IS DISMISSED FISH CASE

EFENDANT DISAPPOINTED AT RESULT

Case Involved the Right to Fish in Ponds with Outlets Connecting with Adjoining Rivers During High Water.

Fishermen who have been relying upon the rial of the case of one of the recent arrests for illegal fishing as defined by the new protective law were disappointed yesterday when Assistant County Attorney Spencer Smith refused to prosecute and ordered its dismissal. The case involved a feature of the law that it was desired to have interpreted by a legal decision. This was the right to fish in waters that are nothing more than ponds with outlets and inlets connecting with adjoining rivers only in times of flood. The case under consideration was the arrest of a farmer named Perry for having in his possession a seine. The farmer's home is on, the banks of a pond known as Timber lake, and the seine in question was hanging in his dooryard. It was seized under the provisions of the new law, which declares the presence of a seine within ten rods of the water must be taken as prima facie evidence that it is there for use and that its owner conemplates or has violated the fish protective laws. Perry owns the land lying on the frontage of the pond for some distance from his premises, and under the law of accretions claims it all the way across the pond, The rest of the lake is claimed by other farmers in the same way. The take has no connection with the river except when the water is at its highest stage. Under the law fish commissioner has held that the fact that this overflow comes at regular or irreg-ular periods is sufficient to bring the lake within the control of the state, regardless of the ownership of adjoining property,

The case was brought up for hearing yes-terday morning in Justice Burke's court The Crescent township farmer and a number of his friends, besides a lot of professional fishermen, were on hand to make a fight, and it was understood that if the case should go against them it was to be carried up. The assistant county atorney, however, felt that it was needless to try the case and dismissed it, much against the wishes of the defendant.

CANNOT FIX THEIR OWN SALARIES. Supreme Court Decides Against the Aldermen of Dubuque.

DES MOINES, Oct. 8 .- (Special Telegram.) today that will cause grief for the boodling aldermen of Dubuque. The councilmen of that city about a year ago dicided to raise their own salaries and forthwith passed an ordinance increasing each alderman's salary from Assistant County Attorney Refuses to $300 to $500 annually. It was carried into court and they were all indicted on the ground of malfeasance. In the trial the aldermen set up that they were not guilty be-cause the city's charter provided that the council should fix all salaries of city officers, and also specifically declared aldermen to be They maintained that their function was judicial, or quasi judicial, in that they were compelled to construe the law, and, therefore, that they could not be either civilly or criminally liable for any error of judgment in the construction of it. The lower court ruled in favor of the aldermen, who raised this point by demurrer, and the case was supposed to be at an end. But the point was appealed, and the supreme court decides that the demurrer ought to have been overruled. The opinion is a vigorous one. It declares that the plain intent of the law was that the aldermen should fix the salaries of officers, including aldermen, but that no alderman could vote for an increase in his own salary to take effect during the term for which he was elected. To avoid questions in the trial of the case the supreme court volunteers that the crime of which the alder-men is guilty, if they are guilty at all, is a misdemeaner, and informs the lower court of the nature of the punishment provided for that the aldermen will be found guilty, as The decision, which is now reversed, was

ALL BUT SCORES A FAILURE

The supreme court handed down a decision Exhibition by Star Pointer and Jos Patchen Getra Frost.

Each Horse Does a Very Fast Mile and Billy Paxton's Yearling Cuts a Second Off the State Record.

Star Pointer, 1:59%, and Joe Patchen, 2:01%, the light harness champions of the world, made their mark on an Omaha track yesterday afternoon. It was at the state fair grounds, and while the performance of these two incomparable horses was interesting and satisfactory, even electrifying, the afternoon was little short of a failure. Instead of the 6,000 or 8,000 people the Fair and Speed association was fully anticipating, there was something less than 2,000. To be sure there was a stiff northwest breeze blowing, and it was dusty and disagreeable. Still, the sun shone timidly through the leaden clouds and it wasn't a half bad day, yet the people did not turn out.

As a consequence those who did prove loyal came within an ace of having their such cases. The case will now go back for trouble for their pains, and for a time it was conclusion of the trial, and the prospects are a question whether the two great horses that the aldermen will be found guilty, as they had staked their whole case on the de-finally reached, however, and as a preliminary Billy Paxton's pecrless yearling. Then came the great Star Pointer in the final event of the afternoon. His appearance was the signal for a storm of applause. After an ineffectual attempt or two he got the word and went away in true championship form. He reached the quarter in 0:30, the half in 1:01%, the three-quarters in 1:32 and came on thundering under the wire in the phenomenal time of 2:02%. That was all the crowd wanted. With a few spasmodic cries of approval the people began to disperse, and within half an hour there wasn't a baker's dozen left in stand or field. They disappeared as if by magic, and like snuffing out a candle Omaha's unexampled light harness day passed

FEW PEOPLE GO TO SEE THE GREAT PACERS BREAK PACING TEAM RECORD

John R. Gentry and Robert J Do a Mile in 2:08.
GLENS FALLS, N. Y., Oct. 8.—At the nile track of the Northern Horse Breeders' association here today, John R. This was done after the pair had been This was done after the pair had been sent a mile in 2:11 and before the close of the day's sport. Gentry, with running mate, paced a mile in 2:03%.

Robert J was given a warming up heat in 2:12 and Gentry was sent a mile in 2:08%. The two great pacers then made ready for their effort against the world's record, as a double team. After a short spin they faced the wire and received the word. They turned the first quarter in thirty-two seconds, going steady, and the half in 1:04% was hung out, the three-quarters was turned off in 1:37% and the mile in 2:11. This, of course, was a disappointment.

in 2:11. This, of course, was a disappointment.

On the second trial the team got away on the third score, Robert J having broken on the first turn in the two first attempts. The first quarter was a repetition of the first trial in thirty-two seconds, but the half was a quarter of a second slower. They reached the three-quarters pole in 1:374 again. As they straightened out for home, Driver Brown shook them up a bit and they came down the stretch in a tremendous burst of speed, passing under the wire in the marvelous time of 0:30% for the last quarter, and making the mile in 2:08. The crowd went wild with enthusiasm. Shortly afterward Gentry was brought out for his trial with running mate to break the track record of 2:01/2, made by himself in 1856. He went the distance with clock-like regularity in 2:03%, finishing fresh, which, considering the work he had done previous to this, was a great performance.

FIVE MILLION DOLLARS SHORT

Discrepancies Discovered in the counts of Brooklyn. NEW YORK, Oct. 8,-Comptroller Fitch's expert accountants, who have been at work investigating the records and accounts in Brooklyn, preparatory to consolidation, have found discrepancies in accounts amounting to $5,000,000. The details of the experts' report are as follows: The records of the towns of Flatlands, Flatbush, New Lots, New Utrecht and Gravesend, which the officials of these towns claim were turned over to the comptroller and corporation counsel of Brooklyn when they were merged into Brooklyn, cannot be found and their absence interferes with u proper investigation.

There are disagreements between the books of the comptroller of Brooklyn and those of the registrar. In the department of arresis is the most confusion in the records. The edgers, some 225 in number, containing over 00,000 accounts, are not in balance and apparently have never been balanced, and hile on January 1, 1897, the balance to the debit of the registrar of arrests on the books of the comptroller was $8,415,128, the bal-ance carried by the registrar of arrests, as representing taxes and assessments in arrears, was $3,714.826, and while the general edger shows that arrears of taxes prior to 1893 have been overpaid $17.253, the ward ledgers disclose many iterus of unpaid taxes. The officials of Brooklyn delay that there is or has been any malfeasance, and allege that the discrepancies reported by Comptroller Fitch's experts are due in large part to the defective system of bookkeeping followed in the towns which were recently annexed to

ON THE WAY TO THE KLONDIKE. Maryville Boy Tells of the Difficulties of the Journey.

MARYVILLE, Mo., Oct. 8 .- (Special.) -- W. 3. Frost received a letter yesterday from his son Cecil, who is on his way to the Klendike. It was dated at Lake Linderman and said among other things "We (the writer and two other companions from Maryville) joined in with two other fellows to make a boat, and go down the iver (the Yukon). Nails are worth $1.50 per bound, and we paid out about $14 for nails used in making our boat. Pitch costs $2.50 per pound, most 50 to 60 cents and chewing obacco $5 per pound. "We left Sheep Camp for the Summit, a listance of five miles, one and a half miles of which we had to crawl on our hands and knees with fifty pounds on our backs. Several people fell back twenty to forty feet, and some were badly injured. "Sheep Camp, where I wrote the last letter, is nearly under water now. A large glacier which was very prominent from where we camped washed down. There was a large body of water behind it, which swept tents provisions and outfits down the river. A fe-ves were lost, but the exact number is no I was talking today with a fellow who had been packing for two months and buying provisions to get through in the spring. He lost all excepting the clothing he were, but takes it like a man. He started out with mother pack on his back and says he will go where he can get money.

"There are 159 tents pitched on Lake Linderman and people are coming in every day.
"Yesterday a man lost some cotton batting that cost him 30 cents on the coast. He offered $30 to any one who would tell him who took it, and put up notices to the effect that he would shoot the man on the spot if he found him. I think the crowd would have interfered, but would have made the fellow go back, as every one says no thief will ever go down the river if he is known.
