President Wattles said he did not understand exactly the idea Mr. Rosewater bad in view in securing the use of these grounds, but presumed it, was in connection with the mobilization of the militia of the country, a scheme upon which the Promotion depart-ment has been working vigorously ever since the idea was suggested in an article appearing in the The Bcc last March outlining the scheme. The old quarters on the reservation. be made to answer very well for quarters the state or national troops, and the land constituting the reservation would afford camping ground for a large body of troops, while the vacent land in that vicinity rould allow of an encampment of a large Buildings Being Manufactured. The Mines and Mining building will be the third of the big exposition buildings to books among the schools of the transmissisbe covered with staff. The staging for the staff men is being put in place and the ornamental castings will soon be placed on the outer walls of the building. This work can be done as well in freezing weather as at any other time, the only drawback being that the joints and nailholes cannot be olctures. The books in the library will be "pointed up" in freezing weather, neither distributed according to the same plan, the "pointed up" in freezing weather, neither can the plaster be put on the plain surfaces, but as the putting on of the orna-mental stucco is by far the greatest part of the work, the other details give the staff contractors little uneasiness. Smith & Eastman, the contractors who have the staff work on all of the main buildings except the Liberal Arts, have a large force of men at work in their new shop in rapid rate. The molds for all of the build ings have now been completed and the work of casting can be pushed with the greatest stapidity. The making of models and mold. is slow work and cannot be pushed suc cessfully, but these preliminaries are all disposed of and the finished casts are being piled up inside the Mines building at an astonishing rate.

All through the day there is almost a con tinuous procession of workmen carrying the completed casts out of the workshop and standing them against the walls or posts of the building, where they smoke like a cast-ing of iron fresh from the mold. These casts are "green," not having dried out. They have "set" and are hard, but there is considerable water in them and this soon freezes until the cast is like a piece of ice. Mr. Smith, sr., member of the firm of Smith & Eastman, has been in the staff and stucco business for about thirty years, having in that time finished the interior of a large number of important public build-ings, among them being the immense headquarters of the State, War and Navy departments of the federal government at Washington, one of the largest buildings of its kind in the world. He says that the freezof the staff casts does not injure them in the least, as they will slowly dry out of the live stock department for the Ne-when the weather is warm enough, and they braska commission, is attending meetings of can be handled just as well when fruzen as at any other time, the only disagreeable difference about handling them when in that ment. condition being that they are like so many pleces of ice and are consequently very cold. MAYOR JONES ANSWERS GREEN. Kansas City's Executive Promises

Omahans a Meeting There. Mayor James M. Jones of Kansas City has written the following reply to W. H. Green, chairman of the committee having in charge the arrangements for the trip of the Nebraska delegation to Houston, Tex., to attend the fleep water convention, the mayor's letter bearing date of December 1:

bearing date of December 1:

Your letter received this morning and referred to the secretary of the Commercial club, who called a meeting of the officials of that organization this afternoon, and they will write you their decision tomorrow as to the date of entertaining your committee. They have an engagement for the Saturday night that you expected to be here, and would rather entertain you one day the following week, but they are going to see if their engagement cannot be set for some other date. I hope a date may be arranged that will be satisfactory to you all. You will hear from them fully as soon as their decision is reached.

The letter of Mr. Green to Mayor Jones

The letter of Mr. Green to Mayor Jones called the attention of the chief executive of the city on the Kaw to the terse reply of Secretary Clendenning of the Commercial club to the request of Mr. Green that ar braska party an opportunity to meet with some of the people of Kansas City and in-terest them in the Transmississippi Exposi-tion. KEYSTONE STATE MAY TAKE PART. Active Workers Negotiate for Penasylvania's Representation. F. F. Ford, who is in Pennsylvania in the interest of the Department of Exhibits. writes from Philodelphia that he has had a number of interviews with John H. Converse. president of the Philadelphia Manufacturers club and also president of the Baltimore Locomotive works. He reports that Mr Converse has manifested considerable interest in the exposition and has promised to make an exhibit of locomotives and other railway supplies manufactured by his company, and has also indicated the steps to be taken to enlist the interest of the Manufac-turers' club in the matter of making an exhibit. Mr. Converse has also promised to use his influence with the governor of Penn.

anticipates little difficulty in organizing a movement that will result in the appointment of a commission similar to the one now n active operation in New Jersey.

An exhibit of models of the battleships of the United States navy is one of the exhibits which Mr. Ford reports he has every reason to believe will be secured for the exposition. He says he has had several interviews with the head of the great shipbuilding firm of William Cramp & Sons, who has promised to get together the models of these ships which were exhibited at the World's fair and send them to Omaha as an interesting exhibit to the people of the inland states. A collection of models of ocean liners is also promised the International Navigation company of Books for the Boys and Girls. It is the intention of the Woman's board to install a library of children's books in the Girls' and Boys' building on the exposition grounds, and every author of a child's book will be asked to contribute one copy of such book to the library. These will serve to amuse the children and educate the parents in the literature best suited for children. At the close of the exposition it is the intention sippi states in the same manner as the pic-tures in the children's building will be dis-tributed, that is, by awarding one picture to the school which contributes the greatest amount of money per pupil, based on the en-rollment; another picture to the school next in order, and so on to the end of the list o details to be arranged later.

Working on the Women's Puzzle. Six men and women of Lincoln have formed themselves into a club and will attempt to win the medal offered for the correct solution of the historical puzzle which is issued by the Works's board. The puzzle was printed in The Ree several weeks the big Mines building, and are turning out ago and is a concise history of each of the the big pieces of ornamental work at a transmississippi states with the names of important personages and events left blank, the puzzle being to supply these blanks with the correct data. The competition is open to everybody and copies of the puzzle may be had by sending stamps to Secretary F. M Ford at exposition headquarters.

> Maps for Distribution. To arouse interest and induce the school hildren to contribute to the fund for the Girls' and Boys' building the Woman's board has secured a large number of sectional maps of the United States, which will be distributed over the transmississippi region under a plan which will induce the influx of pennies to the uilding fund. The maps are about $x12 nehes in size and will bear the imprint of he exposition in a neat inscription.

These boxes are 4x6 feet in size and are let into the fence in such a way that the gate keeper can see persons or teams ap preaching from any direction. ACCUSED OF FRAUDULENTLY USING MAILS

Inited States Authorities Follow Up an Exposure Published in The Bee by Arresting the Principal in the Case.

Following The Bee's exposure a couple of weeks ago of the manner in which the socalled American Business college of this city was transacting business Frank J. Vanden berg, who appears to be the president, faculty, business manager and in fact the whole thing in himself, was arrested vesterday morning by Postoffice Inspector St Clair on the charge of using the United States mail for the promotion of a fraudulent scheme. He was at once arraigned before United States Commissioner Anderson for preliminary hearing but as he did not seem to be ready he was given until this morning in which

o prepare and secure an attorney. Vandenberg was a very humble individual when the complaint was read and he was asked to make a plea. He said he was not guilty and intimated that he was the victim of a huge conspiracy in which the United States acted the part of the base and deepdyed villain. At the same time he was so certain of his innocence that he would be willing to go to jail, he said, until he was cleared, if it was not for the fact that he was n poor health and he was afraid confinement night bring his career to a sudden termina-

"I do not think there is any danger of hat," answered the United States commissioner, "the county jail is a nice warm place, especially in the winter time, and I do not think that your health would be menaced.

Since the racket failed, the college presilent then took another tack and said he did not care what happened to him. Al though he had conducted an honest and honorable business for seven long years, he had incurred the enmity of the United States and was being hounded to death by its paid hirelings. Being only a poor, lonely indi-vidual, he caw no chance of winning out against the government, and consequently he did not care what was done with him. "Did you not serve seventeen mooths of that seven years' honorable business career n the Kansas penitentiary for this same offense?" asked Postoffice Inspector St. Clair.

... THIS FRIDAY -morning at nine o'clock we will let loose those record-breaking five dollar suits. No; they are not five dollar suits. They are eight dollar, nine dollar, ten dollar suits, depending on where you see them outside of here. When you see them you will wonder how we can sell them for five dollars and make a profit, but we do. The Nebraska notion of profits is reckoned by dimes. These suits are strictly all wool. They are made from a handsome dark cheviot in the new style invisible plaid. They are faced back to the armpits with the same cloth. They are lined with good substantial Italian cloth, nothing fancy. They are cut in the fashionable 4 button sacks. They look well, are made well, will fit well and wear well and-well, they're five dollars; that's all.

and the ink that marked this selling price on the coat ticket is scarsely dry, so to speak, for that shipment reached us only today. Marked $4.00 in plain figures. Lifeless figures-quite true-yet powerful enough to cross the advertizing liar. We are heartily willing to be investigated upon that claim. If some advertising liar offers a ours is not better it is surely not inferior. That we are willing to

If some windy advertisers, bragging about being the only and the greatest public benefactors, in this glorious land, and including Cut-Off lake, also autocrats of values, and a shining example of ceaseless wonders, will kindly prove to the public that they do sell a better overcoat for $4.00, then we agree to acknowledge superiority

These overcoats are made in sack style, good and long, velvet colcotton fillings, which naturally makes the cloth firmer than a kind of cloth recommended by some as being 7705-10,000 pure wool or any other percentage, that will puzzle even a weaver who grew

And your money back as soon as you ask for it. We don't want it unless you are satisfied that we deserve it.
