STORY OF THE SISTERS.

Father Smythe at the conclusion of the religious services made a brief address, in which he gave a short history of the found ing of the institution and the work it is ac complishing. The narrative is an interesting one. The work was commenced in a little frame building on Fourth street known as the Hanthorn property, which was rented for the purpose. Father McMenomy, then resident priest of St. Francis church, took the first steps in the work. Father McDevitt of Omaha spoke briefly

Dr. Barstow spoke of his intimate relations with the hospital as one of the physicians and his knowledge of the great difficulties that had been encountered and overcome in the progress of the work. Father Smythe dwelt upon the character of the sacrifice these women have made. Their mission is one of mercy, and there is an inspiration in the atmosphere of such an institution that prompts to better things and

Dr. Lacy spoke from the standpoint of a physician and eulogized the institution in a manner that left no doubt of the high regard he had learned to feel for it on account of its perfection of appointment and equipment. He was followed by Dr. Seybert and others. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in visiting all parts of the institution. Flowrs and growing plants were in the halls

SIOUX INDIAN CAMPMEETING

Presbyterians and Congregationalists Combine in One Big Gathering. CHAMBERLAIN, S. D., Sept. 24 -- (Special.) The annual three-day conference of all the Presbyterian and Congregational Indians on the Great Sioux reservation is in progress at a point about twelve miles from here, on the Crow Creek Indian reservation. For a number of days a steady stream of Indians has passed through Chamberlain enroute to the place of meeting, and the ground occu-pled by the Indian delegates presents a de-cidedly picturesque appearance. Several tepees are scattered over the fine bottom land on a stream known as Crow creek, which was selected as the meeting place. Neither has Mr. In his recent speech in this city Mr. White casually alluded to state issues, giving them perhaps five or six minutes of the time of a two-hour speech. The committee and the speakers thus seem to be getting farther and farther apart in their views of the campaign and it is said that the divergence has en accompanied by some manifestations of decided disagreement. Politicians say that the deal was made months ago for a fight on the silver question. The story is that the silver barons agreed to put some money into the Iowa campaign on condition that the silver issue should be pushed. The campaign, as a result, has lacked in spirit and vim from the start. It seems to have been losing ground every day. The silstore, at 8 o'clock Friday evening, World ver arguments that have been advanced have failed utterly to arouse any enthusiasm, and the fight seems to be going the way of the republicans in every part of the state. Mr. White's meetings have been uniformly poorly attended. Today in a letter in a local paper the exgovernor discusses the issues of the campaign and defines his views on the return of prosperity. He stands by the theory that the demonstization of silver was responsible for all the commercial ills of the country since 1873, and that the present revival of business is not a natural one, but the result of famine and crop failure in the rest of the world. He says this country is drinking in the life blood of the other countries of the world, but that when the gold that is the world, but that when the gold that is the world, but that when the gold that is the world, but that when the gold that is the world, but that when the gold that is the world, but that when the gold that is the world, but that when the gold that is the world, but that when the gold that is the world, but that when the gold that is the world, but that when the gold that is the world, but that when the gold that is the world, but that when the gold that is the world, but that when the gold that is the world, but that when the gold that is the world. now coming to America returns to its owners 9; Arff, 9; Montmorency. abroad, there will be another depression worse than ever. On this point he says:

"How will it be when the tide sets back? What will take the place of this foreign gold when it goes back to its present owners as it certainly will? Silver alone can do this. An infinite Creator provided it. The best genius of all the ages put it into the fundamental law of this nation and made it money An unscrupulous band of pirates came in the night when the nation slept and drove it from its birthright that they might fill the place with paper promises (on which they could collect interest) to pay with gold they have not got and cannot get, and once in about twenty years the holders of the prom-ises to pay and other promises of a like character get scared and then another panic, another period of wos and want and gloom.
"Are we so dull we cannot read these lessons of the past? What has been the trou-ble? Was it too much standard money or too little; too much real money, or too many promises to pay? Let the plain common sense of his nation solve that problem and we are safe. It needs no monetary commis-sion to tell us where the trouble lies. Put silver back into the financial system of this nation upon terms that will make it the exact equal with gold; that will give us a circulating medium based upon gold and silver allke, 'one and inseparable, now and forever,' and the whole world can never tear it out again. Give us enough of this and no more money panics will occur."

Mrs. Pinkham Counsels Young Wives to Keeep Their Attractiveness. A Letter From a Young Wife.

Seven-eighths of the men in this world marry a woman because she is beautiful in their eyes. What a disappointment then to see the fair young wife's beauty fading away before a year passes over her head! I feel as if I would like to say to every young woman who is about to be married-"Strengthen yourself in advance, so that you will not break down under the new strain on your powers." Keep your beauty, it is a precious possession! Your husband loves your beauty, he is proud to be seen in public

The pale cheeks, the dark shadows under the eyes, the general drooping of the young wife's form, what do they mean? They mean that her nerves are failing, that her strength is going and that something must be done to help her through the coming trials of maternity.

Build her up at once by a course of some tonic with specific powers. Such as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. You can get it at any druggist's. Following we publish by request a letter from a young wife-of her own accord she addresses it to her "suffering sisters," and while from modesty she asks to withhold her name, she gives her initials and street number in Chambersburg, Pa., so she can easily be found personally or by letter:

To my Suffering Sisters:-Let me write this for your benefit, telling you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I am but nineteen and suffered with painful menstruation, leucorrhea, dizziness, burning sensation back of ears and on top of my head, nervousness, pain and soreness of muscles, bearing-down pains, could not sleep well, was unable to stand without pain, and oh! how I longed to be well! One day I wrote to Mrs. Pinkham telling her all, knowing I could do so in perfect confidence. She wrote me a lovely letter in reply, telling me exactly what to do. After taking nine bottles of the Compound, one box of Liver pills, and using one-half package of Sanative wash, I can say I am cured. I am so happy, and owe my happiness to none other than Mrs. Pinkham. Why will women suffer when help is near? Let me, as one who has had some experience, urge all suffering women, especially young wives, to seek Mrs. Pinkham's advice.-Mrs. R. S. R., 113 E. Catherine St., Chambersburg, Pa.

several Parties at Kenosha, Wis., Saw a Woman Resembling the Sausage Maker's Wife After Her Disappearance at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—The defense in the Luetgert trial this morning devoted itself to strengthening the story that Mrs. Luetgert who, according to the theory of the prosecution was murdered May 1, had been seen in and around Kenosha, Wis., on May 3, 4 and 5. Two witnesses, one of whom had known Mrs. Luctgert for several years, positively identified a photograph of Mrs. Luetgert as the picture of the woman he saw at Kenosha on the dates mentioned. Mrs. Mattie Scherer, Miss Maud Scherer and Miss Gertrude Miller testified this morning that Emma Schimpke, since she had testified for the procecution, had said in their hearing that her evidence was entirely false. She said the only reason she testi-fied falsely was to support the evidence of her sister, who had first lied.

Frank Shlebe, a farmer who lives near Kenosha, Wis., and who has known Mrs. Lucigert for seven years, testified that he met her on a country road near that town on May 4. He said he did not recognize the woman, but he was attracted by her and generaly exhausted appearance. Afterwards, when he learned that Mrs. Luetgert was missing and read a description of the clothing she wore when she disappeared, he was confident he had seen her and that the strange woman he met on the road was she. Policeman William Smith of Kenosha told of seeing a strange woman at the Northwstern depot at 2 o'clock on the morning of May 5. He positively identified the photograph of Mrs. Luetgert as the woman he saw at the depot. The policeman described the woman and her attire. Some time ago Judge Tuthill ruled that no evidence tending to show threats to leave her home by Mrs. Luetgert prior to a week previous to her disappearance would be admitted. When the defense began today putting on witnesses who testified to having heard the woman make threats to leave during last February and March, this Omaha Medical and Surgical Institute evidence was objected to by the state and the objection was sustained. The defense had no other evidence and court was adjourned until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Valuable Collection of Turquoise. SANTA FE, Sept. 24.-Probably the finest collection of cut turquoise ever sent in one shipment from American mines left here today for New York by express. There were twenty-five stones, aggregating in weight 310 karats, and in the collection were four gems which weigh respectively thirty-one, thirty-two, thirty-five and fifty-two karats. The latter, a pearl shaped stone, is valued at $2,800. It is said that this is the largest display of American turquoise.
