to resist the blandishments and inducements of the capitalist class.

REASON FOR APPREHENDING SUCH A CHANGE.

There is no doubt that President McKinley would be glad to see the Cuban war terminated and that he would readily use the good offices of the government to that end, but it is safe to say that he has never contemplated any course which the Spanish government could reasonably regard as hostile.

Now that the three-ringed political circus, at which all of our non-partisan police commissioners performed as delegates, has taken down its tent and disbanded, it may not be impertinent to bring the members of the police board face to face with their indefensible action in creating a special position for ex-Chief Sigwart, with pay equal to that of a captain.

The records of the police board show that a resolution was adopted in the month of July requesting Sigwart's resignation. The record also shows that upon the refusal of Sigwart to comply with the request, a resolution was adopted directing the mayor and city attorney to formulate and present charges against Chief Sigwart, with a view to his dismissal from the service.

After the charges had been duly prepared and ready for presentation to the board, Chief Sigwart reached the conclusion that it would be the part of wisdom not to risk a trial sure to bring disgrace upon him and upon the department, and handed in an unconditional resignation. That resignation was accepted, to take effect September 1, and further proceedings in connection with the impending charges dropped.

Inasmuch as the present city administration did not have control of the municipal government until four months of the fiscal year had elapsed and found less than half the city funds expended, it is hardly fair to charge it with the responsibility for threatened deficits, but rather credit should be given that the deficits are not larger.

The last time Omaha tried to issue bonds there were only two or three bidders, simply for the reason that no moneyed men wanted to make any investments until confidence was restored by the defeat of the free coinage repudiationists. Today the prospect is that the city will be deluged with bids for its proposed new bond issues.

From the speech of the popocratic attorney general as chairman of the democratic state convention, one would imagine that instead of being one of four attorneys engaged in prosecuting the case against Bartley, he had been sole prosecutor, judge, jury and bailiff.

Dr. Jekyll-Peabody has not yet explained why, if Gallagher was the best man among the applicants for chief of police, he voted for almost all the other candidates before coming out for what he says he knew was the best man all the time.

Fortune has favored the American farmer for the last ten months. His wheat has gone up to a dollar and has been kept from going down to 40 cents.

One plank in the platform of the Iowa populists demands "a sufficient amount of sound and flexible circulating medium whensoever and wherever they may be needed."

MEET WHATEVER DEMAND MAY BE MADE FOR MOVING THE CIPPS OR FOR OTHER LEGITIMATE BUSINESS REQUIREMENTS.

In view of these conditions the groundlessness and futility of the assertion that there is not a sufficient supply of money with which to carry on the legitimate business of the country become obvious. And there has never been a time when money was cheaper than now, not alone in this country but in the financial centers of the world.

It is simply remarkable what the itch for office will do. Several men who not three months ago were applicants for appointment under Mayor Moore's and were vouchered for by their friends as staunch republicans are found taking prominent part in the so-called silver republican councils and denouncing the republican party. It is now plain that Mayor Moore made no mistake when he turned them down.

Among the few mills that are not sharing in the reviving McKinley prosperity are the divorce mills of South Dakota, which complain of loss of business traceable to the interference of obstreperous New York judges. It is feared that nothing short of the free and unlimited coinage of silver at 16 to 1 will restore the free and unlimited coinage of maledictor South Dakota divorces.

From the speech of the popocratic attorney general as chairman of the democratic state convention, one would imagine that instead of being one of four attorneys engaged in prosecuting the case against Bartley, he had been sole prosecutor, judge, jury and bailiff.

Dr. Jekyll-Peabody has not yet explained why, if Gallagher was the best man among the applicants for chief of police, he voted for almost all the other candidates before coming out for what he says he knew was the best man all the time.

Fortune has favored the American farmer for the last ten months. His wheat has gone up to a dollar and has been kept from going down to 40 cents.

One plank in the platform of the Iowa populists demands "a sufficient amount of sound and flexible circulating medium whensoever and wherever they may be needed."

There is a demand in our legislative bodies for men who have the independence and courage to resist the blandishments and inducements of the capitalist class.

There is a demand in our legislative bodies for men who have the independence and courage to resist the blandishments and inducements of the capitalist class.

There is a demand in our legislative bodies for men who have the independence and courage to resist the blandishments and inducements of the capitalist class.

MINNESOTA'S DREIBUND.

The recent conflict in the Austrian Reichsrath appears now to have been only the beginning of a struggle between the differing races of the dual empire that may yet shake the foundation of the central government. The political situation is serious, and when the Reichsrath assemblies in the autumn the battle is likely to be renewed with greater vigor.

It is simply remarkable what the itch for office will do. Several men who not three months ago were applicants for appointment under Mayor Moore's and were vouchered for by their friends as staunch republicans are found taking prominent part in the so-called silver republican councils and denouncing the republican party.

Among the few mills that are not sharing in the reviving McKinley prosperity are the divorce mills of South Dakota, which complain of loss of business traceable to the interference of obstreperous New York judges.

From the speech of the popocratic attorney general as chairman of the democratic state convention, one would imagine that instead of being one of four attorneys engaged in prosecuting the case against Bartley, he had been sole prosecutor, judge, jury and bailiff.

Dr. Jekyll-Peabody has not yet explained why, if Gallagher was the best man among the applicants for chief of police, he voted for almost all the other candidates before coming out for what he says he knew was the best man all the time.

Fortune has favored the American farmer for the last ten months. His wheat has gone up to a dollar and has been kept from going down to 40 cents.

One plank in the platform of the Iowa populists demands "a sufficient amount of sound and flexible circulating medium whensoever and wherever they may be needed."

There is a demand in our legislative bodies for men who have the independence and courage to resist the blandishments and inducements of the capitalist class.

There is a demand in our legislative bodies for men who have the independence and courage to resist the blandishments and inducements of the capitalist class.

There is a demand in our legislative bodies for men who have the independence and courage to resist the blandishments and inducements of the capitalist class.

OTHER LANDS THAN OURS.

The recent conflict in the Austrian Reichsrath appears now to have been only the beginning of a struggle between the differing races of the dual empire that may yet shake the foundation of the central government. The political situation is serious, and when the Reichsrath assemblies in the autumn the battle is likely to be renewed with greater vigor.

It is simply remarkable what the itch for office will do. Several men who not three months ago were applicants for appointment under Mayor Moore's and were vouchered for by their friends as staunch republicans are found taking prominent part in the so-called silver republican councils and denouncing the republican party.

Among the few mills that are not sharing in the reviving McKinley prosperity are the divorce mills of South Dakota, which complain of loss of business traceable to the interference of obstreperous New York judges.

From the speech of the popocratic attorney general as chairman of the democratic state convention, one would imagine that instead of being one of four attorneys engaged in prosecuting the case against Bartley, he had been sole prosecutor, judge, jury and bailiff.

Dr. Jekyll-Peabody has not yet explained why, if Gallagher was the best man among the applicants for chief of police, he voted for almost all the other candidates before coming out for what he says he knew was the best man all the time.

Fortune has favored the American farmer for the last ten months. His wheat has gone up to a dollar and has been kept from going down to 40 cents.

One plank in the platform of the Iowa populists demands "a sufficient amount of sound and flexible circulating medium whensoever and wherever they may be needed."

There is a demand in our legislative bodies for men who have the independence and courage to resist the blandishments and inducements of the capitalist class.

There is a demand in our legislative bodies for men who have the independence and courage to resist the blandishments and inducements of the capitalist class.

There is a demand in our legislative bodies for men who have the independence and courage to resist the blandishments and inducements of the capitalist class.

SOCIALISTIC TENDENCIES.

Mr. Woolworth's Allegations Before the Bar Association. Mr. Woolworth, who was the last year's president of the National Bar Association, in a paper read at its recent annual meeting, depicted the drift of popular acts of congress and of state legislatures that, in his opinion, are of socialistic intent, and, somewhat despairingly, concluded that he knew no better method of checking what he considered to be the dangerous tendency than by education of the people by the lawyers.

It is simply remarkable what the itch for office will do. Several men who not three months ago were applicants for appointment under Mayor Moore's and were vouchered for by their friends as staunch republicans are found taking prominent part in the so-called silver republican councils and denouncing the republican party.

Among the few mills that are not sharing in the reviving McKinley prosperity are the divorce mills of South Dakota, which complain of loss of business traceable to the interference of obstreperous New York judges.

From the speech of the popocratic attorney general as chairman of the democratic state convention, one would imagine that instead of being one of four attorneys engaged in prosecuting the case against Bartley, he had been sole prosecutor, judge, jury and bailiff.

Dr. Jekyll-Peabody has not yet explained why, if Gallagher was the best man among the applicants for chief of police, he voted for almost all the other candidates before coming out for what he says he knew was the best man all the time.

Fortune has favored the American farmer for the last ten months. His wheat has gone up to a dollar and has been kept from going down to 40 cents.

One plank in the platform of the Iowa populists demands "a sufficient amount of sound and flexible circulating medium whensoever and wherever they may be needed."

There is a demand in our legislative bodies for men who have the independence and courage to resist the blandishments and inducements of the capitalist class.

There is a demand in our legislative bodies for men who have the independence and courage to resist the blandishments and inducements of the capitalist class.

There is a demand in our legislative bodies for men who have the independence and courage to resist the blandishments and inducements of the capitalist class.

