

Omaha, March 25th, 1898.

Long We have placed on our Vellings... Cloth—linen counter, 100 pieces of Imperial Cloth, chambray finish, 36 inches wide, 12 yards in a piece, for $1.00 a bolt.

New Separate Skirts—There is a great deal of difference in the make up of skirts. Some skirts are made right and hang properly; ours are made with that chic tailor-made effect which ladies so much desire.

Summer Comforters—complete line. Silkline covered, filled with the finest quality laminated cotton. Soft and cozy. Prices $1.00, $1.25, $1.50, $2.00 each. Never have such fine goods shown at these prices.

Hartman's—Sanitary Napkins for women. Made of wood wool hygienic and antiseptic. Each package contains six napkins in each package, at 30c per package.

New Tailor-Made Suits—The tailor-made suits which we sell. Are very different from the ready-made suits usually offered.

Ribbons everywhere. In graduating bands—for pleats, quillings, sashes, ruffles—not to mention neckwear.

Men's Furnishing—weight cotton combination suits. We have them in size 3 only. Reduced from $1.50 and $1.25 to $1.00 a suit.

The Japanese Mr. Torayo Artist—Katow, of Japan, is here. We have reserved special parlors for his embroidery classes, and all the ladies of Omaha are invited to join.

Roman stripes, bayaderes, basket weaves in plaids; all the latest from the looms. Sashes in fancy plaids, $3.25 each.

Men's Collars—Our own special brand of men's linen collars. In all the new shapes. We aim to keep this line complete at all times.

THOMPSON, BELDEN & CO.

aggregated and that he had directed his efforts in the first instance to the exposure of the supposed exaggerations. He had concluded, however, that an overstatement of the horrors of the situation was impossible.

people. They are now being attended and nursed and administered to by the charity of the United States. Think of the spectacle! We are feeding these citizens. We are nursing their sick, we are saving their lives. We are doing for them more than they could do for themselves.

would undoubtedly lead to war. But if war came it would come by act of Spain, not by act of the United States. The independence of the island is a matter of course. It is a matter of course that all people on the island are maintained by the United States.

Spain cannot put an end to the existing condition. She cannot conquer the insurgents. She cannot re-establish her sovereignty over any considerable portion of the interior of the island. The revolutionists, while unable to maintain themselves, cannot drive the Spanish army from the fortified seacoast towns.

Spain cannot put an end to the existing condition. She cannot conquer the insurgents. She cannot re-establish her sovereignty over any considerable portion of the interior of the island. The revolutionists, while unable to maintain themselves, cannot drive the Spanish army from the fortified seacoast towns.

Spain cannot put an end to the existing condition. She cannot conquer the insurgents. She cannot re-establish her sovereignty over any considerable portion of the interior of the island. The revolutionists, while unable to maintain themselves, cannot drive the Spanish army from the fortified seacoast towns.

Spain cannot put an end to the existing condition. She cannot conquer the insurgents. She cannot re-establish her sovereignty over any considerable portion of the interior of the island. The revolutionists, while unable to maintain themselves, cannot drive the Spanish army from the fortified seacoast towns.

Spain cannot put an end to the existing condition. She cannot conquer the insurgents. She cannot re-establish her sovereignty over any considerable portion of the interior of the island. The revolutionists, while unable to maintain themselves, cannot drive the Spanish army from the fortified seacoast towns.

Spain cannot put an end to the existing condition. She cannot conquer the insurgents. She cannot re-establish her sovereignty over any considerable portion of the interior of the island. The revolutionists, while unable to maintain themselves, cannot drive the Spanish army from the fortified seacoast towns.

Spain cannot put an end to the existing condition. She cannot conquer the insurgents. She cannot re-establish her sovereignty over any considerable portion of the interior of the island. The revolutionists, while unable to maintain themselves, cannot drive the Spanish army from the fortified seacoast towns.

Spain cannot put an end to the existing condition. She cannot conquer the insurgents. She cannot re-establish her sovereignty over any considerable portion of the interior of the island. The revolutionists, while unable to maintain themselves, cannot drive the Spanish army from the fortified seacoast towns.

Spain cannot put an end to the existing condition. She cannot conquer the insurgents. She cannot re-establish her sovereignty over any considerable portion of the interior of the island. The revolutionists, while unable to maintain themselves, cannot drive the Spanish army from the fortified seacoast towns.

Spain cannot put an end to the existing condition. She cannot conquer the insurgents. She cannot re-establish her sovereignty over any considerable portion of the interior of the island. The revolutionists, while unable to maintain themselves, cannot drive the Spanish army from the fortified seacoast towns.

Spain cannot put an end to the existing condition. She cannot conquer the insurgents. She cannot re-establish her sovereignty over any considerable portion of the interior of the island. The revolutionists, while unable to maintain themselves, cannot drive the Spanish army from the fortified seacoast towns.

Spain cannot put an end to the existing condition. She cannot conquer the insurgents. She cannot re-establish her sovereignty over any considerable portion of the interior of the island. The revolutionists, while unable to maintain themselves, cannot drive the Spanish army from the fortified seacoast towns.

Spain cannot put an end to the existing condition. She cannot conquer the insurgents. She cannot re-establish her sovereignty over any considerable portion of the interior of the island. The revolutionists, while unable to maintain themselves, cannot drive the Spanish army from the fortified seacoast towns.

Spain cannot put an end to the existing condition. She cannot conquer the insurgents. She cannot re-establish her sovereignty over any considerable portion of the interior of the island. The revolutionists, while unable to maintain themselves, cannot drive the Spanish army from the fortified seacoast towns.

Spain cannot put an end to the existing condition. She cannot conquer the insurgents. She cannot re-establish her sovereignty over any considerable portion of the interior of the island. The revolutionists, while unable to maintain themselves, cannot drive the Spanish army from the fortified seacoast towns.

resolution in memory of the late Senator Harris of Tennessee. Biographies were delivered by Mr. Wainwright, Mr. Hawley, Mr. Cokerill, Mr. Stewart, Mr. Chilton and Mr. Turley.

FREE MAN IS CALLED BY AN ENEMY. FREEMAN FEELING HIS NOTHING TO DO WITH THE CRIME.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristol has received a report from the inspectors who investigated the killing of an enemy.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The twin battleships Kentucky and Kearsarge were launched from the yards of the Newport News Dry Dock & Shipbuilding Company today in the presence of an immense crowd.

There was not a hitch in the program and cheers from 20,000 throats greeted the latest addition to the United States navy as the hull slid down the ways, the prow of one sprinkled with foaming champagne, the other christened with pure water from the home of Abraham Lincoln.

Early in the day the workmen began to gather, while an army of workmen swarmed around the grim hulls, preparing them for their maiden trip.

HOUSE DEBATING THE NAVAL BILL. Chairman Points Out Necessity for Prompt Action.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The galleries of the house were crowded today in anticipation of some exciting speeches during the consideration of the naval appropriation bill.

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

BATTLESHIPS ARE LAUNCHED. Kearsarge and Kentucky Both Safely Glided Into the Water.

CHEERED BY THIRTY THOUSAND PEOPLE. Event Passes Off Without a Hitch and is Witnessed by Many Prominent Civil and Military Dignitaries.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., March 24.—The twin battleships Kentucky and Kearsarge were launched from the yards of the Newport News Dry Dock & Shipbuilding Company today in the presence of an immense crowd.

There was not a hitch in the program and cheers from 20,000 throats greeted the latest addition to the United States navy as the hull slid down the ways, the prow of one sprinkled with foaming champagne, the other christened with pure water from the home of Abraham Lincoln.

Early in the day the workmen began to gather, while an army of workmen swarmed around the grim hulls, preparing them for their maiden trip.

HOUSE DEBATING THE NAVAL BILL. Chairman Points Out Necessity for Prompt Action.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The galleries of the house were crowded today in anticipation of some exciting speeches during the consideration of the naval appropriation bill.

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

President, by Congressman Hopkins of Illinois; "Old Dominion," by Governor J. Hoge of Kentucky; by Governor W. D. Bradley; "Our Navy," by Senator Rawlins of Utah; "The Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company," by M. E. Inalls, president of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad company.

WHICH KENTUCKY? Which Kentucky? Is it the Kentucky whose people with one acclaim return today to the distinguished secretary of the navy for the splendid compliment paid them today by the launching of the ship?

There was not a hitch in the program and cheers from 20,000 throats greeted the latest addition to the United States navy as the hull slid down the ways, the prow of one sprinkled with foaming champagne, the other christened with pure water from the home of Abraham Lincoln.

Early in the day the workmen began to gather, while an army of workmen swarmed around the grim hulls, preparing them for their maiden trip.

HOUSE DEBATING THE NAVAL BILL. Chairman Points Out Necessity for Prompt Action.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The galleries of the house were crowded today in anticipation of some exciting speeches during the consideration of the naval appropriation bill.

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

twenty-five years. The consolidated paper will be known as the Iron Trade Review and Industrial World. The publication office will be in Cleveland, with editorial and business offices in Chicago and Pittsburgh.

Dreaded Rheumatism. A WONDERFUL REMEDY HAS BEEN FOUND THAT HAS NEVER FAILED.

Renewed interest has been given to Gloria Tonic by the new rheumatism cure, by the results of a recent test at Seguin, Tex. John A. Smith of Milwaukee, Wis., proprietor of the remedy, forwarded a package to the family of Mr. Bertram of Seguin, who had been troubled with rheumatism for forty years.

WHICH KENTUCKY? Which Kentucky? Is it the Kentucky whose people with one acclaim return today to the distinguished secretary of the navy for the splendid compliment paid them today by the launching of the ship?

There was not a hitch in the program and cheers from 20,000 throats greeted the latest addition to the United States navy as the hull slid down the ways, the prow of one sprinkled with foaming champagne, the other christened with pure water from the home of Abraham Lincoln.

Early in the day the workmen began to gather, while an army of workmen swarmed around the grim hulls, preparing them for their maiden trip.

HOUSE DEBATING THE NAVAL BILL. Chairman Points Out Necessity for Prompt Action.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The galleries of the house were crowded today in anticipation of some exciting speeches during the consideration of the naval appropriation bill.

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

WHICH KENTUCKY? Which Kentucky? Is it the Kentucky whose people with one acclaim return today to the distinguished secretary of the navy for the splendid compliment paid them today by the launching of the ship?

There was not a hitch in the program and cheers from 20,000 throats greeted the latest addition to the United States navy as the hull slid down the ways, the prow of one sprinkled with foaming champagne, the other christened with pure water from the home of Abraham Lincoln.

Early in the day the workmen began to gather, while an army of workmen swarmed around the grim hulls, preparing them for their maiden trip.

HOUSE DEBATING THE NAVAL BILL. Chairman Points Out Necessity for Prompt Action.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The galleries of the house were crowded today in anticipation of some exciting speeches during the consideration of the naval appropriation bill.

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."

Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the government for the work it has accomplished in preparing for any emergency, and, speaking of congress, said: "I have not in mind to meet the extraordinary demands and as a result of great pains had reported the bill."