PRESENTS FOR THE PRINCESSES. Future Queen of England Celebrates Her Fifth Birthday.

(Copyright, 1897, by the Associated Press.) LONDON, Dec. 4.—All the members of the family of the prince of Wales and several of the friends of the heir apparent have been at Sandringham throughout the past week, where the birthday of the princess of Wales was celebrated on Wednesday last with great magnificence.

The princess, who is now only five years of age, is the youngest of the royal family. She was born on the 21st of June, 1892, at Sandringham.

The celebrations of the princess's birthday were of a most interesting character. The princess was presented with a number of beautiful gifts, and a large number of guests were entertained at a banquet given in her honor.

The princess's birthday is celebrated with great pomp and circumstance throughout the royal family. It is a day of great festivity and joy.
