GAMBLERS GIVE NEW BONDS

Men Caught in Recent Raids Arrange for Future Trials.

JUDGE SLABAUGH ASKS THEM FOR SURETY

Harry V. Hayward Appears in District Court and Justifies to Secure the Liberty of Goodwin, Bell and Others.

Riley Goodwin, Cliff Cole, T. S. Jones, R. Bell and George Brown, charged with setting up and maintaining gambling devices, have appeared before Judge Slabaugh and have given bonds guaranteeing that they will appear at the May term of court and stand for trial. The bonds are in the sum of $500 each and are signed by Harry V. Hayward, who justifies and alleges that he has a large amount of property that is unincumbered. Goodwin and the other defendants were arrested when the gambling house over Lentz & Williams saloon was raided a few weeks ago. The furniture of the gambling house, consisting of tables, cards and chips is now in the custody of the court and will be used when the cases are called for trial. This property will be introduced in evidence by the police who made the raid.

Baxter on Common Law Marriage.

County Judge Baxter has entered a decree in the George W. Garrigan estate, holding that Cora V. Garrigan is entitled to the personal property and also to the real estate during her lifetime. After her death it is decreed that the property be divided between Susan Blayden and Emma Richardson, sisters of the deceased. The fight over the Garrigan estate has been long and hot. Susan Blayden and Emma Richardson claiming all of the property, both real and personal, alleging that Garrigan never having been married to Cora V. Garrigan, she was not entitled to any portion of the estate. During the hearing it developed that in 1876, Garrigan and Cora V. Garrigan commenced living together, but were not married. During this time a daughter was born, and she is now the claimant of a portion of the estate. Judge Baxter found that under the laws of the state of Nebraska, the daughter, having been born out of wedlock, had no legal interest in the estate. The court recognizes the claims of Cora V. Garrigan by reason of a common law marriage, they having lived together as husband and wife for more than ten years prior to the death of Garrigan.

Deay Court's Jurisdiction.

Frank S. Johnson, W. H. Johnson and Charles A. Sharp have filed a plea in abatement and a motion to quash the information issued from the equity division of the district court.

The Johnsons and Sharp were officers of the Millard State bank and are charged with receiving deposits after the bank was insolvent. William McKenna is the complainant and swore out an information before Judge Scott. A hearing was had and the defendants were held to appear and answer before the criminal court. In their motion, which has been placed on file, the defendants allege that the court before which they appeared was without jurisdiction in criminal cases, and that it had no authority to hold them to answer.

FRED S. KELLEY ABSCONDS

Abandons His Family and Flees from His Conductor's Results.

SHORTAGE IN HIS ACCOUNTS DISCOVERED

Local Cashier for the Phoenix Insurance Company Found to Be an Embezzler to the Amount of $2,100.

Fred S. Kelley, local cashier for the Phoenix Fire Insurance company of Brooklyn, has absconded, leaving a shortage in his accounts of some $2,100. The fact of the shortage was discovered over a week ago, but it has been carefully kept from the public, and the officers of the company, who are here, are doing their utmost to have no information of the matter slip out. Kelley left the city a week ago last Sunday, and has not been heard from since by his wife, his family or his friends, so it is said. They maintain also that they have no knowledge of his present whereabouts. He left the city, he told his wife, to visit his parents in Lincoln, and is supposed to have taken an afternoon train over the Burlington. He never went to Lincoln, however, and it is presumed that he went farther west.

The shortage as at present estimated is in the neighborhood of $2,100. It has been learned, since the case was brought to the attention of the state, that Kelley consisted of the sum sent into the Omaha office from the 600 and more agencies throughout the state. The exact amount cannot be learned, as State Agent Corryell is not in the city, and the men at present in the office profess to know nothing of the matter.

INSANE MEN TAKEN IN CUSTODY.

Preacher from Sheridan, Wyo., and a Man from South Omaha.

G. F. Dillon, supposed from papers in his possession to be pastor of St. Phillip's church, Sheridan, Wyo., was held several hours in the city jail on a charge of insanity Tuesday night. He was released yesterday. He first went to St. Joseph's hospital and asked for treatment, but later forced his way out and was delivered to a policeman by a nurse who had followed him. Dillon had over $200 in his pockets in different parts of his clothing, together with a certificate of deposit on a Sheridan bank for $500. An effort will be made to communicate with his friends.

Joe McKernan, another insane man, was arrested at the Webster street depot. He was a brother at Forty-third and Q streets, South Omaha, who has been informed of McKernan's presence in jail and his condition.

Hayes Blames His Pistol.

F. P. Hayes, the ebony-bred negro, who fired a bullet through a window in the residence of George A. Trogland, at Sixteenth and Howard streets, was before Judge Gordon in police court, charged with carrying concealed weapons and discharging firearms within the city limits. "I certainly did shoot off that revolver," said Hayes, after pleading guilty to the latter charge. "But Judge, it was an accident. It was an old gun and wouldn't work. I was taking it down to the shop to have it fixed, and was holding it up to my eyes examining it when the sounder went bang and went off—my own gun, Judge; that's what the sounder was. I didn't know it was loaded or that it was so tight. I walked over to the clerk's desk and paid a fine of $5 and costs."

RESTORING PASSENGER RATES

Passenger Men Are Breaking Away from Causes of Demoralization.

WAR TO NORTHWEST POINTS IS CLOSING

One Week More of the Low Price on Transportation is All the Railroads Are Willing to Guarantee.

The extremely low passenger rates that have been in vogue for some weeks on all transcontinental railroads to points on the north Pacific coast are to go out of style on Wednesday of next week, April 20. General Passenger Agent Lomax of the Union Pacific has announced that the northwest rates will be raised on that date, and the other lines have given similar notice. The action is in line with an agreement reached at the New York conference of passenger men on Monday.

ROW AT FAY RAYMOND'S HOUSE.

Woman Badly Beaten in a Fight with a Lively Encounter Occurred at the House of Fay Raymond, 116 North Ninth Street, at 3 a. m. yesterday, in which one man was pitted against the inmates of the house, numbering ten women.

The man was R. Bell, who is in the habit of visiting the place at frequent intervals. The cause of the difficulty was unknown, but in the course of the fight, the patrol wagon turned down the long stretch from Fifteenth street east to Ninth the horses were urged to their full speed along the slippery pavement. From some cause the horse became unfastened from the double trees at Fourteenth street and the driver lost control of his team. They dashed along at a mad gallop, the heavy wagon being gutted by car tracks. Sergeant Whalen and Conductor Thomas seized the lines and the horses gradually slackened under the weight of the three men, coming to a halt at Tenth street. The horses are a fine pair of blacks and ran with sure feet along the wet asphalt.

ARGUING THE INSURANCE CASE.

Attack on the State Law Made Before Judge Munger.

The hearing in the case wherein the constitutionality of the insurance laws passed by the last legislature is being attacked by a number of foreign life insurance companies has begun before Judge Munger of the federal court. The case of Mass. Foss & Co. against David Bradley & Co. of Council Bluffs, involving the patent right to a windmill, was heard Tuesday by Judge Munger, but no decision will be reached until after briefs are filed on next Monday.

Promotion for Peterson.

Another Omaha boy has forged to the front in railroad circles. William C. Peterson has just been appointed foreman of the mechanics and car shops of the Oregon Short Line at Pocatello, Idaho. He will have direct supervision of all mechanical work done at the shops here, the largest plant on the Oregon Short Line. The appointment is the son of Christopher Peterson of this city. He is a graduate of the Omaha high school, and while a student there was a carrier for The

BEE. He learned his trade as a machinist from the Omaha shops of the Union Pacific. His promotions on the Short Line have been rapid and marked.

Railway Notes and Personal.

Superintendent Bathurst of the Elkhorn left yesterday for Kansas City.

B. P. Humphrey, traveling passenger agent of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, is in the city.

James Dunne, lessee of the news service on the Chicago & Northwestern, is in the city from Chicago.

T. W. Teasdale, general ticket and passenger agent of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha, spent yesterday in Omaha and left for St. Paul last night on the limited.

Charles A. Hunter, soliciting freight agent of the Rock Island, and Mrs. Hunter left this afternoon for a honeymoon trip that will include visits to New York, Philadelphia and Washington.

A special car on the Burlington on Tuesday night carried a party of twenty-five men from Kansas City and other points in Missouri for the Klondike. The party was organized by the Pioneer Klondike company of Kansas City, Mo., and will sail from Seattle next week.

BURGLAR ALARM WORKS TOO WELL.

Accidentally Set Off by Frigate's a Tuesday afternoon midnight terrible shrieks heard coming from the residence of Dr. Smith, 3665 Howard street. Neighbors rushed over to find out what was the matter, the firemen from the house at Jackson and Twenty-sixth street turned out, and everyone within several blocks was awakened by the long-continued shrieks of a woman in distress. When the neighbors arrived on the scene they found a servant girl hanging partially out of an upstairs window and nothing they could say seemed to lessen her cries. A burglar alarm was ringing in a dozen sleepers comfortably in their beds meantime and some effort was made to find the cause of the commotion. Investigation proved that the rain had completed the electrical circuit of a burglar alarm and it is going. Dr. and Mrs. Smith are out of town and the servant girl who was alone in the house supposed that housebreakers were at work, and was so frightened that she was hysterical.

Did Alta an Injustice.

Several days ago a son of Angel Alta was arrested for breaking into a commission house and stealing some dried apples. At this time the police reported that the Alta family had been drawing money for their support. A burglar alarm was set off upon searching the house, a certified check for $75 was found. Upon investigation it was found that this is not true. William Grove, assistant foreman of the Union Pacific wrecking crew, says that Angel Alta is an honest, hard-working man who bears a good reputation and who works with the Union Pacific wrecking crew and this trouble Sergeant Her searched into the house and found a check for $60, the father's wages, instead of a check for $75, as was previously reported. Nothing can be said against the character of Angel Alta and he has been the innocent victim of his son's misdoings.

REGULATES THE SCALPERS

Men Who Cut Rates Must Do So Mildly in Omaha.

SPECIAL ORDINANCE JUST PUT THROUGH

Council Adopts a Measure Intended to Control the Business of Handing Railroad Tickets by Brokers During Summer.

The city council met in special session yesterday morning, mainly for the purpose of passing an ordinance regulating the occupation of ticket brokers. The ordinance is designed to protect the railroads while the low rates to the exposition are in force to the extent of compelling scalpers to take out a municipal license and be subject to certain specified regulations. It provides that all ticket brokers must pay an annual fee of $75 and wear a badge. They are not allowed to solicit business on the street nor to sell tickets that have become invalid. Each must give a bond in the sum of $2,000, and any infraction of the provisions of the ordinance is made punishable by a fine of not less than $25 nor more than $50.

An ordinance granting the Belt Line Railroad company a right of way over Twentieth and Twenty-first streets at Boyd street was also passed at the special session. This is also an exposition specialty, and it is designed to allow the railroad company to put in an additional sidetrack near the exposition grounds. The track is for the purpose of accommodating the private cars of railroad officials and others who will visit the exposition. The track will hold about a dozen sleepers comfortably and the ticket brokers who prefer to live in their cars while in the city will be able to do so.

A resolution by Stult declared it to be the sense of the council that the Omaha Street Railway company should continue its South Tenth street extension to Valley street in view of the fact that the city had invested $100,000 in the improvement of Riverview park, and that access directly to the park was desirable. It was adopted without objection.

The ticket brokers maintain that they were taken by complete surprise at the passage of the anti-scalping ordinance. P. H. Philbia said: "This looks like snap judgment. There are a half dozen respectable ticket brokers who have been here a dozen years, and it does not look exactly right for their business to be abolished without their being given a hearing at least."

W. C. Norris, another ticket broker, said: "I have just consulted with my attorney, and the new ordinance will be contested in the courts. The city ordinance seems to have solved the problem that congress could not and in much less time. The provisions for the license fee and the $2,000 bond may be all right, but the prohibition of handling contract tickets and the demand for a record of every ticket bought and sold are sufficient to break up the brokers' business, and fix even a greater extreme than congress would consent to."

Among the railroad men there is much rejoicing at the passage of the ordinance. It is said by a prominent general passenger agent that the new ordinance would have a much easier to get reduced rates for special days at the exposition than it would otherwise have been. He did not think the new ordinance would have any effect on the general rates for the whole exposition period, as recently agreed upon.
