GOOD PROGRESS IN NEW MEXICO. Irrigation and Mining Are Developing the Territory Rapidly. with irrigation and mining both undergoing great development in the territory, the people are feeling very much encouraged for the future. A great deal of this development is being done by Colorado men, who are at work on the mines and are watching the progress of agriculture under irrigation. A number of capitalists have been engaged for a time quietly picking up claims, locating oppositions. These four cases were to test what is known as the Hinckley law, passed last winter, which prevents appeal to the supreme court when the amount of judgment is less than $75, and the court holds this law good, but holds also that the costs are a part of the judgment, and costs exceed $75 the case is oppositively up claims, locating oppositions. for a time quietly picking up claims, locating appealable, mill sites, etc., and have even gone so far as to gather in the agricultural lands along Rer river and lay out irrigation ditches with a view to carrying forward several gram.)—A change occurred today in the re-chesets. I. L. Merrill of Butte, Mont., and others, and the likelihood that the Lone Star mine will also be sold for big money of Colorado men has seemed to put new life into the camp. The fact that the iron King mine has also fallen into the hands of Denver people only accentuates this fact, and everybody believes that the time is now not far distant when the Cochita will be provided with that which the district has long needed —a mammoth mill to treat the thousands troop thousands of tons of $12 to $20 ore now exposed on the dumps in that camp.

Ine heavy exports of wheat, with the re-year. The shipments from other pures have also been heavy, and nothing appears to change former estimates of nuropean needs.

Cern also continues to go abroad in quantities almost as large as last year, when all past records were broken, but the price has slightly declined.

Cotton declined to 5,31 cents, the lowest point for many years, with scarcely any indications of speculative effort. More has come into sight this month than during the same time in 1894 from the larges crop ever raised, while takings by northern and point clotas and some other staple stoods are at the lowest quotations ever known. In such conditions weakness is natural, although extreme estimates of yield are not by some entirely credited. The demand for goods from the south is larger since the removal of embartness and recent reductions in prices have stimulated larger transactions by dealers, but stocks head by the mills are still heavy. With 1.951.90 pieces of print cloths on hand, against 2.212.00 a year ago, the output of 2.000.00 pieces beyond consumption last year mas been a heavy load ever since.

Billets are also weaker at Phisburg, at $15. Expectation of lower prices tends to produce them at a time when new business is naturally small, and the falls are working mostly on old orders with buyers impatient for deliveries, Other large orders are held back in plates by inshibility of the works to deliver in the time desired, in bars, agricultural and railway manufacturing causes a heavy demand at Chicago, iron being preferred to steel, and thin sheets are also in better demand, but bars are a shade lower at Pittsburg and both wire and cut nails. NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Bradstreet's Financial Review tomorrow will say:

Although speculation has been mainly in the hands of speculators, the undertone was apparently quiet throughout the week's trading on the Stock exchange. The holiday on Thursday created an indisposition to trads and resulted on Wednesday last in more or less selling to obtain limited profits on the bull side. On Friday the market, after an early spell of hesitation, with some eight hearish news, developed strength on bear covering and closed be ter. There has been no very severe pressure and white, except in a few stocks, decided support was lacking, it gave the impression that liquidation is over and that stocks are in strong hands.

The approaching meeting of congress is regarded as the next reculative factor of impertance and it is concluded that large financial increases are waiting till the session begins and the attitude of the national lawmakers on the Cuban question is developed. country merchants have been buying with comparative freedom.

The eastern cotton goods industry continues depressed. Consumers evidently do not intend to tuy extensively until they believe the prices of raw cotton is ready to advance. Competition from southern mills, more particularly over-production by manufacturers who produce a single staple, underlies existing large stocks and the heaviness of prices. Converters and manufacturers of common varus are situated underlies existing large stocks and the heaviness of prices. Converters and manufacturers of common yarns are situated relatively more favorable. Other lines representing seasonable distribution are manufacturers of woolens, clothing shoes and jobbers of fancy groceries. At Philadelphia there is a check in demand for products in leading textile lines and arrangements are making to run on shorter time.

Iron and steel have not been in as active demand as expected and are lower, notwithstanding furnaces and mills are supplied with orders sufficient to carry them well into next year. A favorable feature is found in advances in wages of operatures in various industrial lines.

In case Great Britain were engaged in the still ties, a diplomat pointed out, it would be practically impossible for France to send a message over any cable which did not pass through British territory, except that which consider the send of the consent would have to be obtained.

LOVERING'S RECORD.

The evidence showed that Captain Lovering had been connected with the United States military service for twenty-five years and that his record had been a good one. A number of the Gritish company interested in the cable of the officers came out plainly and would not vote for a finding of guilty or giving a humiliating punishment. It was argued that the first British course a recommendation from the Dale authorities to the United Hammond's record when placed by the side of Captain Lovering's was of such a character to large a cable. A majority is conclusive in a court-martial finding and so, after the fact of guilt was established, the only thing to be considered was the measure of punishment. The officers had made up their minde that Hammond's career as a soldier was not creditable, and this weighed strongly in bringing them to an agreement as to the punishment to be meted out to Lovering.
