as he has spent his life in their midst an has devoted considerable time to the work. It has been the custom of the women of the Trinity parish to spend one afternoon week in work for mission fields and the bishop called their attention to this new labor which the Episcopal church has but recently taken up.

After on Introduction by Bishop Worthing ton of the Nebraska dioceae, Bishop Dudley expressed his pleasure in meeting the Epis-copal women of Omaha in such an informal way and said that he received more good from a meeting of this sort than from even general conference of bishops, which h a general conference of bishops, which he said was usually consumed in legislation and resolutions, until he believed the truth of the romark that the "Americans are resolu-tionary sons of revolutionary sires." He had noticed, however, that generally in meeting of this kind the foremost women of the cor gregation, generally society leaders and large contributors to "the church finances, were absent. Money, the bishop said, is the easiest thing in the world to give to the church, and therefore in the eyes of "Him who would be as more said," is the level who seeth not as man seeth" is the least valuable. He spoke especially of the value of personal service in the furtherance of missions. The bishop then described the conditions among the colored people of the south as one who was reared among them and had received his first lessons in honesty and unselfishings from the hands of a colored nurse. He said that it was only recently a part of God's church. that the Episcopal chruch had recognized that it had anything in common with the sin, together with purpose of amendment, and the priest's absolution. The priest's absolution is absolutely useless if the sinner colored race. At the general conference i 1886, held in Chicago, the field was first entered upon and the bishop was himself appointed to introduce the subject to the is not penitent and does not intend to change his ways. The bishop felt, however, that savel by the priest's absolution; but a man who loves God for His greatness and has no God had made with one blood all the na-tions of the carth and he therefore give a large amount of time as bishop of Ken tucky to that branch of work in his state.

DEVOTION AMONG NEGROES.

In making a study of the situation the bishop came to believe that the colored race is one of the most devout in the world and he found one colored church in his native town in which services had been held every night since the close of the war. The prin-cipal defect which he found in the religion of Kentucky negroes was that it lacked in-fluences which led to morality and character building. He said they loved to the them-selves up with doctrine upon which their motional natures could find. Which their emotional natures could feed. Hishop Dud ley has met with considerable difficulty in

Hey was in this matter, Mr. Fuller said that they avoided trees as much as possible and in many cases mised their lines to pro-tect trees. He said that they could not afford to incur the public's ill will by ruining trees.

At the Thomson-Houston office it was learned that their rules in regard to cut-ting trees are very strict. Their lines run mostly away from trees and no work is permitted without consulting owners. Mr. Lamb of the Western Union said that they did all in their power to avoid trees and the barbers' ordinance were passed after they had been amended as agreed on at the to make amends. Recently a complaint was
