TENDER AN UNWELCOME NEW YEAR'S GIFT

Board of Public Lands and Buildings Finds Itself in Face of a Probable Deficiency.

LINCOLN, Jan. 1.—(Special.)—It is said that the Board of Public Lands and Buildings will give the teachers in the Institute for the Feeble Minded at Beatrice a New Year's present in the form of a reduction of salaries from $50 per month and board, the present rate, down to $40 per month and board. This reduction will strike six teachers.

It is rumored that the populist officials have become alarmed because of the smallness of the appropriations for several of the state institutions, and will make a general cut in wages in an effort to make the money hold out, the indications now being that the burst of populist economy in the last session of the legislature will result in good-sized deficiency claims before the next session.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Sawyer entertained a large party of friends last night to bid farewell to the dying year. An entertainment part of the program was an informal talk by Dr. J. H. Leonard, Stanford university on the seal question, a subject on which he is qualified to speak with authority. Near midnight a merry dance was begun, and the new year was ushered in fittingly.

DAILY HAPPENINGS AT HASTINGS.

Items of Interest Gleaned in the Hustling Nebraska Town.

HASTINGS, Neb., Jan. 1.—(Special.)—The remains of Theodore Smeckles, who was accidentally killed last Saturday by a switch engine while working on a railroad, arrived in the city today and will be interred in Parkview cemetery tomorrow.

The new wells at the city water works are nearly completed and are expected to be in running order within another week. The new machinery for the shaft process has been put in and so far as tested has proved satisfactory.

The Hastings electric light plant, which was so badly damaged by fire Monday morning, has been repaired and is now running full speed every night.

The social function of the season was the grand ball given by the Elks in their ball room last night. It was a full dress affair and was largely attended.

New Year's day in Hastings was very quiet, as all the business houses were closed and nothing of importance occurred to mar the almost perfect weather. The Wagon's auxiliary of the Young Men's Christian association and the members of the association entertained from 10 to 12 o'clock. The Young Men's Christian association rooms were beautifully decorated and looked very inviting. There were plenty of music, refreshments and games.

Prosperity at Beatrice.

BEATRICE, Neb., Jan. 1.—(Special.)—If anything more tangible is needed to bear out the indications to show that the city and county had entered upon an era of prosperity the records of the county officers would furnish it. The real estate mortgage indebtedness of the county, as is shown from the following figures, has been reduced during the year just closed $230,245, or nearly a quarter of a million dollars. The record on this class of filings for the month of December was: Farm mortgages filed, 35; amount, $32,892; released, 46; amount, $44,323; city mortgages filed, 12; amount, $6,299; released, 14; amount, $26,654. There are also other matters that are usually taken as indicative of the feeling of capital. During 1897 there were eighty-one fewer real estate mortgages filed than there were in 1896 and there were sixty-six more released, and last, there were 223 marriage licenses issued in 1897, as against 183 issued in 1896.

W. H. Prince did not get his ball bond secured yesterday as he expected he would. His attorney at St. Paul, Minn., wired him that it was practically arranged, but it appears it was not carried out.

Expected the bond would be forthcoming at any moment, he has spent most of his time in company with an officer at a Turkish bath house, where he enjoys all the luxuries he could obtain by a liberal supply of money, but this got tiresome to all concerned, and was again locked up to await his hearing, which will probably be held tomorrow.

FIGURES TELL THE STORY

Packing Houses as a Record Breaking Business.

LARGE INCREASE IN STOCK RECEIPTS

Packers Branch Out and Largely Increase the Capacity of Their Respective Plants—Prospects for Coming Year.

The past year has witnessed a very gratifying improvement in the volume of business doing at the South Omaha packing houses. South Omaha as a packing center has made rapid strides and has experienced some phenomenally prosperous years, but none equal to 1897, though the record of some previous years might compare favorably.

In 1884 there were phenomenally heavy marketings of stock and the business of the packing houses was pushed way beyond anything previously reached at this point, but it dropped in 1895 to the lowest point of the present decade, or since the first few years after the establishment of the market. The heavy decline of business was due to natural causes, which had their influence in every other department of the manufacturing or commerce and which made 1895 a year to be remembered. With the advent of 1896 there was some improvement noticeable, but it was unimportant and the total volume of business was small as compared with previous years. The coming of 1897 ushered in better times for the packing industries of the whole country. More people were securing employment and hence coming into a position to be consumers of meat, thus creating an increased demand for packing house products.

During the past year there has been an active business and packers have been more concerned as to the supply of live stock than they have regarding the marketing of their product, in order to keep pace with the demand South Omaha packers have been forced to send buyers into other markets to patch out the supply of packers and keep their houses running to the required capacity. At the same time the active demand has kept prices on stock up to a point which has induced shippers from a wider extent of territory to come to this market. Large increases in receipts from all the western states are noted consequent upon the urgent demand for cattle at this point and to the enterprise of interested parties in securing shipments.

It is, however, the figures that tell the story after all, and they show that only many cattle have been slaughtered during 1897, and never as many hogs or sheep, and taking all kinds of stock together 1897 was by all odds the heaviest year ever experienced by the packers at this point.

PACKING HOUSE FIGURES.

The following will show the number of head of cattle, hogs and sheep slaughtered by the packers for the years indicated:

1897	461,248	1,539,336	309,541
1896	393,392	1,116,474	197,492
1895	318,148	1,082,829	87,416
1894	229,484	1,471,227	124,302
1893	224,191	1,023,479	145,628
1892	423,113	1,259,266	66,443
1891	322,600	1,216,376	86,769
1890	323,925	1,389,652	68,346

It is safe to say that the packing houses and Union Stock yards company at South Omaha expended $200,000 in repairs and improvements during the year 1897. Among the packing houses the most extensive improvements have been made at the Cudahy plant, where at least $60,000 has been expended during the last three months in alterations and extensions. The new sausage factory, which is now under foot, cost $20,000, exclusive of the machinery which is to be many improvements since work commenced.

placed in it when it is completed. Two additional stories have been added to the neutral house and the headquarters of the Cudahy fire department have been enlarged. Many improvements have been made at the soap factory and new machinery recently purchased is now being placed in this big factory building. Many other improvements have been made during the year, including the cost way up into the thousands.

In connection with improvements to be made as soon as the weather will permit the Cudahy has planned the erection of a large two-story brick stable, which will cost at least $10,000. In this stable will be stable for forty-five horses and room for many wagons. A large power building and extensive additions to the glycerine and soap factories have been planned and work on these will commence early in the spring.

Beatrice the improvements to the buildings at the Cudahy plant and in addition to the estimate of the expense given mention the fact that the private telephone system which was but recently installed and which cost in the neighborhood of $4,000.

It is the intention of the Cudahy company to expend something like $100,000 during the spring and summer in additions, alterations and repairs. A great deal of new machinery will be purchased and work on the building of new buildings will be maintained in a building to be erected for the purpose.

Some time ago the Cudahy let a contract for another artesian well, which was to be drilled to a depth of 100 feet and to be used in case of fire or emergency. Plans are also being made for a large fertilizer building, which will be built on the site of the present fertilizer plant.

Superintendent Cameron of the Cudahy company has gone east for the purpose of investigating the market for the products of the plant and it is possible that extensions not planned for at this time may be adopted in addition to those already mentioned.

AT THE OTHER HOUSES.

Manager Noyes of the G. H. Hammond company estimates that the repairs and improvements made to the Hammond property during the year just closed cost $25,000. While no new buildings were erected, a number of changes and alterations were made which increased the capacity of the plant considerably. As for the coming year Manager Noyes says that new smoke houses are to be built and additions made to the shipping and packing rooms. The cost of these improvements is estimated at $15,000. A new office building is now being planned and is to be erected just north of the beef house. This building will be designed especially for an office and will be fitted with all modern conveniences. The cost of this building will be between $20,000 and $25,000. It is likely that other improvements not seriously considered at this time will be made by the time the busy season commences.

The Swift and Company spent fully $50,000 in improvements last year and will spend as much more this year. Smoke houses to cost in the neighborhood of $40,000 will be built and additions made to the storage rooms. This company is now carrying a heavy stock of meat and more storage room is needed. While plans have not been made for any additions to the store rooms the matter is being considered at the head offices of the company in Chicago.

Manager Tallifero of the Omaha Packing company stated yesterday that no improvements or additions were made to the plant last year and none were contemplated for this year.

It is expected that the Armour plant will be in operation during either June or July, and this addition to the packing business will mean much. Five of the Armour buildings are now in course of erection, and with mild weather they may be completed by spring. As soon as possible in the spring the other four buildings of this plant will be commenced and pushed to completion. An immense amount of money has been spent on the Armour site since the commencement of work last July. It is estimated that 10,000,000 brick will be used in the construction of the buildings, and the completed plant will, it is said, cost $1,000,000.

The Union Stock Yards company has made exclusive of the machinery which is to be many improvements since work commenced.

on the Armour plant. New pens have been added to the cattle division, a large addition built to the sheep barn and many of the alleys covered with brick. An extensive addition to the exchange building is now being erected, which will cost when completed about $100,000. This new building will be modern in every respect and will be very well adapted to the business. The kitchen, dining room and barroom addition to this wing of the exchange are completed. The furnishing of the furnishings, costuming and the interior work will run the total cost up to $100,000, while the other improvements at the yards made during the summer will swell this amount about $25,000.
