Commissioner Gets House Furnishing Firm Well Lined Up.

FURNITURE MEN AT THE EXPOSITION

Chiengo Houses Agree to Make Exhibits and Some of the Most Extensive Send Applications for Space.

County Commissioner William I. Kierstead returned yesterday from Chicago, where he has been for the last two weeks in the Interest of the Transmississippi and International Exposition. Mr. Kierstead is the commissioner for the furniture section of the exposition. He visited the large furniture houses in Chicago and succeeded in interesting them in the exposition and convinced them of the advantage which would accrue to them by making extensive exhibits. He brought formal applications for space from five of these hours and was assured by a number of other large establishments that they would send in their applications for space within a short time ..

The Adams & Westlake Manufacturing mpany, one of the largest establishments in the country, made application for space for three classes of exhibits. In the furni-ture section they will make an elaborate disof brass beds and other high grade furhishings; in the transportation department they will show a large line of railway suplies manufactured by them, such as loco-notive headlights, lanterns, car lighting systems, etc.; they will also make a display of the line of bicycles manufactured by them. Karpen Bros., a firm which Mr. Klerstead mays is the largest manufacturer of uphol-stery goods in the United States, will set up in the furniture section a large booth which they used for the same purpose at the World's fair. This booth is 20x24 feet on floor and Mr. Kierstead says it is one of the most elaborate affairs of its kind he ever saw. It has tall columns at each corper, surmounted by handsome capitals, and the walls are formed of heavy plate glass. the whole being surmounted by a roof of handsome design. The handsome line of goods manufactured by this firm are dis-played to the best advantage in this booth, making a most attractive exhibit. The Toby Furniture company, one of the est known houses in Chicago, has applied space and will make a display of furniture of the most elaborate kind. J. S. Ford, Johnson & Co., the largest manufactory of chairs in this country, is manufactory of chairs in this country, is another firm which gave Mr. Kierstead an application for space. He says they will make a most elaborate display of fancy hairs of the highest grade. The Koch Barber Supply Manufacturing company will make a display of barber chairs and all kinds of barber supplies. Mr. Kierstead did not go to Grand Rapids, Mich., as he originally intended, but says he will go there in January. At that time in each year every manufacturer of furni-ture in the United States makes a display in Grand Rapids for the benefit of buyers for furniture houses, and by going there at that time Mr. Kierstead expects to see the representatives of all the manufacturers in the

While in Chicago Mr. Kierstead was interviewed by a representative of the Record and got into print to the extent of a column in that paper. He talked exposition and ned Nebraska and Omaha in the most eccessful manner, firing a huge bundle of facts involving the state, city and expost tion at the public in the most telling fash-

of the Administration Arch. The roof of the Administration building is being painted a deep, rich green. A great deal of experimenting was done by the architects-in-chief to secure a durable color that would be pleasing to the eye and harmonize with the general color scheme. A number of tests were made and a color se-cured which, it is thought, will not fade but will retain its brilliancy throughout the ex-position. The "ribs" of the roof of this building, which extend from the cornice to the lantern at the summit of the building will be painted a brilliant gold, making a brilliant and striking contrast on the deep green background. The ornamental metal work which forms the "corners" on this roof

The roof is going on the Manufactures building at a rapid rate. The sheeting which is tongued and grooved and covers the entire roof with close joints, is about two-thirds finished. The roof covering, a patented material known as rubberoid, is being but on, and the entire roof will be completed within a few days. The windows and doors for this building are in the build-ing and are being painted. The window and door frames are being finished and these openings will soon be closed, enclosing the

The engineering force of the exposition management was engaged in setting the stakes for the piles and employes of the pile driving contractor were engaged in preparing piles for driving. Mr. Moore stated that the lumber for the Government building has been ordered from a local dealer with the distinct understanding that no delay of any kind in the delivery of material would be tolerated. He said work on the building would be started Monday morning, as it is expected that the piling contractor will be far enough along by that time to give

The Grant Paving company, which has the ontract for putting in the concrete foundations for the boilers and engines in the Power building, at the north end of the bluff tract, has commenced getting its material on the ground. The grading for this building is about completed.

The trusses for the dome of the Nebraska outlding are now all in place and the workmen are engaged in putting on the sheetto enclose the dome and putting in the windows which are to be in the Wants to Show Old Ironsides. Arthur W. Marvin of Philadelphia writes o the Department of Concessions regarding spectacular production which he desires to install on the exposition grounds. He calls the affair "The Constitution" and says it is a performance in the nature of "The Last Days of Pompeil" and similar productions depicting the experience of the United States frigate Constitution in the Bay of Al-giera, showing a battle between the frigate and a number of Algerian pirates. The production of this spectacle requires 600 people according to Mr. Marvin, and he suggests giving a performance in the afternoon and another in the evening.

It is not considered probable that a performance of this nature will be granted concession on the exposition grounds, as the policy of the department has been to exble time for their production.

Rejects All Bids. When the Nebraska Exposition board convened yesterday two bids were reported by the secretary on the staff work. These were opened and found to be very indefinite, the bidders explaining that the specific tions were so loosely drawn that they were unable to bid intelligently. The bids were rejected and the architects, Craddock & Mc-Donald, were instructed to draw a new set of specifications covering the staff work in such a way that bidders could make their figures to advantage. Two bids for plastering the interior of the building were received, but were considered too high and were rejected. The secretary was insuructed to readvertise for bids, to be opened at the next meeting of the commission, December 7.

Sherman's Umbrella.

The Department of Concessions has been notified by A. Lundin, one of the parties who has been prominent in the negotiations for a concession for Sherman's umbrella, that all arrangements have been completed with the construction company which is to erect the machine and that all parties will be in Omaha shortly to commence the work of eced with the Hearing. The garbage investigation, which has been hanging before the Advisory board for three weeks, again failed to materialize yesterday. I. J. Dunn, who is the complainan in the case, was not present and neither was the attorney for the garbage contractor, so the matter was not taken up.

The only business that came before the board was the subject of next year's printing and stationery supply contract. Secretary Coburn stated that, in his opinion, better result would be obtained if no annual contract was made. He advised that the various departmeats should submit requisitions for such supplies as they needed at regular intervals. The board could then secure competitive bid for exactly the supplies needed, and the abuses that had developed in connection with the present system would be eliminated. This view was generally approved by the members of the board, but as the present contrac loes not expire until January 1 no definite action was taken.

FIFTH WARD NOW THE FIELD OF ACTION

Houses Along Burdette and Sixteenth Streets Receive Attention from the Two Thieves Who Elude the Police.

The two marauders who have made the laytime a season of terror to the bouseholders of the Sixth ward have been heard of in the neighborhood of Sixteenth and Burdette streete. On Monday night men answering their description entered the dwelling of Robert A. Finley, 1612 Burdette street, and carefully searched the first floor. They broke open a book case, in which was contained a considerable amount of money and obtained from it some jewelry of small value and other trinkets. The money was not discovered. In the kitchen they prepared themselves a meal, to which they did apparent justice. They retired through a window, which they had broken open, with out disturbing the family.

The house adjoining on the east, occupied by W. L. Fisher, was next entered and in the come manner. (The men ransacked the lower floor and secured all the portable property in sight. They visited the sleeping rooms, where they got a pocketbook con-taking $8. They seemed careless of discovery and in their investigations upstairs made so much noise that the family was aroused. The burglars made their escape and in their flight left a pie and other eatables, which were later discovered to belong to the pantry of their former host. Two attempts have been made on the residence of Mrs. L. A. Ruth, 808 North Sixteenth street, but in both instances were scared away by the occup The first took place Monday night of week, when the men tried to force open a door, but desisted when they heard some one moving around in the house. The second effort to effect an entrance was Tuesday night, when they tried to force up a rear window by means of a "jimmy." Mrs. Ruth heard them and, running to the rear of the house, was again successful in defeating the designs of the miscreants. The window frame was splintered in several places where the men had used their ilmmies.

The visits of these men have caused general uneasiness in the minds of citizene of the north part of the city. They state that great attention is being given to the condition of doors and windows and that the late caller, without excellent credentials, will be called to close account before he crosses the threshold.

Last night the north side housebreakers visioned themselves at the expense of S. D. Parsons, a butcher at 509 North Sixteenth street. Entrance was obtained through of cack window, which had been broken suf sciently to allow a boy or small man was through. The articles missed were four chickens, two cans of oysters and a side of bacon.

CHURCHES AND THANKSGIVING. Knox Presbyterian Begins Early_Ad-

The Knox Presbyterian church people commenced their Thanksgiving work last night. It was the occasion of the regular weekly prayer meeting and most of the members of the church attended. Services were held as usual, ofter which a committee was appointed to distribute food and clothing to the poor of the north end of the city. The supplies that will be distributed this morning consist of a wagonload of provisions left at the church last night. Quite a quantity will be taken out this morning. Most of it is or women and children.

Police Judge and Justices of the Peace Are Busy. Assistant County Attorney Winter occu-

pled the greater portion of Judge Gordon's time yesterday afternoon in the trial of twenty-one women of the town who are charged with vagrancy under the state law. The trial will be made a test case in the way now being waged by the police against the women of the east end who persist in roboing their visitors.

Lizzie Mann was bound over to the district court in the sum of $700 on the charge of robbing Henry W. Dunn of $35. The charge is larceny from the person. Carrie and Arthur Smith, charged with robbing C. R. Adams of $26, were each bound over to the district court yesterday in Jus-tice Cockerell's court in bonds of $700. Ada Graves, who was also arrested in connection with the theft, was discharged, as there was not sufficient evidence to bind her over. The cas is the result of a test instigated by the 23 police, who assert that, on account of the 24 leniency of Judge Gordon in dealing with this class of criminals, that no convictions are made in the police court. Upon the success of the present movement the police say they will cause other cases of a like nature to be brought before the justices. In de-fault of furnishing bail, the two prisoners will be confined to the county jail until their trial comes up. Ella Mitchell and Sadie Watts were ar rested for petty larceny on the complaint of William Watts. He claims that while he was visiting at their rooms he was robbed of and gloves, his means of cheer and warmth. Blanche Bradley was charged with being

The Biggest Thanksgiving Day Game. Ottawa University of Ottawa, Kansas, will play Wesleyan in Omaha Thanksgiving day. For ten years there has been a game in Omaha that day. This year will be the greatest game of all. Ottawa comes from southern Kansas, very near the Indian Territory line. They succeeded to the foot ball glory of Baker University and for years played anybody and everybody without losing a game. They peat the Denver Athletic club on their own grounds three years in succession and wrested the state championship from Kansus so many times that Kansas has since re-fused to play them, claiming that they were professionals. Wesleyan on her own grounds will prove their equal. It will be the gala day of the year. The usual tally-ho parties are being arranged.

Give thanks today for the hundred and one little blessings that came to you one way or another during the past year. You were too busy to give thanks for them, or perhaps to notice them at the time. Give thanks, for instance, that you weren't elected president last November to please a hungry mob of office seekers to make your life miserable for the next four years. Give thanks that you aren't obliged to go on the lecture platform and say something new everytime-besides having to eat cough lozengers three times a day for your voice. Give thanks that you are alive these hard times. Give thanks that you haven't had to burn much coal so far this Winter and give thanks to the coal trust for not raising the price to forty dollars a ton. Give thanks for your health. Give thanks for your wealth. If you have got more health than wealth give thanks for those who have wealth haven't always got health and health is better than wealth when there's a nice fat turkey in the oven getting brown. While you are in a thankful mood give thanks that there is such a store as The Nebraska where you can buy a good Kersey Overcoat for $4.50, and a good serviceable Ulster for $3.75. There's lots of things to be thankful for when you come to think about it, and not the least of these is the new suits which we will open up tomorrow oress and by street wigns.

The voting contest has assumed such large roportions and the names of candidates have ecome so numerous that the managers deem it advisable to make this announcement Commencing in Monday's issue of The Bee only the names of those who are credited with forty votes or more will be published, but all ballots will be carefully counted just the same, and when the candidate receives the requisite number her name will appear in just as comfortable.

December 31 at 6 p. m. is the date for the losing of the voting contest for Queen
