VICTORY FOR TOWNSITERS

Important Decision by Judge Smith at Chamberlain.

NORTH CHAMBERLAIN PART OF THE CITY

Another Turn in Long Drawn Out Litigation Over Valuable Land Case Will Be Appealed.

CHAMBERLAIN, S. D., Feb. 9.—(Special Telegram.)

Judge Smith has rendered a decision in the case of Eliza Reynolds against the City of Chamberlain, brought to determine whether the latter can continue to exercise jurisdiction over what is known as North Chamberlain. The present case adds another chapter to the struggle which has been carried on for years for possession of North Chamberlain. Some important points are involved in the jurisdiction question. Originally the land now known as North Chamberlain was a part of the Crow Creek reservation, February 27, 1855, President Arthur declared it open for settlement. April 17 of the same year President Cleveland revoked the order of his predecessor and withdrew the land from market. March 7, 1885, a week or so after the proclamation opening the land, the territorial legislature passed an act extending the limits of Chamberlain to include the tract now in dispute. The validity of the act and the question of jurisdiction depends. Mrs. Reynolds and another homesteader, Henry J. King, won the land as the result of a contest between the two and a number of other claimants and now have homesteaded entries on the land. It was contended that the act of the legislature of 1885 was illegal, from the fact that between February 27 and April 17, 1885, no entries of any portion of the land were permitted to be made and the tract was therefore constructively never anything else than a part of an Indian reservation until some years later, when it was permanently opened for settlement. Judge Smith holds that the act of March 7, 1885, was legal. The title claimants have never given up the fight for legal possession of the land and are still living there. They seek to have the cases of the two homesteaders reopened, probably at a time when the territory is a part of the United States and officers here, and claim Judge Smith's decision is a victory for them, losing their belief on the federal statute which prohibits the taking of homestead within the limits of an incorporated city or town. When the news of Judge Smith's decision was received the townsites fired a salute and celebrated the occasion in a grand manner. One of the buildings in North Chamberlain is known as Fort Tams. Upon this the townsites raised the stars and stripes in honor of the occasion. At this writing the question of an appeal from Judge Smith's decision to the state supreme court has not been determined. However, the question cannot be considered definitely and permanently settled until the supreme court passes upon it.

GOVERNOR LEE REMOVED KIPP

Commination of the Official Flight in South Dakota.

PIERRE, S. D., Feb. 9.—(Special Telegram.)—The fight between Governor Lee and Insurance Commissioner Kipp culminated today in the governor issuing an order declaring Kipp to be removed and appointed Thomas H. Ayers, his private secretary, to the place. The governor's charge against Kipp was that he had been fraudulently collecting fees for examination of insurance companies. A demand has been made on the office, and he has refused to vacate. Notice of the removal has been served on the different state insurance companies. Commissioner Kipp will resign his office at once and will leave Pierre at once. The matter will go into the courts for settlement.

King After the Land Office.

CHAMBERLAIN, S. D., Feb. 9.—(Special Telegram.)—An interesting political gossip note here from Washington is the effect that Colonel John H. King, state agent at Washington, has decided to become a candidate for the registration of the Chamberlain land office and is making an active fight in Washington for the place. It has been generally understood that the office will go to W. V. Lucas, who is now a resident of Chamberlain, and will be appointed register of the local office whenever a change is made and the news that King is after the place has come as a surprise to the South Dakota politicians.

Belle Fourche was given $330, Buffalo Gap $330, Custer $250, Hot Springs $400 and Spearfish $240. Rapid City and Deadwood churches are the only two which are self-sustaining.

Will Not Build a Court House.

ELK POINT, S. D., Feb. 9.—(Special Telegram.)—A special election was held in Union county yesterday, the question before the electors being a proposition to vote a 3-mill tax for three years for the purpose of raising $25,000 to build a court house. The proposition was badly defeated, the present structure being in a dilapidated condition and the vaults overflowing with records. The proposition was defeated, however, to the deep disappointment of those familiar with the condition of the present court house. The total vote was 1,226 against and 1,280 for.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Feb. 9.—(Special Telegram.)

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 9.—(Special Telegram.)—No Hill, in this city, does not today rank as highly as a fashionable residence quarter as it did twenty-five years ago upon the outskirts of several million dollars ago, a few men who had acquired enormous wealth somewhat suddenly and who desired honors of a character commensurate with that wealth.

POCKETS FILLED WITH NUGGETS.

Prospectors from the Swank District are Making a Great Growing Interest in Being Manifested by Seattle People in the Swank Mining District in Kittitas County.

A great and growing interest in being manifested by Seattle people in the Swank mining district in Kittitas county, in spite of the fact that all eyes are supposed to be directed toward the Klondike, says the Seattle Post-Intelligencer. Every few days some lucky prospector from the Swank drifts into Seattle with his pockets full of nuggets, some of which are larger than a hen's egg, and have yet been taken out of the Klondike gravel banks. The heaviest nugget yet taken out of this country was found three years ago on the Bear River. It weighed 37 1/2 ounces and was valued at $10,000.

Attention Has Been Called to the District

lately by a collection of nuggets taken from Boulder and Williams creeks last year. These nuggets in the collection worth nearly $1,200. Early this year the Biggins claim dug out a big nugget which weighed $130. The Ford claims are said to be among the richest in the district.

The placer mines of the district extend seven or eight miles along Swank, Boulder and Williams creeks. All of this ground has been worked very richly for some time. Only three or four claims that have been extensively developed. Above the placer ground for a number of miles rich free-milling quartz ledges have nearly all been located, some of them many years ago. One company owns a group of five claims in this quartz district which it has recently bonded for $100,000. The money secured in this way will be used in erecting a small mill, six or seven miles from this property is a small stamp mill which has been operating for a number of years with great success.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 9.—(Special Telegram.)

The California Wine association has purchased 240,000 gallons of wine belonging to the estate of E. Gardner. The price paid for the 1896 wine was only 8 cents a gallon, while the price for the 1897 wine was 10 cents a gallon. As all this wine is in city cellars, the price realized for the bulk of it represents a profit of 20 cents per gallon. The California Wine association, which has made this purchase, is a group of dealers whose object is to get wine as cheaply as possible. It has nullified the efforts of the producers to maintain prices which will yield a profit to the wine grower. The result is that, with 26,000,000 gallons of new wine this year, California vintners are barely able to sell at a price which will pay the expense of production.

Tobacco Culture in Washington.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Feb. 9.—(Special Telegram.)—T. B. Somers of this country, who has been experimenting for a year or two past in tobacco culture on his farm, is so well satisfied with the results obtained that he is making arrangements to go into the business on an extensive scale. He has been satisfied, from the experience he has had, that as good tobacco could be raised here as anywhere, and that the business is really carried on here quite profitably. Being a cigar manufacturer, he is also making arrangements to establish a factory here to make practical use of the tobacco raised by himself on his plantation. It is said, will compare favorably in quality with any from the famous tobacco districts.

California News Notes.

The Southern Pacific has not had a snow plow in use this winter over the Sacramento and Truckee divisions. A Los Angeles man unearthed $2,000 in the ruins of an old building that had been for a number of years used by a miser who died there. An orange orchard of thirty acres has been deeded to the Volunteers of America. It is located near Thermalito and will be used by the volunteers.

Free Milling Ore Found.

SPOKANE, Feb. 9.—(Special Telegram.)—One of the richest gold strikes in the northwest was made this week on the Little Gem claim in the Pierre lake district on the Coeur d'Alene Indian reservation, north of Spokane. The north half of the reservation is open to mineral locations. At the bottom of a ninety-foot shaft a vein, ten inches wide, of free milling gold was discovered. The vein is 250 feet long and 600 to 400,000 a ton. Free gold is scattered through the rock outside the pay streak. The vein runs transversely across the shaft. The property is owned by Spokane men. The strike has caused a stampede to the Pierre lake district.

Washington News Notes.

A new populist paper, The Independent, made its first appearance in Montezuma Wednesday. The foghorn, boilers and engine at the Westport harbor, at the entrance to Gray's harbor, are in place, and nearly everything is ready for the lighting. The Pacific Sheet Metal works, with headquarters in San Francisco, has ordered the necessary machinery for building a ship, which is to be established in Whatcom. The factory will be ready for business

SOUTH OMAHA NEWS.

Tuesday night George Russell, a young man about 18 years of age and whose home is at Fifteenth and H streets, was caught in the act of attempting to rob the office of the J. B. Watkins Lumber company in the upper railroad yards. He was detected by J. W. Baxter, the night watchman, who compelled him to surrender. Russell had in his possession a brace and bit, dynamite, fuse and a hammer, besides other tools necessary to the work of a carpenter. While being marched to the office of the city jail Russell tried hard to throw away his tools and mask, but this was prevented by the watchman.

The burglary Tuesday night made the fifth time inside of six months that the Watkins office has been broken into and every time the thieves attempted to do or did break into the office. The last attempt was made a couple of weeks ago, and then it was decided to lay a trap for the next burglar. An electric contrivance was placed in the office, which rang a bell in the home of the watchman near by when any one entered the place after closing time. When the bell rang the watchman Baxter grabbed up his shotgun and hurried to the office. He easily located Russell, who was hiding in a corner, and compelled him at the point of the gun to put up his hands. The only article which had been stolen in all the recent robberies was an overcoat belonging to Mr. Watkins which Russell had with him when arrested.

Yesterday the young burglar appeared to be very sorry for what he had done and cried when being questioned. He denied that he had stolen anything, saying that while passing Germania a man had thrown out a window and he picked it up. When asked if he was alone Russell stated that he had a partner who compelled him to enter the place. He refused to come in and do the work on the safe. Russell insists that he does not know the name of his partner, but describes him as a man with a beard and a mustache. He was to get $10 for the night's work and he needed shoes and clothing he accepted. He further said by the prosecutor that his partner procured the dynamite and fuse in Omaha, but he admits stealing the drill from Sawyer's blacksmith shop. Entrance was effected by removing a pane of glass from a rear window and releasing the catch. After considerable questioning Russell finally admitted that this was the second time he had broken into the Watkins office, but he stoutly denies ever having carried off anything.

During the forenoon Mrs. Russell called at the police headquarters and talked with Judge Christmann. She denied all knowledge of her son's actions and stated that while inclined to be headstrong he was a good boy. A search of the Russell home was made by the police and no stolen goods were found. The police are inclined to think that Russell and his partner had a hand in robbing the Nebraska liquor house Monday night and it was in hopes of getting some of the goods stolen from this place that they were in Omaha. The police are looking for Russell and expect to locate him before long.

His Books Are Open.

In connection with the police court fines, mention of which was made in yesterday's Bee, Judge Christmann states that he is ready at any time to have the finance committee of the Board of Education or any other committee for that matter, investigate the matter. He said that he had seen persons arrested here and brought before him who are not possessed of a penny and have no means of obtaining their money. He said that he would not do it. It would be useless, he says, to impose a money fine in vagrancy cases where the prisoner has no funds, because it would be an unnecessary burden upon the city for feeding and lodging such persons while they served out their time in the county jail.

It is thought that the mayor is induced to issue a pardon, thus concealing the sentence of the court. This has been the policy of the mayor in a number of cases. Judge Christmann stated that he has records open for inspection at any time and that in handling the business of the city he considers best interests of the city. While he admits that the amount paid into the stock fund from fines does not amount to much, in the total number of arrests, he asserts that he uses his judgment in dispensing justice and always does what he thinks best.

It is true that the majority of persons arrested are confined for minor charges, such as vagrancy and drunkenness, the records show that money is seldom found on the person of the prisoner. The matter of compelling prisoners to work in the streets or elsewhere had always met with opposition from certain members of the city. It is thought that by doing this the city could be robbed of the hard work of men of a means to earn good to support their families. It was suggested not a great while ago that the city erect a stockade in the rear of the city jail and fill it with prisoners to be broken. This broken stone, it was asserted, could be used to advantage in repairing streets and alleys and also for other purposes. It was suggested that when it was turned down for fear that some laboring man who had a family might be compelled to look for work elsewhere, depending upon the street commissioner's department.

The expense of keeping the several hundreds of persons who are annually arrested and confined in the city jail is a considerable sum. It is thought that if these men were compelled to work for a day or two breaking stones they could in a measure reduce the cost of their keeping. A number of city officers are willing to admit that something of the sort would be a good thing, but no one seems to have the initiative in bringing the matter properly before the city lawmakers.

Cases of Destitution.

Among the cases of destitution called to the attention of the mayor yesterday were two considered deserving and assistance was given. One was the case of a woman who is very low with consumption and whose health is reported as being worthless. She says away from home for days at a time. Another was a case where a woman had been recently confined and was entirely helpless, depending on the neighbors for something to eat. In this connection Mayor Enos desires to request that persons who have shoes and clothing to give away would bring them to his office in baskets. The general have done this already and the baskets are quickly disposed of. The churches are doing all they can to relieve the distress of the poor, but they cannot furnish coal. The shoes of the poor seem to be needed, as well as shoes for women, and if these are not to the mayor's office they will be given to the worthy poor.

SURGICAL OPERATIONS

FOR THE CURE OF PILES AND RECTAL DISEASES NO LONGER NECESSARY. A Medical Discovery Which Will Change the Treatment of All Such Diseases.

It has long been noted not only by some physicians but by people in general, that the common, painful and exceedingly annoying trouble, piles, was practically incurable by any other means than a surgical operation and this belief has been the cause of years of needless suffering, because of the natural dread of surgical operations.

There are many salves, ointments and affords relief in cases of piles, but the Pyramid Pile Cure is the only preparation so far introduced that can be reliably depended upon to cure to stay cured, every form of itching, bleeding or protruding piles.

Mr. M. C. Hilday of 601 Mississippi St., Indianapolis, was told by her physicians that nothing but a surgical operation costing between seven and eight hundred dollars, could cure her, as she had suffered for 15 years; yet even in such a case as her's the Pyramid Pile Cure accomplished a complete cure. She says: "I knew an operation would be death to me and tried the Pyramid Pile Cure, but I am so enthusiastic in its praise."

Mr. D. E. Reed of South Lyons, Mich., says: "I would not take $500 and be placed back where I was before I used the Pyramid Pile Cure. I suffer for years and it is now eighteen months since I used it and not the slightest trace of the trouble has returned."

The Pyramid Pile Cure is sold by nearly all druggists at 50 cents and $1 per package, and as it contains no opium, cocaine or other poisonous drugs can be used with perfect safety. No one need suffer from piles in any form who will give this excellent remedy a trial. Send for books on cause and cure of piles, sent free by addressing Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., (formerly Albion, Mich.).
