COMMANDANT OF THE GUARDS. C. E. Llewellyn Chosen to Head the

Exposition Police At the meeting of the executive committee yesterday afternoon Manager Kirkendall anacounced the appointment of the commandant of the guards for the exposition grounds and buildings. The appointee is C. E. Llewellyn, an Iowan who has been connected with the exposition as special agent for some time. . Llewellyn has had extended experience in military matters and was attached to the staff of the United States marshal of this district for several years about twenty years ago. He will proceed to organize the guard within a short time and will take charge of the policing of the grounds. Manager Kirk-endall says the force will be limited to about 100 men during the early days of the exposi-tion, and for these positions there are thou sands of applications on file from all parts of the country.

President Wattles was authorized to entertain the visiting editors to be brought to Omaha by the Elkhorn road next Monday evening to remain until Tuesday evening. The visitors will be entertained at dinner by the exposition officials and made to feel at home generally.

A number of bids for supplying ice to the exposition grounds and to the concessionaires, paying to the exposition a percentage on the receipts, were laid before the committee by Manager Reed of the Concessions department. Th highest percentage was offered by A. T. Ayer of 4027 Seward street. No one knew him and after some discussion Manager Reed was authorized to enter into a contract with the highest responsible bidder. Investiga-tion into the circumstances surrounding Ayer's bid led to the conclusion that he is by a local ice company which put in a bid to pay the exposition 12 per cent on sales. Manager Reed will make a thorough investigation into the matter before making a contract with Ayer.

A concession was let to B. F. Mayer to put on the grounds fifteen to twenty-five automatic, recording, penny-in-the-slot scales, and to F. C. Whirley for four booths for the sale of cigars.

A constitution and set of rules and regulations were adopted, and then it was decided to postpone the election of permanent officers until Wednesday evening, May 4, when a meeting for that purpose will be held in the directors' room at Trans-mississippi headquarters. In the meantime a committee to be announced soon by the chairman will canvass the city for members and to work up interest in the club, the purpose of which is to entertain people who shall visit the exposition from Illinois.

Claude Matthews, a member of the Indiane Exposition commission, has written to the Department of Publicity and Promotion that the commission has divided the state into districts and each member has agreed to use his best efforts to induce the manufacturers in his district to take part in the movement to have the state represented. The commission is also arranging for several excursion of Indiana people to the exposition.

Idaho's Mineral Resources.

Dr. David T. Day, mining commissioner for the exposition, has been in Idaho stirring up the people regarding an exhibit of their mineral resources, and the local papers contain long accounts of the beneficial effect his visit has had upon the people interested in mining matters. According to the Boise Statesman the Idaho mineral exhibit will be on a large scale and will be very complete.

Another Wisconstn Commissioner. The governor of Wisconsin has appointed Hon. Hamilton H. Gray of Darlington, Wis. a commissioner of the Transmississippi Ex-position for the Badger state.

...AMUSEMENTS...

Last evening at the First Congregational church the Derthick club gave a public recital in the presence of an audience more notable for quality than quantity. The program was arranged by Mrs. Arthur Smith and the numbers were selected from those already presented at the regular meetings of the club. It was manifestly impossible to give in one evening a comprehensive representation of the varieties of music pre-sented during an entire season or to do justice to the many talented members of the club, who have, by their generous co-operation, made each alternate Tuesday evening for the past seven months, Exteresting and instructive. There were many capable singers and players who would have been quite as acceptable and were as deserving as those actually upon the program, but one evening and one concert could not afford on epportunity for all.

The work of the Derthick club is largely educational in character and its primary object is to give to the listener an baight into the real poetical significance of works of musical art. It endeavors to demonstrate that music is a language which one mind may speak to another and with which one neart may awaken its own emotions in kindred hearts. Its performances consist of se-lections from the works of the great mas-ters and analyses descriptive of their meaning. No one can attend these meetings and listen to aralyses and musical selections without obtaining a wiler outlook into the realm of musical art, and, if he has a really musical temperament, without coming into closer relationship with the great heart of the world which throbs in the rhythms Last evening the analyses were read by

Last evening the analyses were read by Miss Kimball and Messrs. Young and Chase. The program was well rendered and gonerously applauded. It was as follows: Prelude, opus 28, No. 15, in D flat, by Chopin, Mr. Martin Cahn; "Ah! My Son" (The Prophet), by Myerbeer, Miss Bowen; "Norwegian Brifai Procession," by Grieg, Mr. Rase. "The Law Williams," and The Law Williams. Mr. Race: "The Lotus Flower" and "The Spring Night," by Schumern, Miss Kountze; "Russian Airs," by Wieniawski, Mr. Charles Wighlam Alls, by Wighlawski, Mr. Charles fliggins; "Deathless Was I" (Elegfried), by Wagner, Mr. Hemer Mcofe; "Danse Maca-bre," by Saint Saens," Miss Holtorf and Mrs. Race; "Nobil Signor;" by Meyerbeer, Miss afternoon and evening performace tomor-row Clay Clement will play a short en-gagement at Boyd's, presenting his great success of former seasons, "The New Do-minion." Mr. Clement has been seen in Omaha a number of times in the last three years, but the lapse of time has not dimmed the luster of his brilliant impersontion of Baron Hohenstauffen, nor diminpopular interest in one of the most delightful plays to be seen at present on the stage. Many of the theatergoers of Omaha have already enjoyed this artistic treat; it is safe to say that these will repeat the pleasure, so far as possible. Those who have not yet made acquaintance with the botanizing beron are advised not to miss this opportunity of gaining a friend who will keep his place in their hearts for long time.

Mr. Clement is supported by the same ompany which attended him on the occacompany which attended him on the occa-sion of his last visit here—an announcement which is equivalent to a prediction of fault-less work. Miss Karra Kenwyn (Mrs. Clement) still plays the part of Josephine Dulany, Mr. Frank E. Aiken that of the old southerner and Mr. Jeffrey D. Williams re-peats his admirable interpretation of the character of Marshall Boner.

A load of steam pipe made a sudden descent from the express wagen on which it was being hauled and caused a blockade of the Farnam street motor line this morning. As the wagen was croming the tracks at Fifteenth street the load slid off and lay squarely across both tracks. The pipe was greasy with oil, and, as it required some time to get it back on the dray, the line was blocked for twenty minutes.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, OMAHA, April 25.—To the Citizens of Omaha: There has never been a period in the history of our city when it demanded a more patriotic and united effort to stand up for Omaha than at the present time. A little more than thirty days will elapse before the great Transmississippi Expisition will throw its gates open to the world. We have proclaimed to the people of the United States and the world at large that our exposition will not be a great big state or county fair, but an exhibit that will almost equal the great Columbian expisition, or World's fair at Chicago. ued yesterday:

stream Columbian exposition, or Werd's fair at Chicago.

We are profiting by the experience that Chicago underwent in giving us its great exposition, and thanks to the heads of our different departments (we have improved in many ways upon the general construction and the diversified beauty of ground and buildings. Now that the directors who have worked so faithfully and so zealously to make the exposition a grand success have about completed their labors, is it not about time that the citizens of Omaha show that appreciation of the great work done by coming to the front and using their best endeavors to make the Transmississippi an unequaled success? And how can we better do it than by having our citizens united and enthusiastic in our praises of Omaha? We should endeavor to make every visitor feel that we Omaha people believe that our city is one of the best residence and business cities in the country. Let us be brimful of enthusiasm this summer and give vent to it upon all occasions. Each resident should begin to plan to decorate his residence and place of business during the progress of the exposition, and in this connection I would suggest that we could not more beautifully decorate our city and at the same time display our patriotism than by using our national colors in our decorations. We are on the eve of a war, when our patriotism will be intense, and what could more arouse an enthused people than the sight of our city profusely decorated with "Old Giory" waving from every available housetop or from a flagpole in every home yard? Or if not that, place a dag in the window, be it ever so small, so that our visiting strangers may know that we love the stars and stripes, and that at this moment our boys are at the front fighting and offering humanity and in defense of the flag we love so well. On our principal streets let our merchants hang out the flag, and if they prefer permits will be given all to stretch our national colors across the streets, so that a gala day appearance may confront every one who w We are profiting by the experience that

Harding's work in Omaha was confined to large retail stores, where he bought numerous articles nd had them sent to a room on West Douglas street. On their arrival he offered a check to the delivery boy, which in all cases turned out worthless. Harding adopted rather a unique course in his trial at Seattle. After offering a plea of not guilty it was withdrawn through his attorney and the defendant simply stood mute. The court then pronounced the forger guilty and imposed a penaky of five years in the penitentiary. PICKPOCKETS AND POLICEMEN. Combination Between Which Engineer Clark Loses His Possessions. Mr. Clark went out to lunch yesterday at noon and was attracted by a gang of idlers watching fake war bulletins in front of the yellow poster establishment on lower Farnam street. He looked at his watch and noticed that he had a few minutes to spare, even for such profitless amusement. Not for a moment did he seem danger, for there on one ment did he scent danger, for there on one side of him was a huge policeman and on the other a police sergeant busily engaged in keeping a narrow passageway open and gulping down the manufactured news posted in the window. Just then there flashed this sensational bulletin:

King Ak-Sar-Ben IV is a praceful monarch and he will allow neither war nor umors of war to perturb the serenity of his reign. Last evening he had designated as reign. Last evening he had designated as "South Omaha Night" and 125 gallant representatives of the Magic City showed their appreciation of the marked compliment paid them by coming in a numerous body from the city of the south into the kingdom and capitol of Ak-Sar-Ben IV. The stockmen and the pickers, the traders and the commission men the city officials and these mission men, the city officials and those who would like to be, all sought admission to the realm of the king and were successful only after they had passed through severe tists and terrible orders. s and terrible ordeals. looked alike to his majesty and his satellites carried out the king's desire concern ing the punishment meted out to the hop ful candidates. They were shown a hirrible example of a disloyal subject in th realm of King Ak-Sar-Ben III and they all "swore to goodness" that they would be mighty good if only they were permitted to escare from the pending ordeals. The initiation of so large a body of large-bodied men occupied the entire evening, but the work was well done and when it was finished the largest crowd that has met at the Den this year ate, drank and made

Say Mr. Strangerentown! Do you know that we are operating a shoe store here where you can buy a regular four dollar shoe for three dollars or a regular $3.50 shoe for two dollars and a half? Well, we are. We sell shoes at cut prices here. We sell genuine Goodyear welt shoes in all shapes and sizes and in several different kinds of leather for two dollars and a half. If you know anything about shoes you may possibly doubt that, but we have a way of convincing doubters and that is by selling them the shoes. Ah! but you say I've seen Goodyear welt shoes advertised lots of times for less money than that. Yes-but not our kind. Our kind are made up especially for us, made from selected calf, made by one of the best shoe factories in this country and made so as to give more wear than any shoe ever sold for the same price or half a dollar more outside of here. This shoe store of ours is different from any shoe store you ever traded with because while it is here to make money the main object is to accommodate people who buy their hats, sox, shirts, suits and other wearables here. Come in and be accommodated. It will introduce you to a first
