MISSING PEOPLE

Their Disappearance and What

Becomes of Them.

"Scarcely a day passes that we do not road in the newspapers of some man or woman who is reported missing and in the majority of cases these people forsike happy homes without any carthly reason for doing so and their fate often becomes a mystery.

"The cause of these disappearances has excited widespread discussion of late and some of our best novelists have founded thrilling romances on this strange subject, But no one has yet been able to find an answer to the question, 'What becomes of these missing people?'

"Perhaps the best explanation of the mystery may be found in the words of a New York physician who is a keen observer. According to his theory these peo-ple are sufferers from various disastrous maladies from which they gin no relief. Their surroundings eventually become unbearable to them. In their diseased imag-inations they fancy everybody is an enemy although surrounded by friends. Driven to despair they at last forsake their homes and become wanderers on the face of the earth or else--which is very probable-commit Evangelist Weber has arranged for a meeting of men only at the Broidway Methodist Church on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The subject to be discussed is the rather familiar ono of "Bucking the Tiger and Seeing the Elephant.' None but men will be admitted. The meetings are creating a good deal of interest and it has been determined to continue them until November 28.

It is reported around the court house that there is small probability of the grand jury finding on indictment against McFadden, the tramp who endeavored to kidnap little Charlie Kizer, the 10-year-old son of the dead Union Pacific conductor. The Page county authorities have shown no disposition to investigate the charge brought against the man by the little boy from College Springs. The evidence in the Kiser case is not sufficiently strong to justify an indictment.

Manley Gets Clear,

The case of Thomas Manley, charged with larceny in the court of Justice Ferrier, came up for hearing yesterday and the verdict of the jury was "not guilty." The plaintiff in the case was one Jennie Williams, who charged Manley with selling her a diseased horse, for which she gave him $1 and a pair of buggy springs. On discovering that the horse was diseased she wished to trade back. The darkey gave her back her dollar, but sold the springs at a junk shop for insprings at a junk shop for 75 cents and

That is the story the morning newspapers tell of the modern business man. Too much money-getting. Too little care for health. Too much rush, and strain, and much money-getting. Too little care for health. Too much rush, and strain, and wear and tear. Too little time to eat, to sleep, to digest the food, to rest tired body and tortured brain. Not enough time to think once in a while of health and strength and happiness and a long and useful life. A widow and orphans left to mourn. A big estate that under the dissecting knife of the executor falls all to pieces. Brewers Sue an Agent.

The Conrad Selpp Brewing company is prosecuting a suit against F. J. Johnson, who acted as its distributing agent in the town of Neola. Judge Green in the district court was engaged in hearing the evidence in the case yesterday. Jacob Sims, who is chief counsel for the brewing company, was compelled to submit to a good deal of good natured chaffing from the attorneys about the court room for the reason that in all other liquor cases in which he has appeared as counsel he has been on the other side. The testimony showed that while Johnson was acting as the agent in Neola he became indebted to the company for a small amount, and to secure it he gave a note secured by a mortgage on some real estate. In course of time the brewing company broke off negotiations with him and when the accounts were balanced they showed a deficiency that exceeded nearly twice the amount of $600 secured by the mortgage. Failure to procure a settlement led the company to bring suit to recover on the note and mortgage. John-son put in a counter claim that his business has been greatly damaged by the refueal of the brewing company to fill his orders for beer. In addition Johnson concluded to plead the statutory defense that the liquors sold to him by the defendant company were pro-hibited in being sold in the state and that the company could not enforce payment for the goods.

Got Into the Wrong Pew.

A man giving the mime of Phillip Fluke appeared before Justice Vien yesterday and requested him to make out the necessary papers that would by law give his little daughter to another man, whom he said was the foreman of the press room at the Iowa School for the Deaf. When Fluke entered the justice office he was quite drunk and the justice informed him that he was not in just such condition as he should be to transact such business, and that he had taken the wrong course. Fluke said that he must be drunk before he could do business at all and wanted to know if the justice had anything o drink. On being informed that he had not he drew from his pocket two bottles, one being almost empty and the other full of alcohol, and attempted to drink it, but the justice promptly took it away from him and placed him under arrest for drunkenness. His case is set for hearing tomorrow.

Mandamus Arguments Deferred. The petition in Prof. Sawyer's mandamus case was filed in the superior court yesterday

Inquest on Jerry Emerson.

An inquest was held yesterday over the body of Jerry Emerson, who was found dead in a stairway on South Main street last even ing. The verdict of the jury was that the deceased came to his death by the excessive use of strong drink, there being no evidence that he had been drugged or met with foul play in any way. No arrangements have been made for the funeral. The colored people of the city are taking a subscription to provide funds to defray the funeral expenses.

NEW STANDARD of prices for Sterling Silver Forks and Spoons is announced by the Gorham Co., Silversmiths. Under this new schedule the Sterling

Silver Forks and Spoons made by the Gorham Co., Silversmiths, are sold at fixed prices per dozen. The prices have been carefully adjusted in accordance with the present condition of the silver bullion market, varying with the merits of the individual design and workmanship involved in its production and the quantity of sterling used. The most elaborate patterns made by the Gorham Co. can now be bought at extremely reasonable prices, while the simpler forms of less ornate design are offered at lower prices than ever before known.
