SPENDING SURPLUS FOR SCHOOL SITES

Burgess' Resolution that the Board of Education Invest in Vacant Lots Defented by One Vote Only.

A very promising real estate boom was punctured by a margin of one vote at the regular meeting of the Board of Education last night. For some time past there has been an undercurrent of sentiment on the part of several members of the board in ing the season in order to have matured favor of the purchase of additional school celery ready for the market at all times, property with a view to the erection of Celery is planted in trenches and as it grows property with a view to the erection of buildings within the next two or three years. It was proposed to take the $25,000 that was added to the appropriation by the city council on the assurance of the board that it was needed for a new building to replace that the Pacific school and apply it to the colory that is caused by its on the market has a rusty colory that is caused by its on the market has a rusty colory that is caused by its on the market has a rusty colory that is caused by its on the market has a rusty colory that is caused by its on seeded for a new building to replace that the Pacific school and apply it to the that the Pacific school and apply it to the purchase of real estate in other parts of the soil. proceedings by the report of the committee on public property and buildings on the proposition of W. R. Homan to sell the board one of two sites for a school between to be best adapted to celery culture, as the plants require much moisture. In many mended that the propositions be placed on file, as the board had no money to invest in real estate at this time. Burgess vigorously opposed the report. He said that he was in favor of running the schools wide open and if the money gave out then close the schools and let the people place the respon-sibility where it belonged. He declared that several of the school buildings. New buildings were needed now and it was only a ques tion of a short time when they must be The real estate could be purchased cheaper now than in the future and he was in favor of buying a site in the northern part of the city and another toward the west Hess took the same view and Johnson defended the committee report. Burgess' mo-tion to refer the matter back to the commitwas lost by 6 to 5 and the report was then adopted.

REPORT ON FINES. Attorney Gaines submitted a verbal report relative to the inquiry in regard to the fall-ing off of the receipts from fines, which was recently referred to him. He said that his investigations had indicated that the numbe of arrests had not varied materially from year to year. The arrests ran about 6,000 a year, but the number of convictions secured in 1897 was only 1,800, as compared with over 3,000 under Judge Berka. Where the fault lay for the evident failure to effect convictions it was not his purpose to say. The attorney stated that a large proportion of the decrease in revenue was attributable to the fact that prostitutes were not fined as formerly. These fines had added over $15,000 a year to the school fund, or about 80 per cent of the entire amount received from police court fines. He opined, however, that while the old system might be advised as a matter of policy there was no legal war-

In regard to the power of the board to issue warrants in excess of its resources the attorney advised that the warrants would be legal, but that it would not be good policy to isssue them in excess of the assets reasonably to be expected.

The troublesome question whether the assembly room in the city hall shall be used for other than school purposes was revived by a request from Z. T. Lindsey, manager of the Department of Ways and Means of the exposition, that the use of the room be allowed to the exposition chorus. The usual debate was repeated, but a motion to place the letter on file was defeated and it was referred to President Jordan with power to

FIRE PROTECTION FOR SCHOOLS.

Chief Redell of the fire department called extention to the fact that a number of the school buildings were remote from fire alarm boxes and suggested that it was very desirable that some measures be taken to connect them with the department. The communication was referred to a committee with instructions to ascertain the cost of the service and report at the next meeting.

The superintendent of buildings was di-rected to confer with the Board of Park Commissioners relative to securing trees to be planted on school grounds.

Superintendent Pearse submitted a brief report of his recent trip to Chattanooga and Washington, which was placed on file. The report of Treasurer Edwards showed a balance of $66,705.52 in the school fund at the end of February.

On recommendation of the committee of teachers and examinations, the following teachers were placed on the assigned list to be used as their services may be needed: dsabelle Graham, Emma Rosicky, C. John-son, Helen Copeland, Edith McCoy, Josephine

Gromlich, Eliza Wescott, Fannie Brome, Eliza Gibbs and Minnie Allison. On motion of Burgess the secretary was directed to ask the treasurer to state why the license fees on account of hack drivers, junk dealers, slot machines, dogs and coal dealers were not covered into the school

Burgess also offered a couple of resolution that will be of interest to the city council. The first referred to the tax of $1,450.32 which the board paid on account of grading Hickory street from Fifth to Sixth street. The street was never graded, and the board has made several efforts to get its money back, but without success. By this resolu-tion the attorney is directed to ascertain whether there was any legal process by which the city could be compelled to either grade the street or refund the tax.

WANTS THE COUNCIL TO SETTLE. It was adopted, as was also his resolution which instructed the secretary to request the council to provide for the deficit of $61,287.52 in the fiscal year ending in July, 1897, being the difference between the $400,000 asked for by the board and $338,712.48, the amount provided. Also the deficit of $44,054.47 for the fiscal year ending in July, 1896, and the deficit of $54,050.92 for the year ending in

There was a lively discussion on Kiewit's resolution providing that the union scale should be paid to all employes of the board and that the superintendent of buildings should procure street railway chips for men who, by reason of being transferred from one building to another, were obliged to pay more than two fares a day. A motion to postpone action was defeated and a motion to place the resolution on file suffered a similar fate. Buchanan urged that if the board paid the union scale it was all the employes could ask and Kiewit stated that the resolution contemplated a saving of $3,000 a year. He said that laborers employed by the board were receiving 65 cents a day more than the union scale.

Burgess declared that some of these laborers were doing mechanics' work and that the men regularly employed by the board were the best mechanics in the city. If the board could keep such men by paying them a few cents additional per hour he was in favor of doing it. On roll call the resolution was lost by a close vote at Last Night's Session. No matters of importance were considered before the Board of Pire and Police Commis sioners at its meeting last night. It had been rumored that the board would cause the appointment of forty special policemen and the rooms were crowded with candidates. They were disappointed, as were a number of residents in the neighborhood of 3802 Sherman avenue, who were present to protest against the granting of a saloon license to the Schlitz Brewing company at that location. The hearing of the latter case was postponed until next Monday night.

The sum of $10 was appropriated from the funds of the Police Relief association to A.

J. Aldrich to recompense him for the value of a bicycle which was sold at the last police auction. He had been confined in a hos-

Then a movement was on foot to secure the southwest corner of Thirteenth and Farnam streets, known as the Hellman block, and transform it into suitable offices. This scheme fell through cally recently, when the Hellman block was leased for hotel purposes during the exposition. Since then efforts have been made to secure the northwest corner of Fourteenth and Farnam streets, and it now looks as

AGE LIMIT FOR THE SHOP HANDS.

Old Men Being Weeded Out of Union Some of the eighty-seven machinists and other laborers who were dismissed from the Union Pacific shops at Laramie, Wyo., last week have secured positions in the machine and car shops of the company at other points on the road. But the bulk of the men are till out of employment, and there is but litle likelihood of their being put back to work soon. The same is true of the twelve mold-ers who were let out from the foundry of the local shops on Friday night of last week. The work of casting still goes on there, but it is said the men discharged can be

The men in the shops are of the opinion that a maximum age limit has been fixed by the new management of the road, as the great majority of the men discharged have been old men. The younger men who have been let out are said to be men known to be less proficient than the average man in their respective departments. Just what this age limit that is fixed by the new unwritten rule is no one knows, but it is generally thought to be 60 years. One old employe was recently asked by his foreman how old he was, and as he happened to be over the limit he was given his time within less

Demand for Securities for the School

It is beginning to dawn upon the county commissioners that there was never a time when there was any prospect of the $180,000 of poor farm funding bonds going begging for want of purchasers. During the last week and since the supreme court held that the issue was legal, three eastern firms have written to the county officials, stating that if Farson, Leach & Co. of Chicago did not want the securities they would take them and pay as high a price as has heretofore been bid.

The state, however, is not likely to secure the bonds, as Farson, Leich & Co. have written that they want the entire issue at their former bid and that they will be ready to take them in the course of a week or ten days. They say that they would take them at once were it not due to the fact that since the issue there has been a change in the office of county clerk, D. M. Haverly hav-ing succeeded Mei H. Redfield. For their own protection, as well as for the protection of the county, the Chicago purchasers thick t advisable to have new bonds printed with he name of County Clerk Haverly lithographed on the coupons. This motion when put to the convention was declared lost and then Barrett made a motion to leave the whole ticket open with the exception of two councilmen and four members of the Board of Education. This suggestion brought out a storm of protests and it was openly stated that such a course meant the defeat of the whole ticket. Butterfield, especially, was particularly positive in his statement that such action could not but result disastrously to the party. After a long wrangle the motion to leave the ticket with the exceptions mentioned was put and carried. There was no apparent opposition to the nomination of Caldwell and Mandeville for the council.

DREXEL, THE SHOE MAN.

A farmer with a "Dally Bee,"
His favorite paper, on his knee,
His glasses on, so be could see,
Was looking o'er page number three
"Ah, there he is!" he loudly cried,
Emotion that he could not hide.
His wife come quickly to his side,
"Tis Drexel, see?" he said, with pride.
I tell you, that man must be great
To have his picture here in state—
A different way each day, "That's straight!
His deg is glad, at any rate,
Say, Manday lets us go down there—
How much it costs I do not care—
It's long since we've been anywhere;
Of traveling we should get our share.
Besides, I cannot sleep a night
Till I see Drexel by real daylight,
And see if the dog will really, bite
And see the shoes he claims are out of sight.
