DENVER WOULD CELEBRATE

Plans for a Brief and Lively Jubiles Five Years Hence.

DISPLAY OF THE MILITIA GREAT Mobilization of Western Troops Suggested as a Part of the Jubilee_

Not More Than Two Weeks of the Festivities.

' The idea of holding a monster jubilee, com memorating the Louisiana purchase by which the United States added to its domain what is now sixteen of the most foremost western states, has met with a cordial reception on all sides, says the Denver News The probabilities now are that in 1993 there will be held in Denver the greatest affair of the kind ever given in the country. Major

Hooper, who suggested the idea, made the following statement of what the original plans embraced: "In the first place," he said, "the idea is not to hold an exposition. The time will not be appropriate for such an affair and there are many objections. It will be too soon after the Omaha exposition as well as the Paris international affair to give a show of this type. What should be done is to give a grand celebration lasting about ten days or two weeks, in which the entire sixteen states comprising the Louisiana purchase will take part on an equal basis. The days of the festival will be divided up so that each section will have a full day and night to itself. Parades representing the material progress can be held in daylight, while at night, under the glare of thousands of brilfight, broot ine gare of thousand of the liant electric and calcium light, will be given the allegorical parades. The subject is one which is prelific in ideas and re-sources. The floats will depict the various historical events which led up to the pur ery of the great empire west of the Missis sippi until the time of the purchase. COLORADO MUST BE MODEST.

"Each state and each district will have ample opportunity for showing its products and progress. Schlority in the processions and as to choice should always be according to the date of their admission into the unfor Celorado, as host, should not endeavor to become too prominent. The idea should rather be to offer to the other states neutral ground upon which all can compete and each be given an equal show. Colorado, of course, must have an exhibit, but it would not be fair to go to the extreme of prodigailty simply because the conditions as to facilities would be against the other states

'In connection with the material and al degorical exhibitions of the states, there is another plan of much importance to the country at large. There has never been since the war, a mobilization of troops such as the military macuvers of the Old World. Thuse who wield the desinies of the nation should be able to see what an immense force can be mobilized in the interior of the con-:Inent

"First, the militia of not alone the middle west, but of the whole country, should be mobilized on the plains near the city. Transportation is a small matter and the feeding and alleftering should be in regular military style. Then, the regular troops must be gotten together from all the posts of the Congress would gladly authorize suc action if the proper representations are male. Competitions between the various blates would add a rivalry that would be benchicial. In this sketch I will touch upon Mercur and its neighborhood, including Ophir and Dry canyon, and that locality known as Lion Hill, lying between Ophir and Mercur, Looking back seven years brings one to a time when there was just a little work of an experimental nature going on in Lewiston canyon, the present site of Mercur. Men of past days looked with doubt upon the results of experimenting on the gold bearing vein that showed itself but one wish, and that was that we might on the south alde of Lewiston canyon. to make the then regulation methods bring gold builton from the exposed gold vein that assayed so well in that metal. (Lewiston was a lively little camp for a time, and with the attempts at gold mining and experimenting for quicksilver from the cinnabar of the gold vein the place grew to be of considerable importance as a mining camp. But the work of experiment upon the gold veins proving a failure and the high values in the Carrie Steele and other silver properties be-ing worked out Lewiston was gradually abandoned. And for years after when any man talked of the gold veins in Lewiston canyon the wise and experienced men of this region pronounced it a delusion and a snare. There was gold there, possibly, but the world had no use for it, inasmuch as it took $10 to get $1 out, and so gradually the coycte became sole muster of the situation or some years, until by the closest possible cratch the treatment by cyanide prevailed in a cheap and effective method of extracting
