just been sentenced to six months in jail at Toronto, Canada, for theft. The infor-mation was volunteered because Harrison jumped a bond in this city. Harrison is a colored man, but posed as a Mexican when he arrived here last May. He cut a big swath, committing a half dozen different jobs of larceny. He was arrested and was convicted on one of the cases. He was sentenced to thirty days in the county jail, but appealed the case. One day a Denver detective dropped into the police station and seeing Harrison's pic-ture, said that he had jumped his bond in Denver and was wanted there for a $500 robbery. A trip was taken to the county jail, but not ten minutes before Harrison had been released on an appeal bond and he has not returned since. The Omaha authorities will not attempt to secure Harrison when his Toronto sen-tence expires, but the Denver people pro-pose to extradite him. EVENTS ON THE RUNNING TRACKS.
