

PEARSE HEADS THE WORKERS

Pioneers to Arrange Preliminaries for the Teachers' Congress.

RESULT OF LAST NIGHT'S MASS MEETING

Attendance Limited, but the Outlines of the Project Are Drawn and Another Meeting Called for Tonight.

On account of the inclemency of the weather last night there was a small attendance at the mass meeting at the Commercial club, called for the purpose of arranging for a Transmississippi Educational congress in this city during the exposition.

After a conference with the officers of our association, I am authorized to advise you that we will waive our arrangements for the evening of December 11 and will gladly do our part toward making your visit to Kansas City pleasant.

Mr. Rosewater suggested that it would be well for the State university faculty to start the ball rolling by passing resolutions in favor of the congress. This resolution could be followed by other resolutions in the State Educational society, which meets this month, and then similar resolutions should be presented to other state bodies.

Mr. Rosewater also said that he had no doubt that the business organizations would give the same assurances of aid to the present scheme as they had given when an effort was being made to get the National Educational association.

STORM PUTS A STOP TO WORK

Men Unable to Make Headway White

Work on the exposition grounds is practically at a standstill today and the soft mantle of fleecy snowflakes settles quietly down over the bare timbers and partially completed buildings.

The wind whistles through the timbers and drifts the snow in huge piles undisturbed save by a few lonely pedestrians who wearily plodded through the snow underfoot, while the icy particles which filled the air lodged in the eyes and hair and seemed to possess the penetrating power of an X ray.

Inside the big buildings all is covered with snow, which settled down quietly, covering everything to a depth of a couple of inches. Not a carpenter worked yesterday on any of the buildings except the Auditorium, and only about a dozen men were working there.

KANSAS CITY WILL GREET THEM

Commercial Club to Entertain the Nebraska Delegates. Kansas City will join with the other cities along the route of the Nebraska delegation which will start for Kansas tonight to perform the noble duty of lending a deep water carriage to be held in Houston, December 6 to 11, and preach the gospel of the Transmississippi Exposition to all the people along the line of route.

A letter received by W. H. Green, chairman of the committee of arrangements, from E. M. Cieslinski, secretary of the Commercial club of Kansas City, indicates that the club has laid aside other matters which were arranged for Saturday night, December 11, and will entertain the Nebraska delegation and give the speakers accompanying the delegation an opportunity to explain to the people of Kansas City the plan and scope of the exposition and discuss them to the importance of being represented in the exposition which is designed to show to the world the resources and products of the great west.

I am this day in receipt of a letter from Hon. J. M. Jones, mayor of Kansas City, enclosing a communication from you, dated November 30, and also a copy of my letter to you, dated November 25. From the tone of your letter to Mayor Jones I infer that you are under the impression that it was the intention of the Commercial club to be discourteous to the Omaha delegation. If such is your understanding I wish to correct it immediately and to do so in an emphatic manner.

ST. LOUIS MAKES ITS START

Mound City is Coming to the Omaha Exposition Next Year.

INDUSTRIES TO BE REPRESENTED

Resolutions Adopted at a Meeting of Representative Citizens—Business Men's League Requested to Take Charge.

St. Louis merchants and manufacturers are beginning to wake up to the necessity of being creditably represented at the Transmississippi and International Exposition in 1898. R. W. Richardson is at present in that city working in the interest of the exposition and has succeeded in getting many of the leading men of St. Louis to look into the matter. The first important step was taken Wednesday night at a meeting called to consider the matter. Of this meeting the Globe-Democrat contains the following report:

A meeting of merchants and manufacturers was held at the Furniture Board of Trade headquarters in the Century building last night to consider the question of making displays at the Transmississippi and International Exposition at Omaha, Neb., next year. L. J. Kline was called to the chair and Tom L. Cannon of the Manufacturers' association acted as secretary.

The Merchants' exchange was represented by C. H. Sampson, Chris Sharpe and H. R. Whitmore; the Business Men's League by Frank Galenick; the paint, oil and drug dealers by G. P. Murrill and M. H. Stearns; Implement Dealers' association by John Camp; Merchants' Transportation association by E. S. Lester; Furniture Board of Trade by J. A. J. Shultz; etc.

Mr. Richardson exhibited a letter from the Hon. J. B. Browning, secretary of the Transmississippi and International Exposition, in which the concern had decided to make a fine display of the merchandise of Chicago. C. H. Sampson was called upon and he expressed a desire to hear from representatives of the merchants and manufacturers of St. Louis.

Mr. Richardson expressed the belief that only general features could be discussed and suggested that the matter be given into the hands of committees. J. A. Shultz said that his firm had already secured space in the exposition and invited other firms to join.

Frank Galenick said that the City of St. Louis could not afford to be without representation in the exposition, and that the business men must see to it that the city was properly represented.

Frank Galenick offered a resolution that the city be represented at the Omaha exposition and that the merchants and manufacturers be urged and invited to place exhibits, and that the city or state be represented by a suitable building to be used as headquarters.

This, however, was withdrawn when the following resolution was offered by H. R. Whitmore: "Resolved in the Transmississippi and International Exposition to give the opportunity for the manufacturing and other business interests of St. Louis to reach the trade of the great and growing city of Chicago."

Resolved that we heartily recommend the merchants and manufacturers of St. Louis to exhibit at this exposition and to appeal to the public mind that they have already secured space in the exposition and invited other firms to join.

Resolved that the city of St. Louis be represented at the Omaha exposition and that the merchants and manufacturers be urged and invited to place exhibits, and that the city or state be represented by a suitable building to be used as headquarters.

VANDENBERG IS HELD FOR TRIAL.

President of Fraudulent Business College in the Tails. Frank J. Vandenberg, president and manager of the fraudulent American Business college, was held to the federal grand jury in the sum of $500 by United States Commissioner Anderson yesterday afternoon on the charge of using the United States mails in the furtherance of his fraudulent plan.

The hearing was not a very long one. Postoffice Inspector Sinclair produced a letter which showed the representations made by Vandenberg in his efforts to secure correspondence students. Other letters indicated that these representations had not been carried out after Vandenberg had received money from his victims.

Vandenberg was unable to give bonds for his appearance and was therefore remanded to jail.
