

SPACE FOR THE NEBRASKANS

State Commission Arranges for Room in Exhibition Buildings. CONFERENCE WITH EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE. Plans All Arranged for Expensive Exhibits in the Principal Structures—Fine Honey for the Apilary Display.

The Nebraska Exposition commission has taken 11,672 square feet of floor space in the Agriculture building, 3,290 feet in the Horticulture building and 7,480 feet in the Liberal Arts building, reserving the right to increase these amounts within a specified time and giving notice that space will be taken in the apilary and other buildings when those buildings are erected.

The above action on the part of the state commission was taken after a conference with the executive committee, lasting all of yesterday afternoon. Before a decision was reached regarding the amount of space to be taken by the state in the main buildings the commission was notified by the executive committee that the new course of procedure in granting concessions to state buildings without charge would be made for the ground occupied by the Nebraska building.

At the meeting of the Nebraska commission last night, chairman Neville was authorized to make formal application for the space agreed upon in the afternoon. The meeting was held at the new headquarters in the Millard hotel, being the first meeting of the board in these quarters. A considerable amount of routine business was transacted, together with business of importance.

R. Hall appeared before the commission in the interest of the posts of the Grand Army of the Republic and asked that a room be reserved in the Nebraska building for the display of relics of the war of the rebellion and other relics in the possession of old soldiers. No official action was taken, but it was estimated that the request would be granted.

COOKING NEBRASKA PRODUCTS.

The request of Mrs. Harriet MacMurphy for an appropriation to enable her to show the superiority of Nebraska corn and other products to exhibitors was granted and $500 was set aside for that purpose. Mrs. MacMurphy will have a cooking school in one of the buildings and the appropriation referred to is intended to cover the additional expense of giving daily demonstrations of the many different ways in which corn and wheat products may be cooked in palatable style.

Superintendent Stilson of the Apilary department reported that he had purchased about $600 worth of the finest honey to be found in the state, for which he said he had paid, on an average, about 12 1/2 cents per pound. He asked that $1,200 be set aside for the apilary exhibit, the balance of the amount of the same. He said the honey could afterwards be sold for about $500, making a net cost for the exhibit of about $700. His report was approved and he was instructed to carry out his plan.

A number of bids for the plumbing, roofing and plastering on the exhibit building were opened and the lowest bid was accepted with J. A. Fitzpatrick, for doing the necessary plumbing and making sewer connections for $445. The chairman of the commission was instructed to make a contract with the Elatere Roofing company of Denver for roofing material bearing the name of that company. The bids for plastering the building were opened and the lowest bid was accepted, them too high and new bids will be asked. But one bid was received for the staff work and this was not opened, it being expected that one bid would be submitted today, the delay in getting bids being charged to delay on the part of the architects of the state building in making the necessary specifications.

The board will hold a short meeting this morning and finish the small amount of business remaining to be done.

GROUPING THE EXHIBITORS.

Department of Exhibits Crystallizes Plans for Interior Arrangements. The Department of Exhibits has concluded the arranging of the interiors of the main buildings, providing for aisles and exhibit spaces and deciding in a general way the manner in which the exhibits shall be grouped. Each exhibitor is required to submit a plan of his exhibit, showing the manner in which he proposes to arrange his material, and these plans govern to a very large extent the manner in which space is allotted. The effort sought to be made by the department is to secure a grouping that shall be harmonious and which shall present a pleasing picture to the visitor when viewing it from any point, and to make a compact exhibit which are lofty and imposing will not be placed alongside those which are "squat" in appearance. The kind of goods exhibited will not be a consideration in the allotment of space. There are a number of other influences which have a bearing upon the question of location, and exhibitors are usually very anxious to be regarded as their rights, so that the lot of the man who has the task of allotting space is not altogether a happy one.

Very little has been done in the way of assigning space to exhibits, as the policy of the department has been to wait until the last moment in order that the best results may be obtained and that the character of all exhibits be definitely known. In some few cases, however, where exhibitors have made this a condition of their application, space has been assigned to them. There have been very few such instances, however, so that the location of the great majority of the exhibits remains to be determined.

One point that has been determined regarding the Machinery and Electricity building is that no machinery requiring steam in its operation will be installed in this building, the only motive power that will be supplied will be furnished by electric motors, the power being generated by dynamo located in the bluff tract, and conveyed to the Machinery and Electricity building by large conductors. An electric motor of considerable power will be supplied for each exhibit and there will be no unsightly shafting running along the inside of the building to break the view and make the interior look like a huge machine shop or factory.

All exhibits requiring steam in their operation will be installed in Machinery Annex building to be erected on the north end of the bluff tract near the Power building. There will be no selling of goods in any of the main buildings except the Liberal Arts building, where exhibitors will be practically the only class of exhibitors who will be allowed to sell their goods to visitors who carry the goods away. It is granted this concession on account of the expense of coming a long distance and for other good and sufficient reasons. Exhibitors in the other buildings will be allowed to sell goods to be removed before the exhibition closes.

Superintendent H. B. Hardt of the Department of Exhibits, who has been actively connected with every exhibition held in the world during the last thirty years, says that he has never known of an exhibition where the exhibit space was so nearly taken six months before the exposition was to open as is the case in the Transmississippi Exposition. "If it were necessary," remarked Mr. Hardt, "the Department of Exhibits could be ready to open the exhibition in five weeks. There are plenty of applications on file to fill all the buildings with exhibits which would be highly creditable, and we would not have to accept of the applications on the file, either. We are going to be in position to take our pick of the best collection of exhibits to be obtained, and there is no question but that when the time comes for opening the Transmississippi Exposition the exhibitors who pass muster will be the cream of the lot."

CONCESSIONAIRES ASK FOR SPACE. Manager Reed's Department Overrun with Applications. Manager Reed of the Department of Concessions says he is literally overrun with applications for all kinds of concessions. Some of these involve concessions that are very valuable to the exposition, and others are of small consequence from an exhibition standpoint, but the prospective concessionaires are just as persistent in one case as in the other.

Regarding the outlook for the Midway, Mr. Reed says he is satisfied that that feature of the exposition will be filled with attractions of the most desirable nature. He says that the host of applications filed with the department cover all kinds and varieties of concessions and that the opportunity thus afforded to select the best. The amount of space set aside for the Midway gives ample room for granting concessions to as many attractions as may be desired, and these conditions, Manager Reed says, make it certain that this feature of the Transmississippi Exposition will equal that of any exhibition ever held.

Foundation for Government Buildings. The plan of the government building on the exposition grounds and the contract for driving them has been let to A. A. Raymond. Mr. Raymond is at present engaged in driving the piles for the Auditorium building, and expects to finish that work by the latter part of this week. He says he will get started on the Government building about Friday of this week. The Nashville man who has the contract for the Government building, is in the city and is making preparations to commence active work at once.

Wisconsin's Building Fund. The reports received from the Wisconsin Exposition commission indicate that the subscription for the Wisconsin building have reached $100,000, and that the entire amount, $250,000, is in sight. Several members of the Wisconsin commission are expected to arrive in the city in the near future, to make several days ago by Commissioners Fisher and Baxter.

PARRISH PAYS THE PRICE

End of His Fight Against Organized Labor Comes. CONTRACTOR AND CARPENTERS AGREE. Union Seal Adopted on the Liberal Arts Building and Force of Competent Men Put to Work at Noon.

Union labor has scored victory No. 3 on the exposition grounds and the Liberal Arts building is added to the list of exhibition buildings which are being erected by union labor.

Contractor Parrish gave in yesterday and agreed to the only thing the labor union representatives asked, that 30 cents per hour be paid to carpenters. Parrish has been working eight hours all along, but he has been paying various prices to his men, some men employed carpenters receiving 25 cents, some 27 1/2 and others 30 cents per hour. Last Wednesday the men struck and since that time the work has been dragging seriously. Great difficulty was experienced in getting any men and few that were secured were able to do the work required of them.

An agreement was reached between Parrish and the representatives of organized labor whereby Parrish agrees to pay carpenters 30 cents per hour, but he is conceded the right to discharge any man whom he does not consider worth that rate. Under this agreement the men heretofore employed were all discharged at noon and a new gang of fifteen carpenters were put to work. The force will be increased in the morning by adding a like number of carpenters, and it is announced that the building will be under roof within two weeks.

This makes six buildings on the main court of the exposition grounds that are being erected by union labor, the Administration, Machinery, Mineral Products, Liberal Arts and Art buildings. The contractor for the latter, the Westlake Construction company of St. Louis, notified the Carpenters union that he would require a certain number of men and asked the union to supply them. The other buildings have been secured only by resorting to the market. The other two buildings on the main court, the Machinery and Electricity and the Auditorium, are being erected by non-union labor, and both contractors say most positively that they will not make any change.

Wesleyan on her own grounds will prove their equal. It will be the gala day of the year. The usual tally-ho parties are being arranged.

Clayton, who was assassinated in Plummerville, Ark., Sunday, Feb. 28, 1896. Clayton was the guard of Pitts, Ga., tells the Journal that he knows the murderer and has sufficient evidence to convict him, but that a reward of $500 would be no inducement for him to disclose the guilty party. If Aiken's clew is reliable the murderer of Clayton is a convict who is now serving a term in the Georgia penitentiary.

A WINDOWFUL OF GOLD. Browning-King Exhibits a Pile of Gold in Their Show Windows.

The display of gold in the Browning-King show windows of Browning-King & Co., from the famous Lemon Mine at Camp McKinley, British Columbia, is the Omaha's first step to the gold fields of the west. As the Lemon is an Omaha mine, owned by an Omaha company and located by an Omaha boy, M. J. Greevy, the quartz brought to the surface by the mine is being sold to the gold-mining community as a most attractive and profitable investment.

Expert miners pronounce it the finest collection of free gold ever brought to this city. The white and blue rock carries salera, black iron, white iron, yellow iron, zinc and copper, the blend of which constitutes the best of the world's gold. The world for carrying great quantities of free milling gold.

The Lemon is a big mine and has such a rich deposit of gold as to be one of the largest in the world. The Omaha company is composed of an English, a Scotch, a Canadian and an American. The display of gold in the show windows will be rapidly developed during the coming season. The Omaha offices are located at 447 South Fifteenth street.

GREGORY GIVES THEM A SCARE. Supposed Attempted Suicide. Wright's Own Wife in a Flirt.

George H. Gregory, railway freighter, frightened the people in the flat at 707 South Sixteenth street last night by what was for a time supposed to be an attempt at suicide. Gregory had been drinking heavily and carrying but little, with the result that he was attacked by several fits. The circumstances of the case are as follows: Gregory's domestic life has been an unhappy one and he had often threatened to take some desperate course. The woman who has formed a suspicion of his conduct, number and Gregory had just failed in an attempt to persuade her to return to him.

His former wife explained that she had been a victim of his drinking habits and that she had been treated very cruelly. She left him a number of times, but he always returned and begged for her forgiveness. She had yielded to his promises of reform. Finally she decided to abandon him permanently and joined her mother, Mrs. M. J. Gregory, who lives at 1513 Douglas street. Gregory was seen of him, however, until last night, when he appeared at the room of the Morten and asked to see his child, which had been cared for by the mother. He was admitted, though it was evident that he was in a state of delirium. He visited with the child for an hour, while his mother was at work in an adjoining room. When he arose to leave he reeled and fell to the floor. The woman, remembering the danger, called the neighbors and an officer. Gregory, who had passed through several apparent spasms and appeared very ill. Later in the night he was seen to be in a state of delirium and was taken to the hospital. The physician could not decide definitely, but was of the opinion that the cause of Gregory's indisposition was too much alcohol on an empty stomach.

STOPS ALL SLOT MACHINES

Police Promptly Stop the Operation of All Slots. ORDER INCLUDES AUTOMATIC VENDORS. Chief Gallagher's Instructions to the Police Occasion Quite a Good Deal of Grumbling Among Dealers.

Very few slot machines were to be seen in the streets and around the public places of the city yesterday morning. By noon they had all been taken away by express wagons and placed in storage or re-located to the rear of the various stores in which they have been stationed.

Promptly following the action of the city council in repealing the license ordinance and in accordance with the mayor's instructions, Chief Gallagher issued orders to the patrolmen to notify all owners of machines to discontinue the use of them at once. These orders appear to have been generally obeyed, as no arrests have been made.

In connection with the order given out by the police Monday night all the nickel-in-the-slot machines used for the selling of merchandise, such as shoes, hats and cigars, together with the phonograph machines, were included. This provoked considerable opposition on the part of the owners of the phonograph machines, as they contend that their property is not classed as gambling devices. Nevertheless pending a settlement of the question the order was obeyed and the merchandise apparatus was not in use today.

George C. Holmes, president of the Omaha Tea and Coffee company, which operates a large number of chocolate machines about the city, called at Chief Gallagher's office this morning and expressed a protest upon the carrying out of so sweeping an order. He said the machines used by his company were merely automatic sellers of goods and that a specific amount of goods was furnished to a purchaser for a specified sum. He thought on this account the order should be modified so as not to include the merchandise machines as a prohibited class. He asked the police to change the order, and Mr. Holmes stated he might contest the case by applying to the courts for an injunction against the order as interpreted by the police. His company would obey the order temporarily, as he felt assured the council would in time rescind the order so far as it affected the merchandise machines.

The cigar dealers expressed themselves this morning as willing to comply with the new order. The Columbia Phonograph company which is represented in this city by A. D. Osborn will probably take steps to stop the abolition of its machines. The agent says he thinks the order as interpreted by the police does his company great injustice and makes worthless a large quantity of valuable property.

As to the refunding of licenses little trouble as yet has been incurred. A stranger applied to City Clerk Harty yesterday for a refund of his license, but he was refused. He said he did not state whether he would contest or not.

Those Reefers

One more word about the new Boys' Reefers at $2.50, $3.50, $4.50. They are fine. Finer than you have any reason to think. No such Reefers have ever been sold in Omaha for less than four dollars to seven dollars and a half. We mean that. It has taken us almost a year's close searching to be able to offer you these Reefers at the present price. We had to first find the cloths at the right price. And the trimmings. And then we had to find a manufacturer who was willing to make them up at a right price. That accounts for the low prices—that and our desire to sell things cheap. The two-fifty coats are made from heavy, all wool chinchilla of a fine grade. The three-fifty ones are Astrakhan cloth, with quilted linings, storm collar, and are your idea of a seven or eight dollar coat. The four-fifty coats are very fine. Fancy plaid linings made from all wool flannel, heavy, warm, nobbly, and white dressy and stylish, they will stand any kind of rough wear. See these Reefers in our window. Come in and examine them. It is quite impossible to do them justice in print.

Those Reefers

One more word about the new Boys' Reefers at $2.50, $3.50, $4.50. They are fine. Finer than you have any reason to think. No such Reefers have ever been sold in Omaha for less than four dollars to seven dollars and a half. We mean that. It has taken us almost a year's close searching to be able to offer you these Reefers at the present price. We had to first find the cloths at the right price. And the trimmings. And then we had to find a manufacturer who was willing to make them up at a right price. That accounts for the low prices—that and our desire to sell things cheap. The two-fifty coats are made from heavy, all wool chinchilla of a fine grade. The three-fifty ones are Astrakhan cloth, with quilted linings, storm collar, and are your idea of a seven or eight dollar coat. The four-fifty coats are very fine. Fancy plaid linings made from all wool flannel, heavy, warm, nobbly, and white dressy and stylish, they will stand any kind of rough wear. See these Reefers in our window. Come in and examine them. It is quite impossible to do them justice in print.

Open Thursday-Thanksgiving-until 12 o'clock.
