RECEPTION DAY, SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 18th.

Although we are open for business today, and have been for some days past, by the way, with a flattering prospect for a bright future, yet it is advisable, partly out of custom, and chiefly to get acquainted with the people to invite you to visit us on Saturday-Grand Opening Day. There will be no music. Nor will there be a couple married in the show window. No! Nothing of that sort, We are plain people and not sufficiently educated to faking. We believe that music belongs to public parks, curiosities to a museum, and bargains to a merchant. But as we are only outfitters to men, and desire to show our appreciation to the ladies also, we therefore arranged

JUDGE SPEAKS SHARPLY TO AN ATTORNEY

Cuts Vincent Short in His Attempt to Foist the Reading of Technical Books to a Witness.

CHICAGO, Sept. 15 .- Juror John E. Fowler, jr., whose sudden illness last Monday caused a recess in the trial of Adolph L. Lueigert, alleged wife murderer, had finally recovered today. The trial was resumed with Prof. George Vincent Bailey of the Field Columbian museum on the witness stand. The cross-examination was taken up by Attorney Vincent at the point at which it was

Prof. Bailey | quickly. named a number of recognized authorities and added that even these were not entirely reliable at present, because the world was progressing and new discoveries were being made in science every day. Then the attorney for the defense read a long list of authors and asked the witness if he was acquainted with the writings of each of them. To each of these an objection was entered

Judge Tuthill finally becoming tired of the line of cross-examination, exclaimed, "Oh, get through with that list; busy, practical en haven't time to read books the The jurors smiled at this and ex-Judge Vin-

The crowd at the court house door was large and the deputy sheriffs in attendance had much trouble with people who were determined to get into the court room. Prof. Howse was briefly cross-examined upon his direct testimony of last week and then Inspector Schaack was called to the stand for cross-examination, Inspector Schaack acknowledged that he had paid for the prosecution. He did it because the penniless, he said. Judge Tuthill stopped the sharp cross-questioning upon this point long enough to observe that witnesses were entitled to pay as well as jurors.

STARTLING TESTIMONY. The most positive and startling testimony offered in the case for two weeks was brough out during the afternoon session. Prof. George A. Dorsey of the Field museum positively identified a bone handed to him by Assistant State's Attorney McEwan as the upper portion of the left femur. "The bone is undoubtedly that of a female," said Prof Dorsey. "I base my opinion upon the forma-tion of the socket at the hip or thigh joint. Big Exhibit.

Some idea of the importance and size of the coming State fair can be gained from the fact that Canada has come to make an exhibit. Last night William J. White of Ottawa, Canada, an attache of and representing the interior department of Canada, made State Board of Agriculture for space for a Barker. big display of Canada grains, grasses and products, particularly such as are grown in Barker. the western part of the dominion. The exhibit will also include a series of photographs showing the commercial development of that part of the country.

Mr. White stated that this was the first time in the history of Canada that the do-minion government had undertaken to make any exhibits of the resources of their coun-States. He is now making a tour of the circuit of which Nebraska is a member. The exhibit was first shown at the State fair held in Minnesota last week and was removed directly to this city. It requires a half car to transport it. While he is in this city in charge of this exhibit Mr. White will be also engaged in the duty of investigating the scope of the Transmississippi Exposition of next year. He is detailed to make a report on this big show to the interior department, which is considering the advisability of making a big exhibit. Mr. White appears to be confident that the dominion will be as well repre-sented as any of the states of the Union He is also assigned to write up the exposi-tion for some Canada papers and will at once proceed to gather the necessary materials He is well qualified to perform this duty, as he is a newspaper man of twenty years' experience, having resigned from the honorable profession for the purpose of accepting the osition in the interior department.

Besides this important application another big batch of entries in all departments was received at the office of the secretary last night and yesterday afternoon. This in-cluded a considerable number brought by Members Poynter, Dinsmore and Vance from Des Moines, where they were in attendance at the lowa State fair. They report that the show was a spiendid exhibition. They se-cured the pick of the entries there.

In view of the great number of entries that are coming in, Secretary Furnas has decided to double his clerical force this morning. He has also ordered Superintendent Smith of the agricultural implement department and Superintendent Jones of the agricultural building to be on hand this morning for building to be on hand this morning for duty. Shortage of Fire Fund Again in Evidence. The only official business transacted by the Advisory board at the regular meeting vesterday was to approve the contracts of the city with the American Fuel company, C. B. Havens and Victor White for coal for municipal use during the current year. There was considerable discussion of ways and means to secure a wagon for the fire lepartment without running against the situation caused by the depleted condition of the fund. Victor White has the contract to furnish 220 tons of coal for the fire department, on which he is willing to make a deduction of 50 cents a ton if the department will do the hauling. Chief Redell Attorney Vincent, for the defense, asked $60 in this way, besides the cost of the wagon which was very much needed for other purposes. The fact remained, however, that there were no funds with which purchase the wagon. finally instructed to ascertain if Mr. White which are said to have been found in his would not consent to furnish the wagon sausage factory and examined them with a and deduct the cost from the rebate on the

And after giving this friendly bit of advice the jolly conductor passed on down the aisle. It is a fact that thousands of railroad and traveling men never take a trip without a bottle of this remedy, which is the best cure in the world for bowel disorders.

Vetoes Fire Hall Resolution. Th resolution of the council passed at the last meeting directing that a three-year contract for fire hall No. 1 be entered into with Dan Hannon at a monthly rental of $40, has been vetced by the mayor, the papers in the case being prepared yesterday. In this veto the mayor asserts that the rental is too high, and that in three years the city would be paying more for rent than the building is worth. Further than this the mayor gives the names of three property owners who would be willing to erect a brick building for fire department purposes at a less rental than that asked by Hannon. at a less rental than that asked by Hannon K.
