

IN THE DOMAIN OF WOMAN.

NEW YORK'S DRESS PARADE.

The Horse Show a Fashionable Rival of the Easter Turbans. NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—There is no disputing the fact that the New York horse show is still one of the most important dress parades in the month of November.

For example, any one who has been to the show will come away convinced that the Victorian bonnet is one of the most important types of headgear, so many were the women who wore them. They appeared in the morning, afternoon and in the evening, with the sort of gown that adorns the theater.

To a woman whose looks lean in the least toward the picturesque these bonnets are essentially becoming, and especially are they recommended for the case when the least artificial hand can, with a handful of roses and a little ribbon, trim a beaver shape most charmingly.

No coat, the show made clear this season, is to be worn tailless. Some coats, indeed, were worn with a heavy, brown cloth walking coat, trimmed with brown velvet.

Shirt waists spring eternal, winter or summer, at breakfast tables and dinner parties and in every goodly out-gauge and lace. They almost controlled the situation at every hour of the day.

Of gowns proper both the sumptuous and simple added to make the horse show resplendent last winter can bring it quite into boxes or ring were built of silk or satin-faced cloth, embossed in groups of fine parallel lines of velvet.

THE PHEASANT'S TRIUMPH. In place of binding the plain felt hats with velvet a narrow band of fur was used, not only astrakhan, Persian lamb and Tibet, but shiny black lynx, blue fox, ermine, mink and chinchilla, all were pressed into service, and though the binding is the very tightest roll of skin adjusted to the very edge of the hat, it forms a soft, becoming frame to the face, so that any woman should try it.

A HORSE SHOW TOILETTE.

birds are now raised in America, is not an expensive luxury. Any shrewd woman can buy a blouse with a fringe of dark blue bias velvet with which to lay a fold as a basis for mounting the bird, against her hair, and in a trice can be possessed of as smart a chaperon as nearly could wish.

FASHIONABLE FURS. In the matter of furs the horse show made a gallant display of big muffs and many of these were worn along about the neck by single chains of pretty imitation pearls.

DAINTY DRAPERIES. Attractive Combinations for Windows of the Home. If the house is to look well from the street have all the windows on the front draped alike, either hanging straight or INSIDE CURTAINS. If the windows are high and narrow and the curtains too wide to put well up against the window frames for this is the most approved way of draping, use extension brackets for the pole to rest on.

CAUGHT BACK WITH CORDS OR RIBBONS. If the windows are high and narrow and the curtains too wide to put well up against the window frames for this is the most approved way of draping, use extension brackets for the pole to rest on.

POPULARITY OF BOARDING HOUSES STANDING. If there is such an organization known as the national or annual convention of boarding house keepers it would or should certainly be meeting just now to consider the present deplorable condition of a once enlightened and paying profession.

WHITE SILK COAT. She has turned her parlor into a reading room, her hall a manager into a grill room; she calls her board bills dues and fines and initiation fees, the board dining room maid the steward, the chambermaid the boots, she is residential manager and head clerk, while her boarders are members. She supplies so many sheets of paper and envelopes every week to the members stamped with the name of the club and address and by these crafty cheap devices, having persuaded the women to buy and use them, she really has a sure enough club, all for the world like men, she bullies them in a right royal old boarding house style.

A WOMAN OF MANY ACCOMPLISHMENTS AND POPULAR IN SOCIETY. The wife of the well-known Arctic explorer is a great favorite in Norwegian society on her own account, besides being, of course, now a kind of queen as the wife of her husband. But before she was married she was much sought after in Christiania, because, for one thing, she is one of the finest musicians in Norway, the possessor of an extraordinary and highly cultivated voice, and an unusual combination—an accomplished pianist as well.

WOMAN KEPT THE JAIL. Mrs. Sarah J. Ames is the wife of ex-Sheriff Albert T. Ames of Belvidere, Ill. Mr. Ames was elected sheriff of Boone county for several terms, serving in all twelve years. At the start, relates the Chicago Record, he appointed his wife as his head deputy. A life of excitement was fairly begun before the Ames family moved into the jail building, as one night there was a wholesale delivery of prisoners. However, all were recaptured. During a large portion of the incumbency of Mr. Ames he was obliged to spend considerable time in South Dakota, and on such occasions the jail was left in sole charge of Mrs. Ames, who relating her experiences in the old building, says that she spent many nights with thirty to thirty men in the cells and with no one for company save a Swede servant.

MRS. FRIDTJOF NANSEN. A Woman of Many Accomplishments and Popular in Society. The wife of the well-known Arctic explorer is a great favorite in Norwegian society on her own account, besides being, of course, now a kind of queen as the wife of her husband. But before she was married she was much sought after in Christiania, because, for one thing, she is one of the finest musicians in Norway, the possessor of an extraordinary and highly cultivated voice, and an unusual combination—an accomplished pianist as well.

Running over hill and dale on Norwegian snowshoes in the mountains of Scandinavia, and Mrs. Nansen is an expert at skilobing, as they call it; but once when she was skilobing in the mountains with her husband and their children, she was exhausted; she was wearing a short dress and a long coat and high boots. Her husband picked her up in his arms and sought comes from their ball hallrooms and parlor where the happy state of affairs has slowly undergone a complete revolution. The bank clerks, the young couples, the bachelors and artists have down their seats, and live in a boarding house is by the least exacting upon the last resort of the hopelessly unassuming and impecunious.

DAINTY DRAPERIES. Attractive Combinations for Windows of the Home. If the house is to look well from the street have all the windows on the front draped alike, either hanging straight or INSIDE CURTAINS. If the windows are high and narrow and the curtains too wide to put well up against the window frames for this is the most approved way of draping, use extension brackets for the pole to rest on.

CAUGHT BACK WITH CORDS OR RIBBONS. If the windows are high and narrow and the curtains too wide to put well up against the window frames for this is the most approved way of draping, use extension brackets for the pole to rest on.

POPULARITY OF BOARDING HOUSES STANDING. If there is such an organization known as the national or annual convention of boarding house keepers it would or should certainly be meeting just now to consider the present deplorable condition of a once enlightened and paying profession.

WHITE SILK COAT. She has turned her parlor into a reading room, her hall a manager into a grill room; she calls her board bills dues and fines and initiation fees, the board dining room maid the steward, the chambermaid the boots, she is residential manager and head clerk, while her boarders are members. She supplies so many sheets of paper and envelopes every week to the members stamped with the name of the club and address and by these crafty cheap devices, having persuaded the women to buy and use them, she really has a sure enough club, all for the world like men, she bullies them in a right royal old boarding house style.

A WOMAN OF MANY ACCOMPLISHMENTS AND POPULAR IN SOCIETY. The wife of the well-known Arctic explorer is a great favorite in Norwegian society on her own account, besides being, of course, now a kind of queen as the wife of her husband. But before she was married she was much sought after in Christiania, because, for one thing, she is one of the finest musicians in Norway, the possessor of an extraordinary and highly cultivated voice, and an unusual combination—an accomplished pianist as well.

WOMAN KEPT THE JAIL. Mrs. Sarah J. Ames is the wife of ex-Sheriff Albert T. Ames of Belvidere, Ill. Mr. Ames was elected sheriff of Boone county for several terms, serving in all twelve years. At the start, relates the Chicago Record, he appointed his wife as his head deputy. A life of excitement was fairly begun before the Ames family moved into the jail building, as one night there was a wholesale delivery of prisoners. However, all were recaptured. During a large portion of the incumbency of Mr. Ames he was obliged to spend considerable time in South Dakota, and on such occasions the jail was left in sole charge of Mrs. Ames, who relating her experiences in the old building, says that she spent many nights with thirty to thirty men in the cells and with no one for company save a Swede servant.

MRS. FRIDTJOF NANSEN. A Woman of Many Accomplishments and Popular in Society. The wife of the well-known Arctic explorer is a great favorite in Norwegian society on her own account, besides being, of course, now a kind of queen as the wife of her husband. But before she was married she was much sought after in Christiania, because, for one thing, she is one of the finest musicians in Norway, the possessor of an extraordinary and highly cultivated voice, and an unusual combination—an accomplished pianist as well.

comes from their ball hallrooms and parlor where the happy state of affairs has slowly undergone a complete revolution. The bank clerks, the young couples, the bachelors and artists have down their seats, and live in a boarding house is by the least exacting upon the last resort of the hopelessly unassuming and impecunious.

DAINTY DRAPERIES. Attractive Combinations for Windows of the Home. If the house is to look well from the street have all the windows on the front draped alike, either hanging straight or INSIDE CURTAINS. If the windows are high and narrow and the curtains too wide to put well up against the window frames for this is the most approved way of draping, use extension brackets for the pole to rest on.

CAUGHT BACK WITH CORDS OR RIBBONS. If the windows are high and narrow and the curtains too wide to put well up against the window frames for this is the most approved way of draping, use extension brackets for the pole to rest on.

POPULARITY OF BOARDING HOUSES STANDING. If there is such an organization known as the national or annual convention of boarding house keepers it would or should certainly be meeting just now to consider the present deplorable condition of a once enlightened and paying profession.

WHITE SILK COAT. She has turned her parlor into a reading room, her hall a manager into a grill room; she calls her board bills dues and fines and initiation fees, the board dining room maid the steward, the chambermaid the boots, she is residential manager and head clerk, while her boarders are members. She supplies so many sheets of paper and envelopes every week to the members stamped with the name of the club and address and by these crafty cheap devices, having persuaded the women to buy and use them, she really has a sure enough club, all for the world like men, she bullies them in a right royal old boarding house style.

A WOMAN OF MANY ACCOMPLISHMENTS AND POPULAR IN SOCIETY. The wife of the well-known Arctic explorer is a great favorite in Norwegian society on her own account, besides being, of course, now a kind of queen as the wife of her husband. But before she was married she was much sought after in Christiania, because, for one thing, she is one of the finest musicians in Norway, the possessor of an extraordinary and highly cultivated voice, and an unusual combination—an accomplished pianist as well.

WOMAN KEPT THE JAIL. Mrs. Sarah J. Ames is the wife of ex-Sheriff Albert T. Ames of Belvidere, Ill. Mr. Ames was elected sheriff of Boone county for several terms, serving in all twelve years. At the start, relates the Chicago Record, he appointed his wife as his head deputy. A life of excitement was fairly begun before the Ames family moved into the jail building, as one night there was a wholesale delivery of prisoners. However, all were recaptured. During a large portion of the incumbency of Mr. Ames he was obliged to spend considerable time in South Dakota, and on such occasions the jail was left in sole charge of Mrs. Ames, who relating her experiences in the old building, says that she spent many nights with thirty to thirty men in the cells and with no one for company save a Swede servant.

MRS. FRIDTJOF NANSEN. A Woman of Many Accomplishments and Popular in Society. The wife of the well-known Arctic explorer is a great favorite in Norwegian society on her own account, besides being, of course, now a kind of queen as the wife of her husband. But before she was married she was much sought after in Christiania, because, for one thing, she is one of the finest musicians in Norway, the possessor of an extraordinary and highly cultivated voice, and an unusual combination—an accomplished pianist as well.

THE BOSTON STORE DRUG DEPARTMENT Beauty Sways the World!

GIVEN AWAY FREE AT BOSTON STORE To every lady making a purchase of Madame Yale's remedies amounting to 35c or over we will give away a sample bottle of Madame Yale's Fruit-cura free of charge.

Our Fall Opening Special Sale on Mme. Yale's Great Remedies Takes place this week. THE YALE BEAUTY DEPT. Has become a permanent feature of our store.

OUR CONFESSION. Like a great many other people, we were skeptical when we first began to handle Mme. Yale's Remedies, for we did not believe it possible for remedies to do all the wonderful things that Mme. Yale claimed her remedies would do— but we confess we were mistaken, for we have had the most absolute proofs that Mme. Yale's remedies will do all she claims and more.

YALE BEAUTY BARGAINS Our Fall Opening Cut Prices As Mme. Yale's Remedies takes place this week, commencing tomorrow morning and continuing for one week we will sell Mme. Yale's Remedies at the lowest prices they have ever been sold at.

Table with columns: Her Price, Our Price, Her Price, Our Price. Lists various beauty products like Hair Tonic, Skin Food, Face Powder, etc.

SOUVENIRS We will present each lady visiting our Yale Beauty Department with Mme. Yale's latest publication, entitled "Look to Beauty." This book is a scientific work and very valuable.

Boston Store Drug Department OMAHA, NEBRASKA.

help. At last he found a peasant's hut, and from it issued its owner before he reached the door, protesting loudly: "O, sir, you ought not to bring a little boy like that out so far. The country here is too rough for a child like him." It is a poor trick of Dr. Nansen to see her on his outstretched arm, and parade up and down the room with her; but that really to one that knows him does not indicate much about her size, for at a banquet given in Christiania after his return from Greenland he picked up Captain Lundroff, who has commanded the Fram, and, holding him by the arms high from the floor, cried, "There is the man I place above us all!"

A FAMOUS LACE DARNER. Student of the Skies Expert with the Needle. Mrs. Mary Somerville was the most learned woman of the nineteenth century, and she did an untold amount of good for other women by being a charming woman, an excellent housekeeper and an accomplished needlewoman, as well as a remarkable astronomer and mathematician.

WOMAN KEPT THE JAIL. Mrs. Sarah J. Ames is the wife of ex-Sheriff Albert T. Ames of Belvidere, Ill. Mr. Ames was elected sheriff of Boone county for several terms, serving in all twelve years. At the start, relates the Chicago Record, he appointed his wife as his head deputy. A life of excitement was fairly begun before the Ames family moved into the jail building, as one night there was a wholesale delivery of prisoners. However, all were recaptured. During a large portion of the incumbency of Mr. Ames he was obliged to spend considerable time in South Dakota, and on such occasions the jail was left in sole charge of Mrs. Ames, who relating her experiences in the old building, says that she spent many nights with thirty to thirty men in the cells and with no one for company save a Swede servant.

MRS. FRIDTJOF NANSEN. A Woman of Many Accomplishments and Popular in Society. The wife of the well-known Arctic explorer is a great favorite in Norwegian society on her own account, besides being, of course, now a kind of queen as the wife of her husband. But before she was married she was much sought after in Christiania, because, for one thing, she is one of the finest musicians in Norway, the possessor of an extraordinary and highly cultivated voice, and an unusual combination—an accomplished pianist as well.

