THE COURTS AND THE PEOPLE.

Significance of Several Recent Deliverances from the Bench. St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Several decisions have been rendered recently which show the faisity of the charge made by reckless persons that the courts are against the people and in favor of the 'plutocracy." A few days ago Judge Foster of the United States court for the dis-trict of Kansas decided that the Kansas lity Live Stock exchange was a combinaion in restraint of interstate con terce and violation of that law, and that it also is a trust and comes in conflict with the anti-trust act of 1890. A case has been brought against the South Omaha Live Stock exhange by the United States, which will doubtless involve the same points or many of them that were touched in the Kansas City suit, and the decision is likely to be the same. A few months ago the supreme court decided that railroad pooling was also in conflict with the anti-trust law, and this of combination has been rendered illegal.

A state court, too, has just come to the defense of popular rights, which were sup-posed to be assailed, in another direction. A judge of a Wisconsin court, who was a andidate for re-election, was criticised severely by a local paper for some of his judge had the ns on the bench The editor of the paper brought up for con-
