LOOKS PROSPEROUS IN ADAMS.

Winter wheat and rye in the best condition for the year.

HASTINGS, Neb., April 2.—(Special.)—The Bee correspondent took a drive through Adams county this week for the purpose of ascertaining the condition of crops in this vicinity. All along the road were seen large fields of fall wheat and rye, and these fields are looking much better than the same kind of grain has looked at this time of year for a number of years.

A close look at the grain showed that the drilled grain is looking a little better. The farmers say this winter the grain was planted a little deeper and the drill puts it in a little furrow just below the surface so the drying March winds do not have such a good chance to blow the dirt away from the plants.

All farmers have begun to sow spring wheat and oats and it is predicted there will be a large acreage of these grains sown this spring. The recent rain put the ground in the very best of condition for plowing.

Nearly every farmer in Adams county has an orchard and they predict an immense apple yield this year. They say that with a wet fall last year and plenty of snow during the winter the tree roots have been kept moist and there will be an abundant crop of apples which is essential to a large fruit yield.

Thousands of cattle were brought to Adams county to feed and there will be a large number of calves and calves to turn upon the early grass. Upon nearly every farm one can see large crabs of corn and numerous stacks of hay, which are the result of the winter's work.

Feeding was necessary until that time. Speaking with prominent farmers upon their financial condition, they are unanimous in expressing the opinion that with good crops this year and a continuation of present prices for grain and stock that a majority of the farmers in Adams county will be entirely free from debt before the first of next year. As everything is in the best of condition now everybody seems perfectly contented.

IMPORTANT SUIT AT CHADRON.

Action Brought for Damages Against an Ex-County Judge.

CHADRON, Neb., April 2.—(Special.)—Suit has been instituted in the district court of Dawes county by Christopher O'Brien of Fort Robinson against Perry E. Baird, ex-county judge, for $1,878 damages. The plaintiff was appointed guardian on May 1, 1894, of the persons and estates of Robert and John Parsley, and came into possession of some $2,000 or more belonging to the Parsley estate. Baird, who was appointed guardian, compelled him on November 25, 1894, and January 25, 1895, to withdraw from deposit and loan to Burr Shelton and G. D. Chapin the respective amounts of $750 and $500 on Chadron real property. He also claims that these loans were made against his wish; that the security was insufficient and the money is a dead loss to the heirs.

County judge E. S. Reeker has refused to allow plaintiff credit upon his account as guardian for these amounts and has continued to charge the $1,250 with interest from the date of the loans. Judge Reeker authorized the action brought against Mr. Baird.

A meeting of the Dawes County Agricultural association will be held next Saturday, when steps will be taken toward perfecting plans for an exhibit from Dawes county at the Transmississippi Exposition.

It is believed that an exhibit will be arranged for which will be equal to any county exhibit at the exposition.

The mooted question concerning the outcome of the Chadron Recorder legal difficulty has been settled by the lapsing of the paper.

They say they did it because they had a grievance against Section Foreman Peterson on whom they had a clubhouse and the scene of the wreck was doubtless the result of dime novel reading.

Disastrous Fire at Lincoln.

Sparks from the Embers of Friday Night's Conflagration.

LOSS IS OVER TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND.

Engine and Nine Men from Omaha Go to the Rescue on a Special Over the Burlington Road.

LINCOLN, April 2.—(Special Telegram.)—The fire last night was the most costly conflagration in the history of Lincoln, a conservative estimate of the loss being $200,000, of which probably one-half is covered by insurance.

The origin of the fire is not known, but it is supposed to have started from the electric wires in the basement of the Davis furniture store. On account of the smoke for the first hour the firemen could not locate the blaze and worked at random in the basement. When it broke through to the upper floors the water pressure weakened and the flames crept to the adjoining buildings. It was not at first thought that the Richards block was in serious danger, as it was taller than the building and supposed to have a solid wall. But there was a weak point and the fire went through. At the back part of the Richards block, on the east side, there was originally one story higher than the Davis building. At this point there were two windows in the east wall. Last year the Davis building was raised one story higher and covered glass windows, the openings being stopped up in a temporary manner. It was here that the flames broke through, and the window holes in the wall this morning tell the story. Had it not been for this weak point the Richards block could have been saved.

When the flames seemed to be beyond control and the water pressure gave down, the department at Omaha was asked to send aid. The help did not arrive until 3:30 a. m., however, the special which started from Omaha at 2 o'clock having been delayed at Gretna by hot boxes. When the ten members of the Omaha department appeared they were heartily cheered by the crowd, but the fire was then so well under control that they were not needed. The steamer and hose sent from Omaha were not unloaded from the cars.

The Lincoln firemen were worn out by the fire, but not a single accident was recorded.

At this hour the list of companies having policies on the burned buildings and contents cannot be given as there are a large number involved. The Davis building and stock carried policies in almost 100 companies. In the Richards block there were almost 200 policies. The Davis building and insurance and some did not. The attorneys and professional men in the building saved part of their books and office furniture.

The American Exchange National bank has opened up at the corner of Eleventh and P streets, at the room of the old Lincoln Savings bank. The two insurance companies having headquarters in the Richards block have moved across the street to the Capitol hotel block and are ready to resume business. None of the safes or vaults in the ruins can be inspected on account of the smoldering fire in the basements and the high walls, which seem ready to topple over at any moment. The Richards block and Davis buildings are entire ruins. The Lan-

BRANN AND DAVIS ARE BOTH DEAD.

Closes the Pierce Fund Which Has Unsettled Waco.

WACO, Tex., April 2.—Captain Thomas E. Davis, Brann's antagonist in the terrible street duel yesterday, lingered till 3 o'clock this afternoon. The men were bitter foes and fought it out together after their own fashion, making a bloody ending of a fierce feud, which terminates now and tranquilizes the city after adding four men to the roll of violent deaths in Waco.

In Davis' dying declaration before a notary he made a statement that Ward, Brann's business manager, who was with Brann at the time, shot him as he lay on the sidewalk. Upon this statement Ward was today arrested and jailed, charged with murder.

Brann's body lies in state at his late residence. The funeral takes place Sunday afternoon.

REVOLVER ENDS HIS TROUBLE.

Domestic Difficulty the Cause of the Tragedy.

MARYVILLE, Mo., April 2.—(Special Telegram.)—Andrew J. McClain, democratic candidate for marshal of Maryville, and a prominent lawyerman, committed suicide this morning by shooting himself. The ball entered his forehead immediately above the nose and death followed instantly. McClain's act was caused by family troubles. Yesterday his wife sent for his partner in the lively business, G. W. Dodge, and told him that she had found a compromising note written by her husband and that unless he should leave the city she would commit suicide. McClain and his wife had not words, according to the neighbors. This morning he came up town early. He returned at about 7 o'clock, and was immediately arrested. The coroner's inquest will be held this afternoon.
