

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE

E. ROSEWATER, Editor. PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING. TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION. Daily (Without Sunday), One Year, $1.00...

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE. We have already noted as a probable outcome of the accumulating supply of gold that the New York banks will soon begin to furnish gold for customs duties...

led him to decline to enter a conference with those countries. In the first place the British prime minister, who knew of the desire of this government to include Russia and Japan in the conference...

The board, however, has been remarkably quiet since its one lone grandstand play at the disposal in broken state banks have had anything to thank the board for. But then this is a reform state administration.

There are eight tickets to pick from in Ohio. The total registration in Baltimore this year is 111,236, a falling off of only 1,118 from last year's registration.

OTHER LANDS THAN OURS. As the Transvaal elects its president for a term of five years and as the third term of President Kruger expires next year, "Oom Paul" is already taking messages...

scored horses, handsomely uniformed men, and beautifully attired women, riding and marching to the sound of martial music.

STATEMENT OF CIRCULATION. State of Nebraska, Douglas County, ss: I, George H. Tschack, secretary of The Bee Publishing Company, being duly sworn, say that the actual number of full and complete copies of The Daily, Morning, Evening and Saturday Bees printed during the month of September, 1897, was as follows:

"THROW THE JONAH OVERBOARD." The persistence of these attacks call for prompt attention. Mr. Rosewater has resigned. His resignation should be promptly accepted. His usefulness as a member of the executive board is at an end.

Hawaii's Load of Debt. The Dole government of Hawaii is young, but it has already increased the bonded debt from $2,000,000 to $1,000,000 and the floating debt from $200,000 to $750,000.

Judicial Inefficiency. It is a striking commentary on the inefficiency of American judicial methods that the case of Durrant, the California church murderer, should still be hanging in the supreme court of the United States.

Strong Business Outlook. The monthly statement of the postal receipts of the principal cities of the country, which has just been made public, is of great significance as an indication of the condition of general business.

ENGLAND'S GREAT STRIKE. Far-reaching and infectious in its character, the great strike in England is now in its third week.

THE BEE ON TRAINS. All railroad newsboys are supplied with enough Bees to accommodate every passenger who wants to read a newspaper.

It is urged that the time is now propitious for renewing the arrangement that existed before 1893 between the national treasury and the banks, as a measure of security to the government gold reserve.

It is to be hoped that the public spirit of the manufacturers and merchants of Pittsburgh will be equal to carrying to artistic completion the suggested colossal statue of Tubal Cain.

Advancing Prosperity. The Financial Chronicle notes many proofs of improving business. Bank clearings in August were 36 per cent better than in August, 1896, and September clearings are 50 per cent better.

TOO MUCH WATERED STOCK. Excessive Capitalization of Railroad Corporations. According to the report of the Interstate Commerce Commission, which has just been issued, the capitalization of the railroads of the United States is $10,500,000,000, of which just about half is stock and half bonds.

THE MONEY POWER. How Mr. Bryan's Practice Differs from His Preaching. The Wichita (Kan) Eagle is authority for the statement that after making his speeches and receiving his pay, Mr. Bryan has a habit of "gate money" at that city.

THE THREE ROSES. Smiling demurely she stands in the doorway. "I'm only glad to have you here."

When the ballots are counted on November 2 Frank Kasper will learn something to his advantage.

Justice Field has the consolation at all events of having prevented President Cleveland from appointing his successor.

The volunteer cabinet-makers may now enjoy a new lease of life reconstructing President McKinley's official family for him.

The state house machine and its Omaha contingent are fighting shy of the Ransom revelations about Governor Holcomb's complicity with Bartley. It is a tender subject with bogus reformers.

THE CHILICANS. The Yankees of South America are moving in the matter of railroads, and the Chilean government is considering an offer from a German syndicate of $55,000,000 to be expended in building lines.

MERRY JINGLES. "Man who's got little here below." "Wherefore should mortal fret? Since that is chat, as times now go, 'Tis his likeliest to get!"

President Faure of France, in his address at the banquet commemorating his visit to Russia, gave reassuring expression to the purpose of the powers to preserve the peace of Europe and spoke of the all-pervading tendency among the nations to advance their material welfare.

Tom Hoctor denies that he voted "no" on the resolution to discharge Geraldine. As it was a secret ballot, his denial should be accepted. It is passing strange, however, that Mr. Hoctor did not take advantage of the opportunity to tell the board what he thought of Geraldine's ways of doing business.

David M. Haverly is a man of unblemished reputation, eminently qualified to fill the position of county clerk, for which he has been nominated on the republican ticket. True, he is not a professional politician, and has never been a candidate for office, but that should not count against him, even if his A. B. C. reform opponent can boast of having been a candidate for some office most of the time and held two salaried offices at one time.

Word comes from New York that the federal grand jury has failed to find an indictment against the millionaire St. Louis merchant who was caught last spring in the act of smuggling diamonds and jewelry into the country. Whether this would have been the result were the offender less prominent and less influential is something that may be held over for speculation. Law-abiding citizens, however, can not but be tempted to ask themselves whether the penalties against smuggling mean anything or are elastic to fit each particular case.

The attorney general of South Dakota deserves a big credit mark for shutting down on an attempt of a state legislator to crawl into a lucrative job created by a bill log-rolled through the legislature by himself. The South Dakota constitution wisely has an express prohibition against this sort of abuse, as has also the constitution of Nebraska and various other states. In Nebraska, unfortunately, the constitutional provision has been evaded and even openly violated by the very officers who were elected to see that it was enforced. The South Dakota example ought to operate with salutary effect upon salary-grabbing legislators in that state and its neighbors.
