Dolliver's meeting at the Dohany theater ast night was one of the largest political demonstrations that has occurred in any of the campaigns for many years. Mr. Dolliver has spoken in Council Bluffs on other occasions, but never before when there was such a desire on the part of the better class of citizens to hear him. The theater constitutes the largest auditorium in the city, but it was too small to accommodate a fruction of the number of people who sought admittance. The stage was filled with republicans and honest money democrats and the re-mainder of the house from pit to dome with pecial use. The population of the county outside of the city and towns is about 20,000, and in a canvass that represents personal contact with or at least inquiry concerning the homes of these people, he only found thirty-nine without bibles. Individually they were not quite so well supplied. Inquiry among thirty people discovered that eleven of them were without bibles, but none could be found who had not at least recently seen or heard of the book. CROWDS TO HEAR DOLLIVER MONEY NOT SAFE IN THE MAIL

Opinion of an Expressman Opposed to a Banker's Views.

The local managers of express companies are taking a deep interest in the discussions going on concerning the transmission of currency by registered mail, and some of them take exceptions to the interview with a local EXPLAINS THE MORTGAGE REGISTER banker published in The Bee yesterday, who was rather inclined to favor the idea of using was rather inclined to favor the tidea of using the registered malls instead of the express companies. A good deal of this interest has been aroused by the fact that C. R. Han-nan, cashier of the Citizens' bank in this city, has been foremost in this alvocacy and read a paper before the meeting of the National Bankers' association at Detroit last in which he eirnestly advocated the plan which has provoked a great deal of discursion all over the country. Colonel H. C. Beebe, the veteran agent of the American, is inclined to dispute the assertion that there is enough in the way of cheapness in postal transmission to justify the increased risk. On small shipments he says the dif-ference in favor of the mails will not exceed 10 cents and for short distance the express rate is the cheapest.
"The bankers' idea seems to be," said Mr. Beebe, "that the mails are designed ex-presaly for their use and they have not hesithe mail cars with regular bank voults at dress before the Bankers' association insisted for the deposit of the banker's money while in transit, it cal safes for local business and through safes for through business. Judge Has Modified His Charge Since the Previous Trial.

MARYVILLE, Mo., Oct. 27.—(Special.)— Judge Herndon instructed a jury in the Rasco case for the third time yesterday afternoon. The instructions given differ very essentially from those given at the former trials. Before the court refused instructions for any degree less than first, declaring that he had no right under the law to do so. Since then he has bad some correspondence with the attorney general in reference to the matter, and the instructions given yes-terday contain the following:

The court instructs the jury that if it believes from the evidence that the defendant is under the ege of is years it is at liberty o assess his punishment at death or im-oris nment in the penitentiary for a period not less than five years or at comto the State Reform school for boys at any term less than five years." This is a victory for the defense, as it contended at the former trial that such in-structions should be given.
