SCHOOL BOARD TO TAKE THE LOT.

Agrees to Complete the Trade with the City.

The Board of Education met in special session last night to receive the report of its attorney on the title to the city lot which it is proposed to accept in part payment for the Dodge school property.

The discussion was prompted by the fact that there is now a suit pending in which the right to the ownership of the lot by the city is questioned.

Several of the members objected to such action on the ground that while the title was undoubtedly good, the circumstances were such that it would be better to purchase the lot.

A MAN SAID TO US YESTERDAY...

MAN SAID TO US YESTERDAY, you seem to have a great deal to say about boys' suits and shirtwaists. Why don't you advertise hats? Well, ain't we advertising hats? Ain't we doing it every day? Ain't we selling as fine a hat as ever a man put on his head for three dollars and ain't we selling the great Nebraska Special for $1.50, and ain't we selling a full fur hat for 75 cents? What does he call that? Ain't that advertising hats? What does he call showing a man our best hat and placing it alongside Mr. Whats-Name's five dollar hat and letting the man pick out the best one and seeing him pick out ours every time and saving him two dollars right there? We'd like to know if that ain't advertising Nebraska hats. And we'd like to know where's the paper that would do us half as much good? Talk about advertising hats! Why, bless you, last Saturday a man came in here and told our hat man that he made it his business to go around to every place in Omaha that sold hats and that nowhere did he see as many hats or as great a variety of hats, or as good hats for the price. We sell hats at 75c, $1.00, $1.50, $2.00, $2.50 and $3.00, and if anybody gets a bad hat here at any price we give him a new one free. If that ain't advertising hats we ain't on to our business and we'd like somebody to come around and put us on.

What does he call that? Ain't that advertising hats? What does he call showing a man our best hat and placing it alongside Mr. Whats-Name's five dollar hat and letting the man pick out the best one and seeing him pick out ours every time and saving him two dollars right there? We'd like to know if that ain't advertising Nebraska hats. And we'd like to know where's the paper that would do us half as much good? Talk about advertising hats! Why, bless you, last Saturday a man came in here and told our hat man that he made it his business to go around to every place in Omaha that sold hats and that nowhere did he see as many hats or as great a variety of hats, or as good hats for the price. We sell hats at 75c, $1.00, $1.50, $2.00, $2.50 and $3.00, and if anybody gets a bad hat here at any price we give him a new one free. If that ain't advertising hats we ain't on to our business and we'd like somebody to come around and put us on.

MAN SAID TO US YESTERDAY, you seem to have a great deal to say about boys' suits and shirtwaists. Why don't you advertise hats? Well, ain't we advertising hats? Ain't we doing it every day? Ain't we selling as fine a hat as ever a man put on his head for three dollars and ain't we selling the great Nebraska Special for $1.50, and ain't we selling a full fur hat for 75 cents? What does he call that? Ain't that advertising hats? What does he call showing a man our best hat and placing it alongside Mr. Whats-Name's five dollar hat and letting the man pick out the best one and seeing him pick out ours every time and saving him two dollars right there? We'd like to know if that ain't advertising Nebraska hats. And we'd like to know where's the paper that would do us half as much good? Talk about advertising hats!
