FIFTY-EIGHT KNOWN TO HAVE PERISHED

Bodies of Twenty-Five of Them Re covered_Were at Work on an Ice Floe When the Storm Came Up.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., March 28.-Sealing steamer Greenland has sailed into the harbor with a grewsome cargo. Twenty-five corpses were piled upon the deck and fifty-five men were moaning with terrible suffering in the holds, from the pain of frostbitten limbs and bodies. The little sealing steamer which sailed for the hunting grounds three weeks ago returned as an awful charnel house. The dead bodies were in tiers on the decks of the steamer, disfigured and almost unrecognizable from the effects of the terrib'e suffering which they had endured, presenting one of the most harrible sights human eyes ever beheld.

The Greenland set sail from St. John's, N. F., about March 1, on its fateful voyage. It was commanded by Captain George Barbour and carried a crew of nearly 300 hunters. The steamer proceeded northward with the rest of the sealing fleet, but after of days it diverged on a separate track and reached the hunting grounds not long after. All went well until Tuesday last and seals were quickly encountered and several good packs were secured. On Tues-day morning the hunters left the ship about 7 o'clock as usual, when the lookout in the row's nest reported ice pleatiful around them. The men were clad in light clothing. for the slaughtering of seals is exhausting work. Scattered over the ice field, they wandered far from the protection of the ship, and a gale and snow storm shut them out from the steamer. Long ere the storm subsided many of the unfortunate fellows had succumbed to the terrible cold and exposure. Those who did not were terribly TWO NIGHTS IN THE STORM.

The long night passed, but morning brought no help, for the storm still rage! and the atmosphere was thick with snow driven before the gale. Snow continued nearly all day and the evening brought no cessation to the high wood. Another night, one which seemed to the helpiess, drifting sufferers who still lived a thousand times longer than the first, was passed in untold agony. Some victims had already given up hope and in despair lay down and died, and every hour witnessed at least two deaths on that awful night on the ice floe. Toward thoroing the storm subsided and thus en Toward abled the survivors to see that the Greenland was not far away, searching for the missing. The steamer bore down on the drifting field of ice, which had by this time separated in a number of sections, and began the work of picking up the bodies of the dead and the almost lifeless bodies of the living. Twenty-five corpses were taken on Soard that morning, but twenty-three men were still missing and though the search was continued all day, no more were recovered. shore, reaching Bay de Verde yesterday, proceeding thence to St. Johns with its ghastly cargo. Most of the men who met this awful fate on the treacherous ice fices thus deprived of all visible means of support.

...AMUSEMENTS...

Last evening at Boyd's theater the Bostonians presented for the first time in this city "The Serenade," a comic opera in three ects, libretto by Harry B. Smith, music by Victor Herbert. The work received its first the cemark: "The storm continues, but the receivable of the committee of minister of minister for the Colonies Sector Moret as replying to a question of the ministry of marine, Admiral Bermejo, with the cemark: "The storm continues, but the New York, March 16, a year ago, by the same company. The thread of the story is in itself simple, but it affords an opportunity for many amusing complications. There is noth-ing particularly new about it, cor is it alconsistent. Indeed a consistent comb opera would be such a novelty that it would have to be relegated to a class by itself. A diagnosis of public taste reveals a demand for three elements in a comic opera. The first is a chance to laugh; the second a varied succession of bright musical numbers; the third, plenty of dancing. As a background for these may be artistic scenery and striking costumes. Sensible ponsense is not an essential—any will do. Mr. Smith—probably with the aid of those behind the footlights has aggregated a number of ideas which pass easily for jokes. Some of them are rather imported and would profit by translation, but for made-to-order jokes they aver-age well. The lyrics are well written and leave a number of versification rules un-

All in all, Mr. Smith has afforded his audience a chance to laugh and his co-worker a frame upon which to string his melodies. Of Mr. Herbert's music much might be said. The overture is written in a rather formless style and consists of odds and ends from various parts of the opera. One theme is that which is known as "The Serenade," the "damaed tune" which impels the duke through all the imaginary misery, the observation of which is the chief amusement to the audience. As music it is the poorest number in the whole opera and justly deserves the duke's encomium. It seems to country music store by a deaf man, upon a very dark night.

The best number, and one that would do eredit to a grand opera, is "The Angelus," sung by Dolores and the chorus in the sec ond act. Other notable numbers are the waitz song, "Cupid and I," sung by Yvonne in the second act; "I Envy the Bird," sung by Lopes in the third act; "Dreaming, Dreaming," sung by the duke and others in the third act, and "The Song of the Car-bine," sung by Romero in the first act. The orchestration of the whole work is such as one would expect from a musician who has spent years in the orchestra and who can paint like an artist in tone color. Rythmically the opera is not strong; the com poser's inventive genius does not seem to run that way. He seems to be best as a writer of harmony, although a number of his melodies possess a spontuniety that erouses admiration. The position of the Bostonians as an opera company is already established and it is useless to go into details regarding the work of its members. The chorus is all that such an assemblage of monks, nons, brigands and beauties (?) can be expected to be, and the orchestra—which included the men regularly employed at the theater and about a dozer musicians belonging to the company—con tributed generously to the evening's pleasure. Samuel L. Studley, the conductor, deserves special mention. He is a tower of strength and so thorough a musician that he can't help showing it in all that he does. The reliance which his assistants place on him is a worthy compliment. VIEWS OF THE FOREIGN PRESS

French Inclined to Take the Spanish Side of the Controversy. MADRID, March 28 .- The Imparcial and the Liberal today agree in saying that the mediation of the European powers will be difficult, in view of the crisis in the far east adding: "Anyway, Spain is able herself to resent insults and repudiate unjust demands.

The Journal approves of M. Hanctaux's adoption of neutrality, "the moral standpoint of which permits him to assist in solving the difficulty. Liberal also says: "If the The United States desires to succor the Cutcus the simplest means is to confide the mission to the Spanish Red Cross, which was recently helped in the same object by France, Russia, Hungary, Portugal, Venezuela and Argentine. The Spanish Red Cross is well organized in Cuba and besides many members are ready to go there from Spain if necessary. However, if the United States wants war, let it say at trankly and not seek charitable or humanitarian excuses."

resentation at the Knickerbocker theater, barometer is rising." This is regarded as meaning that the situation is not so unfavorable to Spain as it was.

The official newspapers are somewhat optimistic in their reference to the "solution of the Cuban difficulty," although they emphasize the opinion that the recrudescence of the far eastern question is unfa-vorable to Spain, "as diverting the attention of the European powers."

LONDON, March 28.—The Figaro today says: There is more reason today than yesterday to suppose that the ostentatious pol-icy of the United States will be transformed into a ready, active policy. The sole danger of war lies now in the new Cortes allowing itself to be drawn into replying to the imper:inences addressed to Spain."
The Eclair says: "In spite of the pessimis.

tic cable dispatches, we do not believe war is inevitable." The St. James Gazette, commenting this afternoon on the report of the United States myal court of inquiry into the loss of the battleship Maine, says:

"There can be no doubt Spain owes reparation to the American government, to say nothing of the most humble apologies and the most extreme consideration for the feelings of the nation which has lost a fine cruiser lying in peace in a presumably friendly harbor. The outlook is as threat-ening as it could be. Spain is in the wrong and it is for Spain to walk warily."

The Westminster Gazette says: "The resources of diplomacy ought not yet be ex-hausted. We trust President McKinley will maintain his unexceptionable attitude and not allow himself to be lingoed into war." The Globe thinks the report "Gives Spain ground for maintaining that it shows bias," adding: "The evidence that a mine caused the explosion is meager, unconvincing and not borne out by previous experiences of the effects caused by mines exploding." In conclusion, the Globe says: "Whichever way we look at the matter, it is hard to agree with the verdict of the court of incontry."

The Temps admits President McKinley is in a most difficult position, and strongly urge the disputants to consent to mediation or even arbitration, adding: "In any case, Europe is ready to offer good offices."

ST. LOUIS EXCHANGE HOLDS BACK.

President Opposed to Endorsing the Administration's Policy. ST. LOUIS,, March 28 .- It is ancounced this afternoon that the St. Louis Merchants exchange will not follow the lead of other boards of trade of Boston and Philadelphia in officially endorsing the course of President McKinley in the present crisis or officially assuring the executive that its mem-bers would stand by him whatever his ultimate action might be. President Chris-topher Sharp refuses to put either of these questions to a vote, though he tas been re-quested to do so. Today he received a com-munication from the president of the Philadelphia Board of Trade, stating that the ident of the United States and asking him to obtain a similar pledge from the local exchange. Preceding this message came one from the executive of the Boston Board of Trade asking for an endorsement of President McKinley's policy. Mr. Sharp replied to both, that the St. Louis Merchants' exchange would defer action.

"The exchange does not refuse to endorse the president," said Mr. Sharp. "I do not believe in endorsing a policy before I know what that policy is. As to pledging our-selves to stand by the president, that would be useless. Every American will do that, once the decision is arrived at. It is not time for a body like ours to endorse a policy. That is a matter that congress should deal with."

nounced today that the United States gun boat Princeton, which is being built at Dialogues ship yard, Camden, is rapidly nearing completion and that it will leave Dialogues ship yard, Camden, is rapidly nearing completion and that it will leave the shipyard in about a week for League island navy yard to receive its fittings preparatory to its final trial trip. Since the first indication of possible trouble with Spain workmen have been engaged night and day on the war ship, and as a result it is ow practically ready for sea.

The Princeton is not a large craft, but is perfect in its appointments and admirably adopted to cruising in shallow Chinese and South American waters, for which it is insouth American waters, for which it is in-tended. It draws but twelve fet of water and its other dimensions are: One hundred and sixty-eight feet, water line; 204 feet over all; thirty-six feet beam and 1,000 tons displacement. It is fitted with 850-horse power engines and is expected to attain a speed of twelve knots per hour. The new boat's armament will consist of six 4-inch quick-firing guns, four six-pounders, two one-pounders, one three-inch breech-loading howitzer and one guiling gun. Its comple-ment will be 160 officers and men. The boat has a steel hull with a wood skin and cop per, with which it can remain a long time at sea without having to be docked.

TRENTON, N. J., March 28 .- Adjutant General Stryker received word from Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt today to hold ninety-five of the New Jersey naval eserve in readiness to take the monitor Montauk from League Island navy yard to Portland, Me. Governor Voorhees said today that the order from Washington for the transporting of the monitor is expected in two or three days. The ninety-five men have already been selected from the Battalion of the East, comprising Jersey City and Newark. The members of the battalion are con-sidered good sailors. Last summer they bud considerable practice on the Portsmouth and one day they had full charge of the battle-ship Maine off the coast of New London. They were complimented by the chief officers of the Maine.

Snow Stops the Rolling, but the Building Goes On.

The heavy fall of snow Sunday has delayed proceedings at the base ball park, and nothing more can be done toward rolling the diamond until after the snow has melted and the ground has partially dried: Manager O'Brien had expected to make up two nines and play a game Saturday after noon, but this will have to be postponed for a few days. The fence building is still going on and the management is figuring on the lumber for the grand stand today. Some idea of the accommodations that are to be provided is indicated by the fact that it will require 60,000 feet of lumber to build the grand stand and bleachers.

Manager O'Brien spent Sunday in Chicago, but will probably return this morn-ing. It is hoped that he will bring back a definite announcement in regard to a first baseman for the Omaha team. Third Baseman McKinney has returned from Hastings and is ready for preliminary prac-

Last night the republicans held a rally at Franck's hall in the Second ward, which was well attended. Much, enthusiasm was displayed and the remarks of the candidates were well received -Phil Winter of the county attorney's office, Omaha, delivered the principal address of the evening. He talked republicanism from the start and received hearty applause. A number of candidates, including P. J. Barrett, spoke and were greatly encouraged at the showing made.

Tonight a meeting will most likely be held at Bemhke's hall, Twentieth and Misseuri avenue, for the benefit of the eastsiders. The arrangements for this meeting were not completed last night, so that the speakers cannot be announced until later. On Wedneday evening there will be a grand rally at Pivonka's hall, Twenty-fourth and L streets, when all of the candidates are expected and the address of the evening vill be delivered by James H. Twentyballots will be held at Blum's hall, Twenty sixth and N streets, on Monday evening of of the candidates on the republican ticket are exerting themselves to the utmost and are confident of success. It is predicted by the central committee that the entire republican councilmanic ticket will be elected, in addition to the head of the ticket, clerk and police judge. The candidates for members of the Board of Education are not spending a great deal of time making a canvass, but the election of Sla-baugh and King seems certain. At least that is the claim made by members of the central committee.

Clerk Carpenter is making friends every day and he has a host to begin with. Since his incumbency the records of the office have been kept right up to date and all perers are filed so that they can be found without delay. Another good point in his favor is that he is always to be found at his office. This is something that cannot be said of his predecessors.

Delay in Sidewalk Building.

Residents in the Fourth ward are com plaining because the sidewalk ordered some time ugo on the north side of L street from Sharp to Thirty-seventh streets has not been The present walk has been down for a number of years and is reported to be in a dilapidated condition. The council ordered this work done several weeks ago, but the street commissioner has not paid any uttention to the order as yet. A walk was also cordered on the south side of L street from Sharp to Thirty-third street and this had not been laid either. The stock yards company the south street and the south pany owns all the property on the south side of L street, and it was necessary to poss an ordinance to procure this improve-ment. Although thirty days have elapsed ince this ordinance became a law, there is no sign of a walk yet. Nearly five months ago the council ordered a walk laid on the south side of J street between Thirty-recond and Thirty-third streets, but the work on this has not yet commenced.

Collection of Personal Taxes. The city treasurer's books show that fully 75 per cent of the 1897 personal tax has already been collected. This is a remarkable showing and is evidence that times are much better than a year ago, when at this time not 40 per cent of the 1896 personal tax had been paid, All of the corporations and the big mercantile, concerns here paid these taxes before or egon after they became delinquent, while the small property holder has not been much behind. One practice formerly in vogue here has that is the removal from the city of merchants without first paying the tax assessed against them. It used to be a common pracice for small dealers to open a store here along in the spring and remain until just after the tax became delinquent and then close up or sell out and move away. This year a stop has been put to such work and everyone is compelled to pay personal taxes.

Exchange Building Ball. There is some talk among the members of the Live Stock exchange of opening the new building on April 1 with a grand ball and banquet. Quite a number of the members of the exchange are known to be in favor of such a plan and it may possibly be carried through. The finishing touches are now being placed on the interior of the new building and the stock yards company is confident that everything will be ready for the opening April 1, which was the day set when ground was broken last winter. Owing to a change in the original plans there be a slight delay in the receipt of the big double doors to the south entrance, but tem-porary doors are now in place, which will answer all purposes until the hard wood entrance fixtures arrive.

motherhood, the best protection she can give to the tender little life which is dependent upon her own, is to fortify herself with the health-bringing "Pavorite Prescription" prepared by Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., and sold by all dealers in medicines.

All the dangers of motherhood and most of its pains and discomforts are entirely banished by the use of this rare "Prescription." It gives clastic strength and true healthful vitality to the special organs and nerve-centres involved in motherhood. This healthful condition is transmitted to the baby both by the improved quality of the mother's secreted nourishment and by the child's increased constitutional vigor. It is a perfect health protector to them both. No other medicine was ever devised by an educated, scientific, physician for the express purpose of bringing health and strength to the special feminine organs. No other preparation ever accomplished this purpose so scientifically and effectually.

Dr. Ridpath stuck to cold facts instead of making a history to suit any particular person. We know the doctor doesn't like all the facts in the work-but he didn't make one of them. Because he didn't, because he simply wove the world's history into story, the work will live and will long remain what it is today-the best history of the nations and races of mankind available to Ameri-
