IMPLEADS BROKER F. T. TRUE THIS TIME

Amends the Petition Along the Lines Suggested in Judge Green's Decision and Asks an Injunction on It.

A new turn was taken yesterday in the case of J. J. Shea against the city council and heads of departments. These who believed the case was adjudicated by the decision handed down by Judge Green on Wednesday received a shock when Mr. Shea filed at amended petition and a motion for a rehear-H. H. Huffaker and daughter of Silver City ing. Judge Green's decision did not cover the points that were considered most vita by Shea and the city, and Shea's application for an injunction was refused largely on technical grounds. In his amended petition Shoe cures a number of the defects pointed out by the court and gets at the merit the controversy between him and the city Judge Green held that Shea could not main tain his suit against the warrant and bond holders for the reason that he had not cite them to appear in court and defend. Pinney Recention Ensily Leads th List of Functions. The social event that took precedence over all others during the week was the large party and reception given by Mr. Bert Pin ney and Miss Lucille Pinney on Friday ever ing. The young people had planned the event with sufficient care to make it as eminent success and of sufficient proportion to include their large list of friends i Council Bluffs and Omaha. The Pinney res dence was entirely too small for the tion and the large and beautiful Arcanu hall was engaged for the purpose. To room was handsomely decorated with flow ers and foliage. Evergreens and smila sprays were twined in artistic confusion t soften all of the angularities of the hal and in effect to transform it into a natura bower. The main archways outlines wer hidden with smilax and evergreens, in: which carnations and roles of all colors were carclessly thrust. The chandeliers were his den in the same manner, and the light glowed softly upon a background of beauti ful tints of nature's richest offerings. At tistic little booths were fixed up from which the coffee and punch were served. The out-lines of these booths were hidden wit smilax and evergreen entwined with carn tions. The orchestra platform was bank on all sides with gigantic palins and ferr that were made to bear heavy burdens c cut flowers, concealing the musicians froe view from all parts of the hall. A distinc-tive feature of the reception was the pres ence of professional waiting maids and liv cried servants. Mr. Pinney and Miss P ney received their gues's just within the main archway. Miss Pinney was assisted by the Misses Schoentgen, Nellie Dodge, Flora Brewer, Eleanor Montgemery and Mrs. Judge McGee. Mr. Pinney was assisted by J. L. Paxton, Jr., of Omaha and Thero-Jossleyn. The guests numbered nearly 300 For the accommodation of those from Omaha who did not use carriages a special motor train was provided which returned to Omaha at 12:30. Document Covers the Biennium Ending June 30 Last.

ESTIMATES OF THE EXPECTED REVENUE Thinks that with the Greatest Care. the Figures Will Cover the

Expenditures the Next

Two Years.

DES MOINES. Dec. 11 .- (Special Telegram.)-State Auditor McCarthy's biennial report was issued today for the biennium ending June 30 last. It shows that there were outstanding on June 30 $447,500 of state warrants, nearly all of which represented the state debt. There had been expended in the biennial period $4,731,764, of which about $280,000 was represented by salaries, mileage and employes of the legislature during its two sessions. The auditor makes a careful estimate of the expected revenue for the next biennial period, and assuming that the state levy for the first six months of 1899 will be on the basis of 2 mills, he reaches the figure of $4.011,000. Against this he presents an estimate of expenditures for the same period, which he finds will be $3,784,348. This will leave a balance of $225,000 in favor of the state to be applied to payment of the present debt. Mr. McCarthy declares that his estimates have been made with the greatest care and he is confident they will cover every expense of the state. In short, he believe that with no increase of taxes in 1898 and a decrease of 7-10 of a mill in 1899 the debt can be reduced about 60 per cent by July 1, 1899. During the last biennial period the total receints of cash by the treasury were $4,414,234. Of this amount $2,752,567 was raised by the state tax-levy of 2.5 mills in 1895 and 2.7 mills in 1896. The balance was from fees, refunds, moneys paid by counties to the state institutions, etc.

In the case of the State against Suel J. Spaulding, defaulting treasurer of the Pharnmission, a new turn was taken to When Spaulding was on trial under indictment for embezzlement it was con tended that he was not a state employe but merely an employe of the commission and responsible to it rather than to the state; that he had been wrongfully indicted as a state officer, and therefore was not On this purely technical ground the court instructed a verdict of not guilty, and all possibility of criminal prosecution was at an end. Now, in the case to compel his ndsmen to make the state good for the $13,000 he stole it develops that the statutes authorize the pharmacy commission to create by-laws and appoint assistant officers, that Spaulding was elected treasurer in accordance with a by-law adopted by the commis sion in pursuance of this delegation of au thority, and that therefore as the state main tained, he was in effect a state officer. point is a strong one for the state, but i will not help put Spaulding behind the bar-He is now running a drug store in this city and having once been in jeopardy, is safe for all time from liability for his acts. bondsmen are C.
