MORE BUSINESS THAN EVER BEFORE Union Pacific Officials Feeling Pretty

Speaking of the peaceful settlement of the rate difficulties that have existed among the Union Pacific, the Oregon Short Line and the Oregon Rallway & Navigation company lines for over six months, an official of the Union Pacific said to a Bee reporter: "It means more business for us, and, of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. course, I am glad to see it. But to be perfeetly frank, we have just got so much business along our main line now that it is hustling us pretty hard to take care of it all. I never saw se much business on any rallroad. "What is the outlook of the south, comnercially, senator?"
"The future of the south commercially lies in the upbuilding of the manufacturing industries there, in my opinion. The factories must be brought closer to the base of sup plies. The New England people are already beginning to appreciate that this is the wisest course for them to pursue, and as a result northern capital is coming into North Carolina freely for the establishment milling plants and other manufactories. With cotton, with lumber and with other raw material in just as abundant quantities, it is plain to be seen that success lies in the direction of manufacturing right at home. That is the future of the south. Therein

South Sixteenth Street. Some of the members of the Board of Public Works are not entirely satisfied with the action of the city council Monday in granting Hugh Murphy an extension of his contract for the South Sixteenth street repaving. This action was taken without referring the request to a committee and against the advice of the city engineer.

It is asserted that if Mr. Murphy had really wanted to pave the street this year, he could have been ready to begin work as soon as the thirty days allowed for the designation of material expired. There are only about 17,000 yards of asphalt to be laid under this contract, while there are still nearly 25,000 yards to be laid on Farman street. The property owners on South Sixteenth street. have had their street tern up since early last spring and now that the paving has been in on the board to register emphatic protests. It is also stated that the extension should not have been graced by the council until after the written consent of the sureties on Mr. Murphy's bond had been filed. This is advised on the ground that the extension constitutes a change in the contract und raises the legal proposition whether the obligation of the sureties is not discharged when the change is made without their con-
