Mandamus Case is Finally Heard Before Judge Holmes.

STATE WINS ON ONLY POINT DECIDED

Court Holds that the Home is a State Institution and Takes Society's Other Contentions Under Advisement.

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 15 - (Special Tele gram.)-The hearing of the mandamus case against the Society of the Home for the Friendless was completed today, the wit nesses for the society occupying all the forenoon. E. E. Brown, Mrs. Williams, C H. Gere and Mrs. Davis were on the stand and Judge Broady, for the society, endeavored to draw out evidence to show that the state had never assumed any control over the home nor taken any interest in it until recently, and that the society had managed it, solicited funds to operate it, and assumed all the responsibility for the last fifteen years. The arguments were heard this afternoon. Attorney General Smyth and Deputy Smith reviewed the case on behalf of the state, and Judge Broady made the argument for the society. The contention of the latter was that the state had made an implied contract with the society in the past, in which the society was to be left in charge of the home. He also argued that a writ of mandamus was not the proper proceeding. At the close of the arguments, Judge Holmes rendered a decision on one point in the case, which was that the home to a state institution. He took under advisement the points as to whether there was an implied contract between the state and the society and as to whether the proper proceeding had been

REGISTRATION AT UNIVERSITY. This is registration week at the University of Nebraska and the number of new students on hand is larger than at any similar period in the history of the university. In fact an extra force of registration clerks has been put on to accommodate the rush. A large number of the new students are properly accredited from the high schools of the state, while others are required to take examinations in order that they may be as-signed to the proper classes and grades. One of the newcomers is a Connecticut man. versity, and who considers that the Nebraska offers advantages superior to the eastern universities. The students who have formerly attended the university are slower in coming to the city, as in the most part they have their boarding places located, and already have their classes assigned. When all are here the state inspector of schools estimates that the attendance will be nearly yesterday evening and appointed Niles P. Hansen of Kearney as a member of the State Examining board. The appointment was made to fill the vacancy to be made by the expiration of the term of President Clark on January 1, it being the custom to make the appointments some time in advance, in order that the new members might have time for the necessary examinations. Norman Kuhn of Omaha and Mr. McMillan of McCook were the other applicants for the appointment. Today the board received official notice of the death of Mr. Clark, and an early meetand will be held to determine whether Mr. Hansen will immediately occupy the vacancy. ARRANGING FOR THE CAMPAIGN. Chairman D. H. Mercer of the republican state committee was here this forenoon mak-ing preparations for the campaign. Several days ago he made a request that the executive committee be increased in number from seven to nine and letters were written to the members of the state committee to see if the in-crease was agreeable to them. Most of them have been heard from and the proposition to have an executive committee of nine meets with their approval. Mr. Mercer returned to Omaha on the afternoon train, but expects to be in Lincoln again on Friday, when the membership of the committee will be an-

A case recently brought to the supreme court for review is that of Martin Kazda against the State of Nebraska. Kazda was arrested for selling liquor in the city of Tecumseh without first having taken out a license. He was tried in police court and sentenced to pay a fine of $25, but appealed to the district court, where a jury found him guilty and a $50 fine was imposed. In bringing the appeal Kazda sets up the claim that the district court was without jurisdiction to try the case for the reason that the bond of appeal from the police court was defective and insufficient, so as to be whelly void. Irregularities in the original complaint are also charged. The brief just filed by the attorney general on behalf of the state argues that Kazda is estopped from setting forth the insufficiency of the bond on account of the old familiar rule that no one should be permitted to take advantage of his own wrong. The attorney general also quotes au-thorities to show that the original complaint was sufficient. Miss Sara L. Garrett has been appointed by State Superintendent W. R. Jackson as a member of the State Examining board. > at David City. DAVID CITY, Neb., Sept. 15 .- (Special )-Last evening nearly all the residents of David City, with a large number from the adjoining country, turned out to a reception given at the opera house in honor of Governor Holcomb and the visiting officers at Camp Custer. While awaiting the arrival of the train upon which he was expected the assemblage was treated to a beautiful display of fireworks and music by the cornet band. After the reception a military ball was given in the opera house, which was well attended and the visitors enjoyed themselves till a late hour.

The weather was threatening this morning and a sharp shower discouraged the committee and prevented the proposed decora-tions, but had the effect of laying the dust and cooling the air, making the march of the troops from camp to the city more pleasant. The aun was shining brightly at the time the troops arrived and they presented a splendid appearance as they passed in review before the governor, Major Fechet, U.
