OMAHA WINS A RATHER RAGGED GAME

Both Sides Off in the General Play, but the Locals Get in Their Work Where it Counts the Most.

The Babes won the second from Gus Schmelz's Esquimaux yesterday, but it gave one the shivers to see how close it was and Manager Fisher was still shaking like on aspen leaf in an autumn breeze at midnight last night.

It would have been a mighty hard game to lose, for at one time the score was 8 to I in our favor and it looked like a doud easy one for us. But the Millers never gave up heart and kind o' hopped on Mr. Daub in the sixth and when Fisher went in they sort of stepped on him, too, in the ninth. But there is no use trying to describe it, for one must have been there to felt the trembling, creeping shiver that traveled up one's spine and did not vanish until the ten juicy scores hugged away to our bosom and the northerners had only nine. Errors, seven of them, gave the Babes the game, while hits nearly snatched it away from them. Daub was all right up to the sixth, when his arm gave out and Fisher went in. Holly retrieved himself. Roat was asleep half the time and the other half he was only half awake, and Griffen was also off color on account of a bad leg and an atcack of the blues. The rest were up to anuff but Mr. Ball and one or two of the other Millers were 'way off their feed.

We went out in one, two, three order in the first and the Millers did nearly as much, although the mediaeval Count Campau made a single. We started in to do our work in the second, however. Captain Lyons stepped up to the plate and landed on the leather for a nice single. Then Eustace lammed one into McNeily's hands and it looked like a double play, but Smith la-bored under the delusion that second base was in the middle of the field and he sent the ball over to first without touching his bag Eustace was out, but Lyons perchai on bag, Eustace was out, out Lyons perengion second bag like the bird of liberty. Catcher Mac got a ticket, but Holly knocked out a hit and the captain waidled home and Mac came in behind him. Hagerman forced Holly out at second and a minute after-

CHANCE FOR THE NORTHERNERS. The Esquimaux had a big chance in the Hickey flew out to Eustace, but Parrot made a hit. Daub slammed one into Parrot in. Then Roat gave McNeily a life and the bases were full. Count Campau came up to do or die and he did it-fanned out. While he was doing it McNeily was studying the skies and McCauley caught him off first, making a neat double play. One run was getting out of it easily.

It was a goode egg aplece in the third and another for the Millers in the fourth, but our end of the fourth-it was something awful to contemplate. Ball storted the leather a-rolling by giv ing Roat a life on an easy one. Lyons slammed one lote the diamond and when it was tossed to Hanna he could not hold it That put Roat on third and Lyons on first Eustace fanned the air, but Ball tried on-other juggling act with McCauley's grounder and before he finished Roat was in and More on first. Holly banged out his second hit and if Lyons had not followed the coacher's advice and come plowing in like a canal boot we would have been scoring yet. weighty first baseman was caught at home, however. Then Smith saw three balls coming from Hagerman's bat and before he picked out the right one Hag was safe. Daub smashed out a ripper, scoring Holly, but was caught immediately on Griffen's

Griffen smashed out a ripsnorter over third bag and then Burnett comes up and crucks out the first home run of the season, way out into left field, both scoring. Out of the next four men three went out, although

HOW THE MILLERS SCORED. Way back in the fifth the Millers got their second run by Letcher's single, a passed ball and another of Roat's errors. Then they and another of Roat's errors. Then the scared us in the sixth. Parrot made a tw bagger and then Smith lammed out one that should not have been more than a single, but must be scored as a home run because the ball was lost in the grass. Ball flew out, but McNelly found the ball safely and so did Campau. Lyons fumbled around with Letcher's hit, but caught him out with Daub's assistance, McNelly coming in the play. Then Roat made another beastly error on Dixon's hit and the count wandered in.

Hickey died, but four runs were in. It was a goose egg for the Millers in the seventh, but in the eighth Campau, who had been given a base on balls, scored on Dixon's

It was the ninth, though, that seemed to be full of fate. Parrot came up and hit safely. Smith made one of the prettiest trisackers ever hit. Parrot coming in on it. Ball sent one right etraight up, which any one of the infielders should have caught, but none of them did, each relying on the other. The ball landed in the middle of the pitcher's box. With nobody out and two men on boses things looked blue, but just then Mc-Nelly slammed one down to Lyons. Denny picked it up neatly and fired it down to Hollingsworth in time to double up Ball. With one more score needed tie Letcher rolled an easy one down to Lyone and the agony was over. We did nothing in our last three tnnings. Score: OMAHA.

LINCOLN, April 26.4 (Special.)-A number of attorneys who have practice before the supreme court are anxious that one important change be made in the rules of the court. During the sittings as now conducted the judges listen to the submission of cases in the forencons and retire to the private room in the afternoons to work on the opinions that are to be handed down. This only gives three hours each day in which the attorneys can get their cases heard, and the last on the call are compelled to remain day after day waiting for their turn to be heard. The complaint is that this waiting is expensive in the matter of hotel bills and results in the loss of business at home. The wish expressed by the attorneys who come from a distance to attend court is that submission of cases be allowed both forenoon and afternoon, until all are heard. so that those who have cases in charge may the club parlors Monday afternoon. The Harmony lodge, 31, and Marys Rebekah committee had accepted an invitation to meet with the political economy and social selence department. The meeting opened with an interesting address by Mr. Thomas Kilpatrick, who dwelt on Omaha's need of cleaner streets, and told of the method he had recently seen in oper-ation in Cleveland, of flushing the streets

Chaplain P. C. Johnson of Ohlowa de-livered the principal address, followed by a short literary program. Odd Fellows from all parts of the county were present and a pleasant time was had. A banquet was held in the opera house and the evening spent and the marked improvement in the ap pearance of the city. He then made a brief comparison of some European cities, especially Giasgow, with American cities, in re-spect to cleanliness. In closing, Mr. Kilpatrick spoke of the improvement of recenthis coun'ry, and commended the work under aken, saying the efforts committee, wisely directed, could not fall to be beneficial. The address given by Mr. Charles Sherman was in a humorous vein, but full of practical suggestions as well. full of practical suggestions as well.

The committee was referred to as a "municipal housekeeping society."
