PLANS FOR COLLECTING THE INFORMATION

Committee Organizes and Opens Its Campaign in Behalf of the Strangers Who Will Need. Direction.

The newly created Bureau of Public Comfort of the Transmississippi Exposition held its first meeting in the offices of the Ways and Means committee in the Paxton block last night. The following members of the bureau were present: Dudley Smith, Major R. S. Wilcox, A. C. Smith and C. M. Wil-The bureau organized by electing Dudley Smith as chairman and C. M. Wilhelm secretary. It also decided upon a general plan for conducting its duties, but this plan must be submitted to the Ways and committee of this body and can only make recommendations. In the report that the bureau will make to the next meeting of the committee will uation. be a recommendation that a permanent quarters for an information bureau be established in some large room or building in the central part of the city. If this recom-mendation is adopted the bureau will go to work immediately to make the selection in that may be launched. All hotels, boarding houses and other establishments which expect to provide accommodations for visitors to the expositioa are to be requested to file a list of their ac-commodations and the schedules of prices they intend to maintain during the exposi-tion with the bureau. Emphasis is to be laid on the latter provision. It is not desired that visitors to the city should be "held up' for lodging and it is for this reason that the schedule of prices is wanted now. This and other information is to be sent to Bureau of Public Comfort, Postoffice Box No. 12. Omaha.

The bureau also determined that it would be a good plan for the members to visit all the hotels in the city for the purpose of impressing the proprietors with the necessity of treating their guests fairly and reason ably during the exposition. It was decided to meet every Wednesday night in the offices of the Ways and Means committee in the Paxton block, until the permanent quarters

WORK OF NEBRASKA COMMISSION

Miss Butterfield is Appointed Superintendent of Art. When the Nebraska commission met appointed Miss Melyesterday it long Butterfield of Omaha as superintendent of the art decoration of the Nebraska building. She will have charge of the placing of the paintings and other works of art to be contributed by Nebraska artists for the embellishment of the interior of the state building.

Assistant Secretary Dearing, Superintendent of Agriculture E. D. Johnson and Superintendent of Floriculture L. C. Chapin were designated as a committee to devise an arch to be placed at the entrance of the Nebrasku exhibit in the Agriculture building. The members of the commission expressed the desire to erect an arch which shall set the pace for the other states and result in securing a committee was instructed to report at the enext meeting of the commission.

A report was received from W. R. Jackson state superintendent of instruction, regard-leg the private schools in the state which desire to make exhibits, provided space is furnished by the state. He submitted a written report, showing that ten schools, in cluding some of the most prominent private schools in the state, had replied to his circular, asking if creditable exhibits would be made in case the commission decided to furnish space. These replica were strongly in the differentive, and the superintendent stated that he expected similar replies from others of the thirty or more private schools. After discussing the report the commission decided to set saids 1,000 square feet of space for the private schools, under rection of Superintendent Jackson.

Superintendent Blake was instructed by solution to complete the Nebraska building within not to exceed thirty days after the plastering shall have been finished, and he was given authority to employ as many men as may be necessary to accomplish this

Superintendent Dawes of the Institute to the Deaf, appeared before the commission and asked for an appropriation of $300 to being raised. The placing of the iron columns, which will support the dome, is well umns, which will support the dome, is well methods in use at that institution for in-structing deaf mutes. He said he desired to have two classes of about seven pupils, with an instructor for each one to be a class of beginners and the other of advanced pupils. With these short exhibitions would be given each day during two or three months of the exposition in the Girls and Boys' building. Owing to unceftaintly as to the cost of space in this building action on the matter was deferred until the next

ACCOMMODATION FOR THE MILITIA.

President Wattles Figures on Arrang ing for Camp During the Summer.

President Wattles is preparing to recom mend to the executive committee the organization of a military department similar to the one at the Tennessee exposttion. He says he is in receipt of a number of letters from various military officials in different states inquiring as to the pre-visions that will be made for the accom-medation of the militia of those states in case it is decided to hold their annual en-cimpment at Omaha, instead of at the usual examping ground. A letter of this kind was received by the president this morning from Colonel J. A. Corby, commanding the Fourth regiment of infantry of the Missouri National Guard. This letter was sent to the president through Adjutant General Barry of this state, and states that a meeting of the commanding officers of each regiment and battery of the Missouri National Guard has been called by Buigndier General Moore, to be held at Kansas City next week, to consider the proposition from St. Joseph to and other necessary expenses. At the Nashville Exposition a department was organized to furnish accommoditions for bodies of troops desiring to camp at or near the exposition and certain of the came quipment was furnished by the expositio authorities. This department was under the direction of Captain H. C. Ward, the officer detailed by the War department in charge of the exhibit made by the depart-ment at Nashville and at Omaha. The re-port of the operations of this department nade by Captain Ward shows it to have been a great success in every sense. dent Wattles has written to Captain Ward o ascertain when he will arrive in Omaha and will consult him regarding the details of such a department upon his arrival

ENDEAVORS TO CARVE A GATEKEEPER

Prouble Arises Because Talcott Was Barred from the Hall_Inflicts a Wound on Henry Avery.

Harrison Talcott otherwise known as Dangerfield," had a quarrel with Henry every, the gatekeeper of a Fourteenth street dance, last night, because the formality of a ticket was demanded, and drawing his pocketknife he threw it with such skill as o make a painful stab in the official's leg. Talcott is a colored boy who has spent his life in Omaka and was for a number of years recognized as the terror of the Farnam street school.

The ball occurred in the Knights of Labor ball, and was given by the Japanese club, a recent social organization of colored people Avery had been stationed at the door to keep out undesirable patrons, and had stood at his post until about 10 o'clock, when he heard a turnult at the gatekeeper's wicket further up the stairs. He hastened to the scene and found "Dangerfield" in an alter-cation over his admittance. The ticket seller argued that the applicant should be provided with a ticket and Talcott held that no such provision was necessary. Avery was then directed as outer guard to convey Talcott down stairs. He says that the young man went peaceably enough and made such an carnest promise to observe the rules of the lub that he was released at the door and allowed to return. It is said that young Talcott again demanded admittance and became busive to the ticket seller. On this occasion Avery started for him with the in-tent to cast him out for good and all. The young man met him with a drawn knife and Avery paused. Talcott drew back the wcapon and threw it straight for Avery's body. The latter sprong several steps up the stairs and received the blade in his right eg. Talcott ran down stairs and was or-ested later in a saloon across the street. He was charged with cutting with intent to

POINTER FOR THE MANAGERS.

Exhibits that Might Be of Value to the People Who Attend. OMAHA, Jan. 26 .- To the Editor of The Bee: It is with great pleasure that I read the many notices in your valuable paper regarding the exposition. It looks like arrangements were being made for a great show, but I cannot help but notice the lack of manufacturing exhibits, i. e., exhibits that will be making the goods on the round. We certainly do not want to make mere state fair out of this great exposiground. tion, but by the accounts we see in the daily press, it looks like it would be only equa to our store windows. I have noticed for the last six months that various shoe factories have applied for a small space, running from sixty to 100 feet, and if all come that your paper has given account of we certainly shall see fifty shoe factories exhibiting their manufactured products. Now, is this what the people want to see? Would not one shoe factory in operation be better than fifty shoe exhibits? Would it not help to hold the crowds? Would it not be better to give a show that takes six days to see than one that takes only three days? And if the exposition is made up of dead exhibits, will it not lessen the attendance, and will not the news go out to the world that any large store contains about what one will see at the exposition? I am told that the best gold medal is for machinery in operation best adapted to our western products. Has there chinery that will make any kind of wo goods? The transmississing control of the c been an application filed for space for ma-The transmississippi country is full of sheep, and should be the home of woolen mills. Is there an application filed for an exhibit that will display the process of manufacturing our hemp, and show what a country we have for this product, and that there is plenty of room for capital to invest i this enterprise? Is there an application filed for a manufactory that will take our cereal goods and produce our breakfast food on the grounds? Look at the live exhibits this class of exhibits would make, and how the people would stand and see the product manufactured; the day would soon be gone and they must come the next day, and the next, and so on, and every day means 50 cents for expenses. Would it not be better even if it costs a few hundred dollars. free space, to secure a dozen Live exhibits in order to give it some tone? The people have seen showcases, bunting-booths, tissue paper decorations, etc., etc., to their hearts content. They raise sheep, but the process of putting the wool into cloth is new. They raise hemp, but how is the twine made.

Probably applications for this class of expaper would have shown it. It certainly is a very grave question, and a subject that, if not properly handled, the future results from the exposition and the attendance on same will fall flat. The Department of Publicity has certainly let the world know about us, and now, when they start to come, we must show the goods, and, as one that is interested. I would say get the goods at any cost, and don't let a good thing pass by be-cause the Department of Concessions cannot see a return for them. This, I understand, has been the case in locating Live exhibits. "A Live Show, and A Live Midway!" A LIVE MAN.

duct were completed yesterday afternoon and it will be thrown open for travel this morning. The exact cost of the repairs will not be known until the final pay rolls are made up, but it is thought that it will not exceed the original estimate of $5,000 for labor and material. The repairs have been entirely in the nature of makeshifts and the structure now presents a very botched up appearance from an architectural standpoint. City Engineer Rosewater says that the most he hopes from the repairs is that at 95c each. the viaduct will be kept in a cafe condition for another year, in order to avoid closing up the street during the exposition. As soonas the exposition is over it will be neces sary to build a new viaduct at once and hourges that the preliminary steps should be 25c each, taken at once, so the work need not be de- SHEETING, PILLOW CASES AND SHEETS layed by complications when immediate action becomes imperative, BOARD'S BUSINESS.

Nulsance Complaint and Garbage Contract Investigation. The Advisory Board enjoyed the longest session it has ever held yesterday and then it adjourned to 2 o'clock this afternoon, when the grind will be continued. The first business was a complaint from leighboring residents in regard to a barn and stock pen at 2413 Cuming street. It was alleged that the yard had become a nuisance and a menace to the health of the surrounding locality and the evidence which was produced tended to show that the stock ss in that neighborhood was not particularly conducive to the comfort of its residents. The complaint was taken under advisement by the board until the nex meeting and in the meantime the owners will be given an opportunity to decide what measures they will take to mitigate the nuisance. The garbage investigation was conducted in executive session, in order that the witnesses might not be enabled to hear what others had testified to. No new facts were brought out and as the investigation had only secured a fair start at 5 o'clock, an adjournment was agreed on.

The city council met yesterday afternoon Equalization. Tax Commissioner Sackett has not tabulated the changes, but it is believed that the aggregate as returned by he Board of Review is not materially hanged. After formally declaring the Sixteenth street viaduct open for travel fhe council adjourned until tonight, when it will dis-

PARAMETER PARAME About Boys' Shoes.

Say, good lady. Are you aware that we sell boys' shoes? Are you aware that our boys' shoes are as nearly indestructable as boys' shoes can be made? Are you aware that while the quality of our boys' shoes is the highest our prices are not the highest-not by any manner of means? Are you aware that our price for those heavy quilted sole shoes that you have been paying two dollars for is only a dollar and a half? Do you know that we actually sell a good solid leather shoe for small boys at one dollar? And a fine all leather shoe for bigger boys at twenty cents more? These things are facts. Yes, but you say you are a little bit leery of newspaper facts. We don't blame you at all. It seems to be the fashion in advertising to talk first and think afterwards. You may have noticed however that our advertising is a little different from the ordinary kind. We are not quite as "litturary" as some advertisers, but we believe, with Josh Billings, that "it is better not to say so much thin to say so much what yer kant substancherate."

YOU WILL REALIZE THAT "THEY LIVE WELL WHO LIVE CLEANLY." IF YOU USE
