Stolen Teams. Two teams were reported to the police yesterday as having been stolen. One team, belonging to a farmer named A. Cartright, disappeared from the southern part of town while the owner was paying a visit to some of his friends. Cartright lives in Lewis township. He left his team hitched to a post, and a team belonging to another farmer friend was left tied to Cartright's wagon. The men were in the house only a few minutes, but when they came out both teams had disappeared. The matter was reported to the sheriff's office, as well as to the city police, and a large number of postal eards were printed and sent out. The farm-ers remained in town all night. When they returned to their homes yesterday they found both teams there. The other horses were taken from the barn of A. C. Ellsworth, a milkman, at 1618 Sixteenth street. The animals were taken from the stable on Saturday night, but Ellsworth had the impression that some of his friends had taken them. He reached the conclusion yesterday that they were stolen and called for police as-

Judge Woolson yesterday pronounced sening to the government, which came into his possession while acting as collector of customs. The sentence was four years' imprisonment in the penitentiary and a fine of ization of a national bank in the near future $2,600.

An extraordinarily strong effort was made by a large number of Whittlesey's friends to secure as light a sentence as possible, and for the purpose of giving all who chose to intercede in his behalf an opportunity to be heard Judge Woolson held a conference with them in chambers during the forencon. An hour or more was spent and a great many earnest pleas for mercy were made. Judge Woolson made use of all the opportunities to learn all that could be said in favor of the condemned man. In addition to all that was said a large number of letters all that was said a large number of letters were received by the judge, many of which have been in his possession for some time. One was written by the aged mother of the young man. Old Man Returns Home. Clay Porter, the old man who was found wandering around in the western part of the city late Tuesday night, was returned to his home in Omaha yesterday morning. His daughter, Mrs. Sudolf Haarmann, living at 1928 South Twentieth street, Omaha, saw the item in the morning papers and came to the station yesterday morning and took her father home. He wandered away from her home early Tuesday morning and her friends and the police were looking for him in Omaha and South Omaha all day, notwithstanding the fact that the Council Bluffs department had advised the Omaha officers that the old man was being detained here and they had reason to believe his home was in Omaha. The old man had wandered into East Omaha and had crossed the river in a skiff after being refused permission to walk over the bridge on account of not having the nickel. When he reached this city he imagined he was in Knoxville, his former home. He walked many miles in his wanderings and was nearly exhausted when he was taken in by some of the residents near the

TWENTY-ONE VOTES CAST AGAINST IT

Sent Back to the Senate, Where It Will Pass Today, and by Friday or Saturday It Will Be Law.

DES MOINES, March 22 .- (Special Telegram.)-The board of control bill passed this morning in the house by the vote of 71 to 20. It was messaged back to the senate in the afternoon and referred to the ways and means committee to consider the house amendments. There were few of them and none of them important. The most serious change was the addition of the sections which place the three educational institutions under the board of control as to their financial conduct. It was thought the senate might protest aga'r:st this, but instead the ways and means committee unanimously voted to accept all the house amendments. The report will be made to the senate tomorrow, when the bill will doubtless pass and be ready for the governor. The expectation is that it will be enrolled and in the governor's hands the latter part of the week, and by Friday or Saturday the governor will send his nominations for the board to the senate. PERILS OF AFFECTION.

Few People Realize How Exhausting the Tender Sentiment Is-A Physic clan's Good Advice.

There is no way by which people exhaust themselves or kill themselves, so quickly as by exercising the affections."

This striking remark was made by one of the best physicians in America. He was a man who had studied deeply, observed keenly, and knew men and women thoroughly. Continuing, he said:

"Sentiment is a grand, a lovely thing, and the world cannot live without it, but the exercise of the sentiments invariably ex-The known dead are:
