The grumbler was being brushed by the porter down in the front end of the car, and every movement of the boom in the porter's hand was accompanied by a volley of pro-fanity. At the conclusion of one of these startling outbursts a mild-looking old gen-tleman at the other end of the car glanced toward the offender and in the gravest man-rer drawled out this innocent inquiry: "Say, my brother, where do you preach to moreow?" The humor of the question was appreciated by the other occupants of the car, who roared with laughter at the expense of the grumbler. I never saw a man so completely knocked out by a chance blow. The general amusement of the passengers was too much for the grumbler and he made the remainder of the journey out on the platform, Somebody asked who he was. The porter said he knew him well. "Dat man ain't no account anyhow, spite of his airs and grumblings. Der wa'n't nuffin' good nuf for him, sure, and he was traveling deadhead clean through. Barring this nickle he just done gib me. I guess he ain't spent one cent on the trin." done gib me. . on the trip." Old People. require me Arrive. I., started on a duck hunting trip last week that came very near costing him his life. Had it not been for the intelligence of a Newfoundland dog the physician, in uit probability, would have been swallowed in quicksand. Dr. Nu-gent hod not been out long before he sighted a flock of black ducks in the marahes. State of the second seco

The next morning, which was Saturday, he was the first person up, and he made things lively in that car. Pretty soon everybody else was up, and the people were slitting in their seats holding on to grips and umbrellas ready to fly directly the train steamed into the station.

Master-Humph! So you're going to leave us, ch, Jorkins? Page (with military brevity)--Yessir-jine the harmy-drummer boy. Master-Are your measurements all right? Page-Yessir; but doctor said-was pity I wasn't same size round chest as 1 am round stummick!

He-I say, will you be my sweetheart? She-How much pocket money do you get?

"Deucedly clever chap, that fellow Battersby." "Ah, who told you?" "He did."
