fered, which sold just about steady. A considerable proportion of the receipts consisted of butchers' stock, about a dozen loads of cows and heifers being on sale. The demand was good and the early ar-rivals met with ready sale at firm prices. As is invariably the rule on a Saturday there was very little doing in the feeder division; in fact there was very little to do with. Such cattle as were to be had sold at just about steady prices. amount, as they have to pay the freight. Hardware people are very much inter-ested in the rumors of negotiations looking to the consolidation of the wire nail and wire rod interests. To effect such a combination the seven big factories must all be brought in, and in addition a large number of small concerns. The small manufacturers appear to be the people most difficult to deal with and the collapse of the wire nail pool a year are was due to their action.

and the collapse of the wire nall pool a year ago was due to their action. Christmas business has started out well in Omaha and gives promise of exceeding all previous records. Omaha jobbers have put in large stocks of holiday goods in an-ticipation of a large demand, and so far they have not been disappointed. The peo-ple in the country have more money to hey have not been disappointed. The peo-ple in the country have more money to pend on holiday goods than during the ast three years and retailers knowing that act have and still are buying freely. Retail Implement Dealers of Nebraska and

Retail implement Dealers of Nebraska and Iowa will meet in convention at Council Bluffs January 12 to 15. Between 300 and 500 dealers are expected to be present at this meeting. The meeting of last year, which was also held at the Bluffs, was largely attended and the interest in the work in hand has rather increased than decreased during the year. Prominent jobbers and manufacturers from all sections of the country will be present. The Chicago Journal of Commerce says that something like a permanent trade stimulation has manifested liself in Ne-braska, and commercial agencies have made a special report on the fact that jobbing centers are finding sales easy and collec-tions prompt. Omahs trade has shown a great influx of steady orders. For some years consumers of hardware have been pursuing a very conservative system and the demands now coming forward are heavy. While the recent rush is practically over, trade is still active, and in several metal lines manufacturers are yet behind in shipping of the winter season usually withous and there bear on the fact in the beard over, trade is still active as the beard metal lines manufacturers are yet behind in shipping of the winter season usually in shipping orders to leading jobbers. The coming of the winter season usually witnesses a large increase in the berging nulsance with which business men have to contend. The business man is beset from morning until night with people who want him to buy tickets to this or that ball or entertainment, or contribute goods for this or that fair or charitable institution, or join this or that movement for some one else's benefit. In not a few instances these de-mands amount to little more than black-mail as the business man is promised the patronage of the begging organization in a way that carries with it a threat to boy-cott him if he fails to comply with the de-mands made upon him. Work is progressing as rapidly as could eral merchandise shall become very heavy in the next few months long exchange must prove a poor investment in view of the outgo of merchandise the last few months. London advices during the week have reported a very heavy American demand in that market for high grade railroad honds. The same demand had existed in the New York market with a very limited supply, which was largely furnished for foreign account as well as in London. This would indicate a further heavy transfer to this side of the water of the highest-priced railroad securities in sufficient volume to have quite an appreciable effect upon the exchange barane.
