CLOSE OF THE STATE FAIR

Thirty-First Annual Exhibit of Nebraska's Agricultural Wealth.

BIG CROWD OF THURSDAY NOT IN EVIDENCE

Aggregate Attendance Decidedly in Excess of the Predictions of the Enthusiasts—Financial Success Assured.

At 6 o'clock last night the thirty-first annual State fair of Nebraska closed, and for the first time in several years, fair week has passed without a single unfortunate circumstance to mar its success. With an unprecedented enthusiasm on the part of exhibitors and a week of the most delightful weather that the imagination could picture, there was no excuse for failure.

While the management has not had time to thoroughly ascertain the unusual results of the exposition, there is no doubt that the fair has been nearly as satisfactory from a business standpoint as it was from that of the exhibitor and visitor. Each day brought an attendance decidedly in excess of the usual record for that day, and while the too sanguine prediction of some enthusiasts that there would be 100,000 people on the grounds on a single day was not verified, the aggregate attendance has been decidedly heavier than usual.

After the big crowd of Thursday the grounds seemed almost deserted yesterday. Every man, woman and child in Omaha had stood on the street for nearly three hours on the evening before to see the splendors of the pageant of Quivera and few of them felt equal to the task of getting up and going to the fair grounds yesterday morning. The early trains carried out a few hundred people, but they were not sufficient to make a showing on the grounds. The fairs and popcorn vendors found their occupation gone and an unwanted silence prevailed.

At 10 o'clock the band gave a short concert which drew a small crowd from the exhibits and this was the only feature of the forenoon. In some of the departments exhibitors were preparing to pack up, although many were allowed to move until after 4 o'clock, when the moving commenced in earnest and continued until late in the night. The judges were making up such awards as had not been previously turned in and the approaching dissolution of the big show was everywhere perceptible.

In the Administration building the officials were held over heels in the adjustment of the misunderstandings and routine matters that necessarily accompany the final winding up of an exposition and the clerks were busy getting the books ready to turn in.

The award of the prizes for the competitive county exhibits gives Washington county the first prize for the second time. This county won a year ago and with one more success it will be entitled to wear the medal for all time to come. Saline county was a close second and there were eighteen counties in all that come in for premiums. The first prize of $500 goes to Washington county and the others are awarded amounts ranging down to an unusual forty that of the eighteen counties that draw prizes there were only 356 points difference in their rankings. The following show the amounts ranging down to one point out of a possible 1,600 points: Washington, 1,356; Saline, 1,318; Thayer, 1,286; Boone, 1,253; Cumming, 1,231; York, 1,220; Kearney, 1,215; Furnas, 1,171; Gage, 1,136; Fillmore, 1,120; Dundy, 1,087; Red Willow, 1,047; Nuckolls, 1,045; Frontier, 1,042; Dawson, 1,040; Dawson, 1,031; Knox, 1,001; Mitchell, 749.
