needs.

Cows and helfers were in large supply and the market on that kind of cattle was a little easier in consequence.

The big business of the day was in feeders. The few choice cattle of that description to be had sold at about steady prices but the general run of the offerings sold 5940c lower. There were a good many country buyers on hand in addition to the regular local buyers, so that the demand was local buyers, so that the demand was d and the market fairly active consider ing the large receipts. The state of the s The committee of the city council, consisting of Messrs, Schultz, Mort and Trainor, appointed some time ago to confer with officials of the Omaha Street Rallway company in relation to better street car service down here, has been assured that some improvements will be made this fall. One thing the committee was prepared to-make a fight on was the switching of cars at Twenty-fourth and N streets. After hear-ing the complaints of the councilmen the company agreed to build a loop and thus dispense with the switching at the point

The plan now is to run the Omaha trains down N street to Twenty-sixth and south or Twenty-sixth to Q, east on Q to fourth street, and thence north to the premade in the starting point and cars will stand at the north crossing at Twenty-fourth and N streets the same as usual. street car will then be run only to the east end of the viaduct, and will connect with every Omaha train. As for the Albright "cannon ball," it is thought that connec-tions with it will be made at the corner of Iwenty-fourth and Q streets. With this proposed arrangement it wil be necessary to lay only three blocks or rails, the new track to be on Twenty-sixt street. The extension will be a single track which will be laid this fall.

In the matter of extending the L street ne over the viaduct to the Fourth ward, as desired by Councilman Mort, the officer the company refused to make any prom but intimated that this might be

There is one school house in the district which is about mile from Fort Crook city. When the illage was incorporated a short time ago the residents displayed an inclination to move the school house to a point nearer the intent of the majority of the voters the trustees selected a site on the Butterfield tract and preparations were being made for the erection of a $2,000 school house. The triet and appeared to be favorable to a large number of residents. Adam Kas offered a site to the school trustees, but it was re-fused for the reason that it was too far from the south end of the school district, eing fully two miles and a half away. Be sides this it was considered too near the saloons at Fort Crook city. Kas applied to Judge Keysor of the district for and ob is being delayed until after the hearing,

The new track which the Stock Yards company has been building around by Cudaby's to be used by the dirt trains is nearing completion. The grading is all done and rails were being laid yesterday. Only recently the Stock Yards company pur-chased 100 tons of new rails, which are to used in improvements at the yards. Grading is progressing as rapidly e expected with the facilities at hand for than October 1.

Equestrian Club Dellling. A drill of the Equestrian club has been neavy business at the yards this summer the club has not drilled as much as it did a year ago, but a big turnout for the fall festivities is looked for. Colonel Lott has received an invitation from the board of governors of the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben requesting th club to participate in the parade of Tuesday evening. September 21. At the meeting e held Friday the club will decide on what it is going to do. It is thought now that a South Omaha division will be insisted upon, and if this is not granted very few organizations will go up from here. To Consider a Resignation A meeting of the congregation of the First Presbyterian church has been called for Wednesday evening to consider the resignachurch and congregation will have the right to vote at this meeting, the matter of acenting the resignation or not being determined by written ballot. Shortage of Inspectors. WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 .- The Agricultural department is finding difficulty in supplying the demand from the live stock centers for inspectors required to examine the dressed meats for foreign shipment. There has re-cently been a very pronounced improvement the European market for American meats which the law requires should be inspecte before they are shipped, and as a consequence inspectors are called for from Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, Omaba and other western points. The shortage in inspectors is due to the fact that the civil service list includes no eligibles for the work. The deficiency habeen temporarily supplied by permitting the re-employment of persons who have heretofore been engaged as inspectors.
