His Answer to the Broach Complaint Before the Supreme Court.

RELATORS GET TIME TO PREPARE BRIEF

Attorney for Mayor Files Amendment to Answer to the Payment to Treasurer Would Not Release Him from Liabilities.

LINCOLN, Oct. 5.—(Special Telegram)—

The supreme court held a short session this morning and listened to arguments on a few formal motions.

In the Omaha Fire and Police Commission case the attorney for Birkhauser had filed a general denial in reply since the last sitting of the court.

The court issued an order giving the respondents eight days in which to file brief and Birkhauser five days to file answer.

In the Moore case an agreement had been reached to argue the question of a right to a trial by jury at this sitting.

Moore, filed an answer and the relators filed a demurrer to the answer.

The attorney for Moore declared himself ready to argue the case, but the relators desired to be heard on the demurrer.

The court granted the relators five days to file an answer to the demurrer, and the respondent seven days in which to reply.

A supplementary answer was filed by the respondent this morning, and interest on the sixth paragraph of the answer filed yesterday the following:

"And the respondent further alleges that certain parties in the city of Omaha have been at all times claiming that the witness filed in possession and control of lower court costs collected by this respondent and not disbursed during his said term should be paid to the county treasurer of said county to be retained by him as a fund of said county and should not be paid to any other person or custodian whatsoever.

This respondent further alleges that soon after the expiration of his said term of office, and while he was still diligently engaged in checking up the accounts of the county, he was notified by a view of ascertaining the exact sum, if any, of witness fees and advanced costs and lower court costs, if any, remaining in his possession, custody and control, and he was notified that the respondent is compelled to pay to said county treasurer, to be forfeited to the school fund of said county of Douglas, all witness fees, all advanced costs and lower court costs, all collected by this respondent during his term as clerk of said district court and which remained in the possession of this respondent for the purpose of being paid to the respondent, and he is still pending and undetermined in said court on 29th day of April, 1897, and is still pending and undetermined in said court.

Respondent further alleges that when said suit shall be finally adjudicated and it shall be determined who shall be entitled to said funds, if any, that the respondent is ready and able and willing to pay same in accordance with the adjudication of said court.

HOES DYING BY THE HUNDREDS

COLUMBUS, Neb., Oct. 5.—(Special Telegram)—Some strange disease is working sad havoc among the hogs on the Looking Glass creek in this county.

The disease is divided as to whether it is the old-time hog cholera or not. Over 1,500 hogs have died within the last forty days. Remedies that heretofore have checked cholera to some extent have proved of but little value in these cases.
