HIGHWAYMAN IS IN CUSTODY

Footpad Caught by an Intended Victim on West Farnam Street.

BENSON'S STRUGGLE WITH A ROBBER

Resistance Brings Shots from Which the Plucky Hostler Narrowly Escapes, but Holds On to His Man.

Another attempted holdup occurred at Thirty-sixth and Farnam streets about 7 o'clock best night. Nels Benson was the man who had the experience and was quick and lucky ecough to overpower the robber he was roughly grazed by two balls, one raising a lump on his head and another bruissame man that held up Chauncey Wilcox on the preceding night.

Mr. Benron is employed in the stable of T. J. Rogers, at Park avenue and Pucific streets, and was on his way home from work. At the corner of Thirty-sixth and Farnam streets he met a stranger coming south on Thirty-eixth. He paid no particular attention to him until the man pushed a revolver into his face and demanded his money. Benson three him heavily to one side and sprang upon him. The revolver was discharged, just missing Banson's head. Benson was then able to the man until a crowd from a passing street car made the capture secure. The robber was taken into a neighboring grocery atore until the arrival of the patrol wagon.

Hendrick's version is that Benson tripped him up and assaulted him and he denies having any intertion of committing a robbery. The description of Hendricks is almost identical with that given of the assail-ant of Chauncey Wilcox, on Friday night, even to the vell with which the robber enveloped his face.

As the patrol wagon drove up to the corner of Thirty-sixth and Farnam streets the officers and several persons in Edward's grocery store distinctly heard two shots fired in the vicinity of Thirty-eighth and Harney streets A couple of men were sent to locate them but after scouring the neighborhood came back with little information. William Cowin. living at 332 South Thirty-seventh street was on his way home at the time the report sounded and stood near the corner of Thirty sixth and Howard. He ran from the poin to Thirty-seventh and Harney and was just in time to see a couple of men running across the vacant ground extending northward. It is thought possible that these mer may have been in some way connected with the holdup, but the shots fired are still left unexplained.

Shortly before Benson encountered the highwayman some thief attempted to enter the residence of Charles J. Hesse, 3551 Farnam street, by prying up a window. The would-be burglar was scared away by the elry Carried Away. Burgiars did a profitable business Friday and 12 o'clock a back door of the residence of J. Mahoney, 2513 South Eleventh street, was entered by means of a skeleton key and a couple of men went pretty thoroughly through the house. A gold watch and chain, a pair of cuff buttons and a ring were collected and placed upon a chair in the dining room where they might be hardy when the robbers left. A pocketbook containing $28 was uncarched and then for some unknown reason the men hurriedly departed leaving their booty, which had been coilected, in the dining room.

Evidently the same men went into the Entrance was between 1 and 2 o'clock a. m. also gained by means of a skeleton key. Thirty dollars in each, a certificate of de-posit in one of the banks for $20 more, a gold watch and chain and a diamond pir were taken.

CHRISTMAS SHOPPERS ARE OUT. Retail Stores Make a Fine Display for

Crowds of Buyers. Although the fog hung low in the business portion of the city last night and there was a chill in the air that made the street urchin thrust his houbled fists into the depths of his pockets, the crowds of a new holiday season were on the streets. In accordance with an old and undying custom people were met with the angular forms of sleds and rocking horses in their arms and the newly-oper counters of Christmas goods were crowded with a throng of ready buyers. The show windows showed the work of an artist's hand and each was bright with its special attraction. The most care had naturally been given to the toy departments, and here the evidences of Christmas were unmis-takable. Sprays of pine and fir were hung about the counters and strings of beats and tinsel glittered in the light of incandescents.

The relations of the city reported that business was unusually large for the opening of the season. The people seem to have without injury to himself. Several shots money and according to the statement of the were fired during Benson's resistance and storekeepers are willing to spend it for the pleasure of their friends. Although the holi-day goods have been displayed for almost a week it is only now that people are awakening his finger. The robber gave the name of ing to the fact that Christmas is coming, and Charles Hendricks and is undoubtedly the they are getting ready for it with the usual

The crowds in the large retail buildings were handled without difficulty with the enlarge i service generally employed. Few losses were reported and no more than the usual shoplifting and pocket picking was done. Detective Keyser, who is in charge of a large desprtment store, said last night that although cases of that sort are continually because to his notice most of the large of Time.

George G. Wood's Story.

George G. Wood, who lives on South Seventeenth street, north of Leavenworth, tells the police a blood-curding story. He says that while walking along Sixteenth street near Davenport about il p. m. he was accosted by a couple of strange men. They placed revolvers to his head and told him, not to breathe loud or they would blow his head off. Then the fotocads went through his clothes and extracted $10 from them, Administering a parting kick to their victim the men then ran up Davenport street. The police doubt that he was held up.
