Chicago, 6; St. Louis, 2. BROOKLYN, Oct. 2.—The Bostons, the league champions, and the Brooklyns brought the season of 1897 to a close at Eastern park this afternoon. Incidentally it was the last league game that will ever be played in Brooklyn, for when the clubs begin their battle in 1898 Brooklyn will be part and parcel of Greater New York. The weather today was not the kind that is suitable to base ball fans. It was quite chilly, but in spite of this more than 2,000 persons as-sembled with the intention of giving the Beaneaters a send-off. But those who came to the grounds for this purpose returned home disappointed for Manager Selee shipped

 Long, Love, Tenney, Collins, Bergen and all his pitchers except Lewis and Stivetts to Boston immediately after Thursday's game was finished and the championship assured. When the Bostons lined up today they were hardly recognizable as a team. Outside of the batting Hamilton was the only player in his proper position. Brooklyn was not much better off. They had to bring Hanivan from New York to cover left field. Still, Brooklyn had the better team which see Louisville State S much better off. They had to bring Hanivan from New York to cover left field. Still, Brooklyn had the better team, which ac-counts for the easy victory. Lewis, who is slated to go against Baltimore in one of the Temple cup series, did not exert himself to any great extent, which accounts for the Bostons excepting Stahl and Stivetts guess-ing. The latter made himself solid with the erowd by cracking out a single, triple and home run. His fourth crack would have resulted in a three-bagger but for a wonder-ful one-handed catch by Hanivan. Griffin led at the stick for Brooklyn. Sheekard earned a berth for next season when he hit for two home runs. He also fielded bril-itantly. Brooklyn closed the senson on even terms with Washington for sixth place. The Becret Score:
