TRAINS RUN AROUND LOOP

Motor Company Complies with Terms of Its New Charter.

UPPER BROADWAY SEES THE B'G CARS

Schedule Rearranged so as to Give the Service Promptly Without Crippling Communication with the Connecting Lines,

The Omaha & Council Bluffs Railway and Bridge company yesterday complied with the conditions of the new ordinance of last fail and began to send every alternate through Omaha train around the Pierce

Before the change could be made it was necessary to rearrange the entire train schedule and in doing this a good deal of careful consideration was given to the matter to prevent an crippling of the service on either Upper Broadway or Lower Main street. The arrangement finally effected Mrs. J. A. Patton and children intend to gives even a better service on the Main street line and, as a matter of course, largely increases the facilities on the upper end of the Broadway line. The Main street and Fifth avenue lines are given a regular instead of continuing the trip over the up-per portion of their lines. Passengers from either of these trains who desire to go up Broadway will be given transfers and will continue the trip on the big cars. The only portion of the line to suffer at all by the new arrangements will be the park line, which will lose every other trip. This defect will, however, be remedled when the travel on that line demands it. The changes will make a great deal of switching neces sary at the corner of Pearl street and Broad way, but the motor company believes that the public will fully appreciate the effort that has been made to conform with the requirements of the ordinace and at the same time not cripple in any manner the service on any portion of the lines.

The appearance of the big cars on th upper end of Broadway was the source of a good deal of satisfaction to residents and business men. All of the conditions of the new ordinance have now been complied with. Council Opens the Way to a Lot of Street Improvement. "The action of the city council last night The funeral of E. A. Sheils has been post-poned on account of his brother not being able to get here in time. The funeral will take place from the residence in Hardin township on Thursday morning. Services will general paving campaign this spring," said a member of the city council vesterday. "So far no objections have been made to the action of the council in ordering the repave-ment of two streets. On the contrary, the majority of the citizens living along Fourth street with whom I have talked have ex-pressed themselves as being fully satisfied with the action of the council. them desire asphalt instead of brick and I city last evening en route home from the Am in favor of giving it to them provided New Orleans races, where they have a string of horses entered. One of them is suffering to justify. It will be easy enough for the city engineer to prepare the necessary speci council can adopt them. This should be done in any event, for the time is not far dis-tant when at least some of the property owners will insist upon having their streets covered with asphalt. But the general disleaves two brothers and three sisters. The position of all the members of the council and about all the people is to favor brick paving. This comes from a commendable desire to keep all of the money at home and to give a durable and cleanly pavement. This, of course, means that the brick used shall be made at home. There is no use denying the fact that some of the very best brick pavements we have in the city today are made of Council Bluffs brick. There is no better material for use on the residence streets where the traffic is not so heavy, and when home-made brick is used not a dollar of the cost of paving goes outside of the city. The complaint of the contractors is that there is not a sufficient quantity of vitrified brick in the local yards to do any considerable amount of paving. The contractors claim that to secure paying brick it is necessary to burn more than an equal amount of building brick in each kiln. It seems to me that now is a good time for the brickmakers to begin the proper preparations for making vitrified brick. They have always claimed that there was not sufficien inducements offered by the city to justify the expense of putting up properly con-structed kilns to make all of the contents paving or building brick at will. With over eleven miles of rotten cedar blocks in a condition that must necessitate immediate removal and miles of other streets where the property owners are beginning to clamor for paving, it seems to me that the inducements are great enough and sufficiently ap-parent to satisfy any maker that there will be a demand for all of the suitable brick he can make. To supply the demand almorning at 8 o'clock, and on Wednesday and quired. It may be that some new material Friday evenings at 7:30 there will be im- will have to be added to our brick clay to ready in sight millions of brick will be re make suitable paving brick and this may have to be shipped a short distance, but it is better to ship in this raw material than 30.

"It is very probable that within the next few weeks the city will be called upon to order the paving of half a dozen additional streets. At the next meeting of the council an ordinance will probably be introduced for the paving of Fletcher avenue. Low prices and good work will justify the ex-penditure of a great many thousand dollars this season and to have gangs of pavers at work all over the town would have about as good effect upon exposition visitors as to have the work already done. If home-made material is used the cost of paving will not entail any hardships on the people for the expenditure of the money will cause a revival of business that will make it easy

DUBUQUE, Ia., March 1.-While attending a revival meeting here conducted by an old negross Michael Noggles has dramatic ally confessed to a murder committed six years ago. According to Noggles' story, he, with two other men, met a peddler on a country road near Fennimore, Grant county, Wis. They attempted to rob the peddler, who resisted and was murdered. The men then carried the corpse to an old brewery, where the body of the unfortunate peddler was hacked to pieces and when night fell was buried in an adjoining grove. The peddler's disappearance was never noted and Noggles claims not to know the victim's name. Noggles told the police the names of his accomplices. One, he said, is in the penitentiary for another murder and the other is living somewhere in Iowa.

DECIDED BY APPROPRIATION COMMITTEE It is Proposed to Make Two Separate

Funds, One for Salaries and the Other for Support.

DES MOINES, March 1 .- (Special Telegram.)-The senate appropriations committee has practically decided a basis of reduction of support funds of the state institutions. It recommends the following reductions in per capita allowances: Hospital at Independence, $14 to $12 per month; hospital at Clarinda, $14 to $13; reform school at Elfor blind, Vinton, $40 to $35 per quarter. As was granted insofar as the destruction to other institutions, the committee will act later. The recommendations outlined would, according to the committee, save: At the insone hospitals, $53,644; at the reform schools, $10,860; at the soldiers' orphans

It is proposed to divide the support fund to make two separate funds, one for salaries, the other for support. It has been found that the tendency is to draw the full per capita and when there is more than neces sary to support the inmates properly, the surplus is absorbed by raising salacies. The reduce the support fund would give poorer fare. To guard against this, the fund will be divided so that economies may be effected at the expense of the salary funds instead of food and conveniences provided for in-

TEMPLE AMENDMENT MUSS. Lieutenant Governor Milliman has been making some investigations into the parliamentary situation of the Temple amendment and decides that the bill has passed legally. He says the much-discussed motion by Byers to engross the bill was made after Hobart had made a motion to reconsider the bill engrossed and place it on third reading. The Byers motion, the lieufered, after which the house postponed con-sideration of the measure until next Tuesday. This was exactly the action which the framers and supporters of the measure had desired. They wanted to see the use amendments and then have the senate consider the bill first. Tomorrow the measure will be a special order in the senate and the upper body will thus have worked on it four days before the house takes hold of the serious work. The senate is thus practically assured of keeping in the lead and being able to send its perfected bill to the house before the house can shape its measure and pass it. The feeling on both sides of the capitol is that the bill is much safer in the senate than in the house, be-cause the men who made it best understand it in the upper body. In the senate the forenoon was devoted to the discussion of the problem of county care for the insane in county asylums. MUNICIPAL CAMPAIGN. Early this forenoon John MacVicar was otified that he had received, officially, 6,130 votes, against 2,526 for John Sherman. carried every precinct in the town very few by less than a two to one vote What is far more important he carried through with him a city council ticket of nine men, all pledged to municipal owner ship and the furtherance of the mayor's policy in every way. The council will succeed a body in which the opposition to Mac-Vicar has had from the beginning a majority and has impeded him as far as possible. The whole result was from one point of view a personal victory for John Mac Vicar, who until two years ago was comparatively unknown, a young business man, proprietor of a painting, decorating and sign painting business. Now he is president of the American League of Municipalities, the American League of Municipalities, re-nominated for mayor by the greatest majority ever known, after the hardest fight ever made in the city. The council which goes into office with him is composed of men selected by him. Of the aspirants in the several words MacVicar indicated his per-sonal choices for nomination and election and in every case the man he had endorsed before them: the present city engineer was a candidate for renomination, but had had a feud with MacVicar and was overwhelmingly defeated by a MacVicar man. For market master there were a dozen candidates, the MacVicar forces were understood to favor Frank Blagburn, colored, and he wan pushed into the front rank. By the
