

COUNCIL BLUFFS DEPARTMENT

MINOR MENTION.

Harry Murphy, coal and wood, 31 Main. Dr. N. M. ...

ORGANIZED FOR THE FRY

Political Parties Line Up Their Men in Order of Battle.

PRESENT OFFICERS ARE RENOVATED

Republican Ticket in Pottawattomie County is Made Up of Good Men and True, Who Have Proved Their Worth.

The Pottawattomie county political situation is beginning to attract the attention of the lay as well as the professional politicians and from now on it is probable that the campaign will be fought with sufficient vigor to make it interesting to the voters.

The organizations of both of the political parties are in good condition and each side is prepared to do effective campaign work.

Among the same persons who are connected with the Nebraska conference have been working in the interest of the church in this state are: Levi A. Convin of Payson, Utah, president of the Iowa conference; Joseph P. Thomas of Manassas, Colo.; James Conn and Leonard C. Robinson of Salt Lake county, Utah; Parley Williams of Granger, and David Rishton of Riverston, in Salt Lake county; Henry Hise of Woodland, Wahatch county; Daniel E. Black of Morgan, Morgan county; C. J. Smith of Glendale, Kane county, Utah, and Enos Ormond of Menan, Idaho.

These connected with the Nebraska conference who have registered are: Elder P. J. Williams of Oberlin, Hancock county, Idaho, president of the Nebraska conference; the elders Lee S. Robinson, Idaho Falls; L. S. Meacham, Riverdale, and W. H. Garner of Clifton, Oneida county; J. W. Jones of Louisville, Fremont county, Idaho; Richard Yates of Logan, Utah; J. C. Johnson of Iron county, and J. A. Fawson of Graniteville, Tovele county, Utah.

The conference will close with the meetings today.

Druggists know Dr. Davis' Anti-Headache is best of all headache remedies.

PENNSONS FOR WESTERN VETERANS.

Heroes of the War Remembered by the General Government.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—(Special.)—Pensions granted, issue of September 24: Nebraska—Original—Thomas M. ...

South Omaha News.

Physicians in this city often come across some very peculiar cases in their rounds, but it is not often that one is found who is peculiar case came to the attention of a physician being called to see a poor, homeless woman. For obvious reasons, the real names of the parties are withheld, but they are known to the managers of the South Omaha hospital and to a number of physicians here.

Gas Injunction Today.

Today in the case of Scott's gas injunction secured by Julius C. Sharp against the Omaha Gas company will be heard. At the same time it is thought that the validity of the order granting a franchise will be decided, as that is one of the points raised by Mr. Sharp.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY.

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All coughs and colds are cured by its use.

Clearing and Fair and Growing Warmer is Nebraska's Promise.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Forecast for Monday: For Nebraska—Fair Monday; clearing in eastern portion in the early morning; northwesterly winds; warmer in eastern portion.

Local Record.

OFFICE OF THE WEATHER BUREAU: OMAHA, NEBRASKA, October 10, 1897. Maximum temperature ...

Reports from Stations at 8 p. m.

Table with 2 columns: Station Name and Temperature/Weather.

STATIONS AND STATE OF WEATHER.

Table with 2 columns: Station Name and State of Weather.

Thrown Through a Window.

John J. Ryan, the well known real estate dealer and ex-councilman from the Third ward, was thrown from a window in Ryan's gambling establishment Saturday night and was quite badly injured.

Chitney Needs Cleaning.

A fine became obstructed in the store-room of the Great Eastern Loan company, 20 South Tenth street, about 6 o'clock last night, and a portion of the building fell into the street.

Old Man's Long Walk.

Mrs. F. M. Phillips of this city has received word that her uncle, an eccentric old man who has reached almost 100 years of age, has arrived in Niles, Mich., having walked a distance of about 100 miles.

WANTS MORE EARNEST WORK

Chairman McMillan Sounds a Warning to Iowa Republicans.

DANGER LURKS IN OVER-CONFIDENCE

Necessity for a Large Majority is Apparent, and Vigorous Effort Alone Can Secure the Votes Needed.

DES MOINES, Oct. 10.—(Special Telegram.)—Chairman McMillan of the republican state central committee gives out an authorized interview, in which he sounds an alarm to republicans on the ground of over-confidence.

"There is very grave danger to the republican party in Iowa," said Mr. McMillan, "unless something is done at once to get out the party workers and stir up some enthusiasm. The democrats have made a failure of their campaign up to the present time, it is true, but the prospect of their vote falling off as much as ours is not to be counted upon. Republicans all over the state have been saying that it is only a question of whether the state will go 75,000 or 100,000. They do not know the situation here.

"A majority of 15,000 or 20,000 would be almost as bad as defeat this year, when the electors will be especially encouraging to the other side and might result in throwing the state over to the democrats the following year. It is folly to talk about 100,000 votes unless some enthusiasm is generated. We cannot sit down and simply say the state is going 100,000 and then wait for it to go that way. It has got to be done by hard work, and the best way of doing it is to get the state apparatus that fact the better off the party will be.

"I am frank to state I am not satisfied with the situation. The last few days' meetings have been better attended than they were the first of the campaign. Mr. Shaw has been having some fine meetings, but the local speakers are not so good. The state is organized by counties here and there. Our letters to county organizers are answered with more promptness than usual. The county organizations are all right, but the local few days' meetings have not turned out and help work up some interest.

"I am saying this because I believe it is to the party's best interest that it should understand the situation. There has not been enough work done. It will be impossible to poll the vote that was polled last year. Both parties will slump. The republicans must awaken. The feeling of confidence is to be mistrusted. Men say the party is all right; that they do not need to turn out and put their shoulders to the wheel. That's just the danger. They are waiting to be called for the campaign to warm up, but it is slow getting there."

PUT FLOWERS ON HIS GRAVE

Irishmen Do Honor to the Memory of Charles Stewart Parnell.

FIVE THOUSAND IN THE PROCESSION

English Officials and Dublin Aristocrats Hold Conspicuously Aloof from the People's Demonstration of Reverence.

DUBLIN, Oct. 10.—Today is the sixth anniversary of the death of Charles Stewart Parnell. Five thousand nationalists paraded the streets to the bleak Glasnevin cemetery, where they heaped high the grave of their lamented leader with flowers brought from all the counties of Ireland.

The demonstration was unique. Previous demonstrations have had strictly a tuncular character; but in accordance with the decision of the leaders, that of today was devoted to all the trappings and signs of worldly success.

The country people were brought in by crowded excursion trains. In their hats they wore ivy and shamrocks instead of crapes. It was emphatically the people's day, for the aristocracy held aloof. No flags were raised on the public buildings along the line of march, and only a few houses of the poor displayed decorations. The poverty of Ireland was exhibited not only by the children who walked in their bare feet, but in the attempts at a uniform for the processionists, who seldom achieved more than a faded green sash or a spray of ivy on the coat.

The day was wet, windy and cheerless; and the demonstration was imposing in no respect except in its spirit. The procession started from St. Stephen's Green at 1 o'clock, and by a mained grade of honor of Irish National Foresters, immediately followed by the York street brass band, which preceded the memorial car. The car was the most conspicuous feature. It was drawn by four coal black horses, and upon it were piled wreaths and crosses, a veritable mass of white and green stacked as high as a load of hay.

A bronze bust of Parnell surmounted the car and above the head streamed a flag with a setting sun in gold.

OLDMEN OF THE PROCESSION.

After the car came the members of the Irish parliamentary party, headed by John Redmond, member of Parliament for Waterford, the moving spirit of the celebration. They were followed by the honorary officers of the demonstration committee, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters, the staff of the Irish Daily Independent, the Evening Herald and Weekly Independent; delegates from the Irish National League of Great Britain and then by the carriage containing Mr. John Parnell, M. P., Mrs. Dickson, sister of the dead patriot, other members of the Parnell family and James Stephens, the Irish patriot. Mrs. Delia Parnell was unable to be present.

The lord mayor and corporation of Dublin, the mayor, sheriffs and municipal dignitaries of Cork and Limerick, and other official regalia, the maces being wound with ivy, rode next in gilded coaches. After them came the various deputations, carrying the various regalia of the different districts. The Irish National Foresters