The man planked down a couple of dol-lars on the deak and Cashier Nott reached for his marriage license book, but he was startled and made speechless by the remark from the man:

"We want a divorce." Before Nott could recover his power of speech the man took him by the arm, and he was escorted by the couple into an outer office in front of the counter. Piled up against the counter were two big bundles and several smaller ones, apparently containing bedding, household utensils, pictures and ther articles which are deemed necessary for married life. The burden must have been all that the man and woman could carry Pointing to the layout, the man said: closes at 6:00 p. m. previous day, ostoffice, New York, N. Y., October 29, "Me and the woman cannot get along to-ther. We have decided to get divorced.

We want you to divorce us and divide our property between us. I paid you $2 for the marriage license, and I suppose it costs the same to get a divorce."

By this time Harry Nott had regained his elf-possession, and he delivered a very fath erly discourse to the pair, advising them to try to patch up their difficulties and to stay together. He said that in all his experience he had not yet sold a marriage license which did not result ultimately in satisfaction to all parties, even if things were a little tough at first. He advised them to hold on a while longer and the superior quality of his licenses ould soon display themselves. The couple took in the advice calmly, bu apparently had no effect on them. Nott then started on another strain and told of the proper precedure to get a divorce. He figured out the attorney's fees and court

Nott responded in the negative, and the couple conversed together for some time in Swedish. At the conclusion of their confab the man announced: "It costs too much. I guess we will try to get along together."

Saturday's Foot Ball Games Dissected and Opposing Teams Compared.

TAME EXHIBITIONS IN THE WESTERN

Weakness of Iown and Missouri Great Surprise to the Watchers Pennsylvania Makes a Great Showing.

Each Saturday of this autumn sees the great intercollegiate foot ball game advanced in popularity. Each Saturday the games become more numerous and more exciting. The come said affairs between the strong teams and the weak teams having been largely disposed of in the first part of the season. From new on till the last of the season. From new on till the last of the season. two games show that the best game of the association will be when Nebraska and Kansan meet. Unless Nebraska should take an unexpected slump, or Itwa should make phenomenal strides forward, the game here on Thanksgiving Day between Nebraska and lowa will be Nebraska's by a great big score. Iowa plays the University of Misscore. Iowa plays the University of Mis-souri at Iowa City on Saturday, November 13, and the winner of this contest will prob ably take third place in the association while the leser will have to be contented with the fourth and last place. It looks now as though Missouri would bring up the rear of the procession, but what a strange reversal of fate it would show if lowa, the pennant winner of 1896, should occupy last place

Coach Robinson of Nebraska has every reason to be proud of his boys after their victory of Saturday, and the team has every reason to feel grateful to Edgar Robinson for Nebraska never had a better coach. The team work on Saturday was good, and several players shone out as stars, one of the Quarterback Cowgill, dropped a goal from the thirty-five-yard line It was a hard beating for Missouri, but Coach Young should not feel discouraged He has hard trials and little thanks. His work from now on will be to get the team. ready to meet and beat lowa.

If the X-ray machine could have been employed for photographic purposes at Law rence. Kom., on Saturday night it would probably have found two noted football play-ers Joshing each other. Coach Woodruff of the Kanses team probably had a good deal of sport with Coach Wagonhurst of Iowa over the 56-0 score, and the latter was unton, Harvard and Coroell and longing to meet Yale. That they should meet again on the western plains as coaches of opposing teams is an incident worthy of mention.

Omoha's graduates in the grand game were of the most fiercely contested and best played gomes of the year was that between the University of Chicago and Illinois State university, which went to the former, 18 to 12. It was all the fault of Gordon Clarke and Billy Gardner of this city that Illinois lost the game. They are playing quarter-back (later right halfback) and fullback, re-forced the ball along by steady gains and finally went over the line for the winning touchdown. Herschberger, the renowned punter, was injured early in the game, and Gordon Clarke ably filled his place at right halfback. He did not do the kicking hi predecessor would have done, but he made some of the most sensational runs ever on an Illinois gridiron. Billy Gardner kicked every goal he had a chance st, and alded Clarke in his runs, besides doing some good punting and fine running.

In the east, the sons of William Penn and Benjamin Franklin went up from Phila-delphia and called on the descendants of sylvania did not do much, only defeated Brown, 40 to 0, that's all. It may be incltravel together along life's path, even if same Brown team that played Yale a close they find it a bit tough, instead of hustling game, 18-14, and held Harvard down to 24 points. Perhaps this doesn't show up Penn in a bright light, but it looks that way at this distance. Now, if that team of Quakers actly the same as to get a marriage license, had just spread over the border line of that and this was very evidently the opinion of state of Rhode Island when they were in not have found the players of Yale at home, but they could have waited till they returned and just had a jittle practice game with them. The Yale boys on Saturday wondered away from the dear old Yale fence, and went over to West Polit, N. Y. The soldier boys of Uncle Sam gave them a warmer re-ception than the sons of Eli had anticipated. West Point scored on Yale first, and the first half ended 6-0 in the army's favor. Yale tied the score in the second balf, and left the score 6-6. Of course, there will be the usual bundle of explanations from New Haven this week, and there will be another call for the old guard of the alumni to come back to coach. Yale has need of all the good coaching it can get hold of before it meets Harvard at Cambridge on November 13, and Princeton at New Haven one week later. Yale will do very well, indeed, to get one of those two games, and would agreeably surprise the bluest Yalensian by doing that very thing.

> Harvard's team continues to show marked improvement. That a larger score was not registered against Cornell on Saturday is due only to the excessive holding in the line by the Harvard guards and the penalties in-flicted by Dr. Paul Dashiell. The score was 24 to 5 in fayor of Harvard, and the lithecans therefore have the honor of being the first players to score against the crimson this year. It was a goal from the field by Quar-terback Young that did it. Both lines showed up strong, the Harvard line much the stronger. Harvard's backs did not play brilliantly, but Cornell's played poorly. Cornell men were not in good condition they had not fully recovered from the effects of their hard game with Princeton one week earlier and had been compelled to stand a hard bit of traveling from Ithaca to Cambridge. On Saturday next Cornell plays Pent sylvania State college at Ithica, the team that the University of Pennsylvania recently defeated 24 to 0. The result of this game wil give a cue on the Penn-Cornell game to b played on Thanksgiving day at Philadelphia Of course, the game will go to Penn, but the question is by how many points? Princeton easily defeated Dartmouth, b not so easily as did Pennsylvania a few weeks ago. On Saturday Princelon will play La-fayette, the team Penn defeated, 48 to 9. Princeton's most illustrious foot ball player in recent years carned a victory for himsel and his proteges in the west on Saturday Wisconsin defeated Minnesota, 39 to 0. Phi Wisconsin defeated Minnesota, 39 to 0. Phil King, captain of both foot ball and base ball teams at Princeton in 1893, had coached the Wisconsin players into fine form and they just ran away from Minnesota as they pleased. The result of the game and the Invincible form displayed by Wisconsin invests the game between Chicago and Wisconsin to be between Chicago and Wisconsin to be played one week from Saturday with a new and lively interest. Phil King is con-ceded to be a better foot ball general than Alonzo B. Stagg. It is said he has had as good material to work with at Madison as has Stagg on Chicago's midway. The chances are that Chicago will win, but it's going to Today Omaha will have a chance to see a very clever game at University park, when westevan college of Lincoln meets Tabor college of Iowan. The Tabor team is a very clever aggregation and will give the Methodists a much harder wrestle than would the Tigers from Missouri. It will be a pretty even match and should be a very nice ex-hibition. Game will be called at $:30.

Yncht Rucing Union of North America. NEW YORK, Oct. 31.-Representatives o 100 yacht clubs in the United States and Canada met here yesterday and organized the Yacht Racing union of North America. RIVERVIEW PARK IMPROVEMENT.

Construction of a Large Lake is Now Projected.

The enthusiasm with which the Southsiders regard the development of Riverview park brings out some new scheme for Improvement every few weeks and the last one contemplates the addition of a new slice of territory and a big lake. Park Commissioner, Ornish has suggested the scheme and he doubtedly called upon to set them up. Both regards it as perfectly feasible. The plan of these conches are graduates of the luvolves the condemnation and purchase of Quaker institution at Philadelphia, and for a large territory of the low ground between four years played alongside of each other as the park and the river where it is asserted guard and tackle, helping to defeat Princeton, Harvard and Cornell and longing to structed with very little expense. The ground in not considered worth any tangible amount and it is declared that the entire improvement can be made for $5,000. Mr. Cornish does not insist that the scheme should be taken up at once, but suggests it again in the front rank on Saturday. One as a good thing to consider. He takes the of the most flercely contested and best view that Riverview park is bound to become the great park of the city and that the construction of such a lake as is con-templated would double its attractiveness and give the people of the city a source of recreation that they have never before enjoyed. He believes that a lake large enough to nificant expense and that the value of the main park would be materially enhanced by the transformation of the stretch of marsh that extends below the park into an attractive lake. The matter has been discussed to some degree among the South-siders and will be taken up by the South-side Improvement club along with its other projects for local improvements, The menagerie at Riverview park has now assumed quite creditable proportions and on pleasant Sundays It attracts quite a num-ber of people. The list of animal attractions now includes a black bear, several wolves and coons, three eagles, a wildcat, seven different varieties of hawks, three va-rieties of owls, twenty-one fantall pigeons, an African ostrich, ostrich chicken, three prairie dogs, a cage of white rabbits and a miscellaneous assortment of squirrels, badgers, geese and ducks and guinea pigs These have all been donated to the park board by various individuals and the Southsiders propose to make them the beginning of quite a pretentious collection.

Complains to Board of Health. Mrs. Harmon, 814 Pierce street, has complained to the Board of Health that a neighbor's children have been very ill with diphtheria without the proper precautious being taken for the safety of children in the vicinity. She states that the baby of Frank Scudla recently died of the disease and that the bedding was later exposed close to the playground of her own children. No disinfectant had been used, she says, and no notification card has been exposed at the door. Dr. Parker was said to be the physician in charge, and when asked regarding the matter said that he had suspected the case to be diphtheria when he was called at the very first. Immediately, he said, he was discharged and another physician summoned before the disease had developed. Dr. Miller, in the Barker block, was later called, but his explanation of the affair could not be obtained last night. neighbor's children have been very ill with
