

WHEN OMAHA'S BOYS MARCH

Citizens Will Give the Soldiers a Send-Off They Will Remember.

PLANS FOR THE GREAT PUBLIC OVATION

Committees Get Together and Raise Funds to Defray Expenses and Arrange Plans for a General Parade.

Unless Governor Elias A. Holcomb should change his mind before 3 o'clock this afternoon the various companies that will compose the two regiments of Infantry called for from this state by President McKinley will assemble at Lincoln, Neb., and not at Fort Omaha, as directed by Secretary of War Russell A. Alger. The contention of the governor that the troops are under the jurisdiction of the state until they are enlisted into the United States army appears to have settled in favor of the state the controversy that was waged yesterday.

But all this little dispute will be forgotten in the grand farewell ovation that is to be tendered to the Omaha Guards and the Thurston Rifles by the citizens of Omaha this afternoon. It is to be at once the largest, finest and grandest reception ever tendered by Omaha to their citizen soldiery. The elaborate ovations given in behalf of the local companies on their return from drill competitions, where they have conducted themselves with honor to the credit and success of their company, will be paled into insignificance by the popular display and the hearty goodwishes that will be given them today. Omaha was but a pioneer town on the western edge of American civilization when the war of rebellion broke out, and its inhabitants had but scant opportunity to tender any elaborate reception to the hosts that went marching on. But there will be no lack on this occasion, for Omaha is a great city of the west, and it is to be represented at the front of the impending war by two as finely drilled companies made up of as fine specimens of young, energetic men as ever enlisted in the armies of the United States.

These will be the companies that become famous in the future, and which will be the municipal authorities acting on behalf of the Gate City of the west, will be the hosts.

ALL JOIN THE MOVEMENT

A public spirited movement among business men and professional men, railroad men and manufacturers, and various other classes of Omaha's best citizens, resulted in the raising of a sum of money with which to give a handsome goodbye to the boys in blue who are to become the nation's boys in brown.

Several hundred dollars were raised in short order by the rapid and effective circulation of a notice, lists in the downtown districts. Out of the money raised there will be taken what is necessary for flags, flowers, fireworks, fanfare and other decorations, and presents that will be given to each individual member of the two companies as a slight token of the esteem and appreciation of the citizens of Omaha.

BUSINESS HOUSES TO CLOSE

A request that all merchants, manufacturers and other business men should close their places between the hours of 1 and 3 this afternoon, that all employers and employees attend the public farewell reception to the troops as well as the men generally turn out and bring flowers with them for the soldier boys, and that there will be an impressive display of the national colors, was last night issued by Marshal Clarkson and recommended to the public by the citizens' committee. The approval of the latter committee is in the following language: "We heartily join in the above program and urge every citizen to come out and make the demonstration a great one."

RECEPTION TO THE MILITARIANS

Omaha Guards and Thurston Rifles Give a Send-Off.

The members of the Omaha Guards and of the Thurston Rifles had an opportunity to feel the pulse of the local public on the spirit of the times last evening, the occasion being two elegant receptions tendered the soldiers by the citizens of Omaha. The militia men, they did not know it before, learned that the heart of the best of the city is very close to that of his own and that the same patriotic fervor pervades all the masses and all the classes.

Public Schools Attention!

It has not yet been decided to close the schools for any part of today. Let every pupil, boy or girl, show the loyalty to duty expected from the soldier and report for duty at school at 9 o'clock sharp. The Omaha troops do not leave for Lincoln until 1:35 in the afternoon, and it is thought to disperse the schools for the afternoon would be to the detriment of the buildings before noon.

What Bricklayers Will Do

At last night's meeting of Union No. 1, International Order of Bricklayers, a resolution was made for supporting the families of any members of the union who should go to the war as volunteers. A resolution to the effect that the treasurer of the union would pay $10 per week for the families of any member who should go to the war as a volunteer was adopted enthusiastically.

Ring as a Memento

Ralph DeLong, who has been in the employ of Lew W. Raber, printer, as a clerk, for a long time, and who is a member of the Thurston Rifles, was presented by the office force with a handsome ring. The ring is held by his fellow associates in the printing office. His position will be held open until he returns.

AMUSEMENTS

It would seem that the surpassing merit of Mr. Clay Clement's presentation of "The New Dominion" is at least beginning to be appreciated in Omaha, for the largest and most charming play in this city was presented last night at Boyd's when Mr. Clement began an earnest engagement at that house. "The New Dominion" is so well known here to require detailed description, and the work of the clever people who have adapted it to the frequent repetition, although neither play nor players have hitherto been accorded anything like their due measure of recognition in Omaha.

W. W. C. A. Basket Ball

Basket ball was one of the attractive features in the physical culture production of the Young Women's Christian association this year. The girls have found much pleasure among themselves, and while their gymnasium is large and airy, and the class work, no possible arrangement can be made to entertain the many who have expressed a desire to see the production. They invite their friends to the gymnasium on Monday night to witness the much talked of game, and to cheer for the "Greens" as fancy or affection may dictate.

CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Patriotic Turn Taken by the Early Deliberations of Members.

POSITIONS FOR EMPLOYEES WHO ENLIST

All Who Go to War Will Get Their Jobs Back When They Return—Routine Work of the Session.

The first document considered by the city council last night was the following communication from Mayor Moores relative to the departure of the local militia companies for Lincoln this afternoon:

To the honorable the City Council of the City of Omaha, Nebraska: Tomorrow the Omaha Guards and the Thurston Rifles, regiments of the United States Army, will be on their way to Lincoln on their way to the front. It is the honor of the city to have them here, and it is the duty of the city to see that they are properly cared for while they are here.

The Mayor's suggestion was approved by a rising vote and later in the session a resolution was offered by President Bingham by which it was ordered that the positions of all city employees who have enlisted should be open to them when they returned. It was also ordered that in the case of the two employees who leave today their full salary for April should be allowed.

SOME ROUTINE MATTERS

A letter from Senator Thurston conveyed the expression of his appreciation of the sympathy tendered by the council in his late bereavement.

The comptroller was instructed to order 500 copies of the 1897 municipal reports printed by the Kloop-Bartlett company at the bid of April 5. The size of the volume is limited to 310 pages.

The council was authorized with Rutherford & Jensen for painting the remaining rooms in the city hall at an additional cost of $325. This contemplates the improvement of the private offices and rest rooms that were not included in the original contract.

The wheemen who have bumped laboriously over the Bell line tracks at Thirtieth street during the last week have been promised relief by a councilmanic order that the railroad company should place the crossing in passable condition during the next ten days. The resolution was introduced by Karr and passed under suspension of the rules.

The council passed a resolution by which the legal department is authorized to secure an order from the United States court by which the Barber asphalt bills can be set aside, and the city is authorized to charter provision, which prohibits the council from approving claims that have been turned down by a previous administration.

The question of fixing up the school building for a city jail bobbed as a subject for debate, but no action was taken. It is thought that none of the members had any definite ideas on the subject. It was referred to the private office and the council will take the necessary improvements and the probable cost.

LISTEN TO LINCOLN GUESTS

At this juncture the regular order of business was suspended to listen to the brief speeches by the Lincoln officials who had been the guests of the city during the day. President H. J. Winnett of the city of Lincoln declared that they have been royally entertained by the Omaha officials and had acquired a good deal of information in regard to municipal affairs. He was followed by the other officials who expressed similar sentiments and invited the Omaha officials to visit the capital city.

In reply President Bingham said that it is the honor of the city to have the Lincoln officials here, and that the city should not be considered a dividing line. The Lincoln officials also took occasion to mingle in the congratulations and then business was resumed.

The only new ordinance introduced was by Mayor Moore and it relates to the street from Twenty-eighth to Thirty-sixth streets.

Ordinances were passed providing for paving Thirty-second avenue from Lincoln avenue to Dorcas street and Twenty-sixth street from Poppleton avenue to Woolworth avenue.

A little boy asked for a bottle of "get up in the morning as fast as you can" the "get up" recognized a household name for "Little Early Bitter" and gave him a bottle of those famous little pills for constipation, sick headache, liver and stomach troubles.

NEBRASKA COMMISSION MEETING

Monthly Session Devoted to Routine Matters Exclusively.

The regular meeting of the Nebraska Exposition commission last night was mainly devoted to signing vouchers and passing on bills incurred since the last meeting.

Commissioners Neville and Casper were appointed as a committee to investigate the advisability of having the exterior of the Nebraska building.

A proposition from Dr. Lang of York to bring the York Glac Club to the exposition was also considered. The club will be in the Nebraska building June 1, during the exercises incident to the formal opening of the great fair.

Superintendent Youngers of the Horticulture bureau presented a basket of apples for the inspection of the members of the commission as a practical exposition of what may be expected in the horticultural section of the Nebraska exhibit. These apples were of several varieties of winter apples and all had been in cold storage for some time since October. Without exception, the apples were as firm and hard as though just picked from the tree and their color and flavor were pronounced perfect. The members of the commission expressed the greatest gratification at the manner in which the apples had been preserved and were highly pleased at the outlook for a season showing at the opening of the exposition. Mr. Youngers stated that he has sixty different varieties of apples in cold storage, all being the product of Nebraska orchards.

Executive Committee Meeting

Three concessions were awarded by the executive committee yesterday. Mrs. S. C. Doolley of Atlanta was awarded the privilege of operating an ostrich farm on the West Midway, she agreeing to bring at least fifteen full grown birds for that purpose; J. J. Manion of Dubuque, Ia., was given the privilege of selling optical goods and microscopes in the Machinery and Electricity building, operating in connection with the concession an exhibit showing the grinding of lenses, and the Nebraska Telephone company was awarded the concession for placing telephones on the grounds for the use of the exposition and the general public.

Manion was authorized to make a contract with R. P. Bringhurst for two groups of statuary of two figures each for the south viaduct.

Place for Geddes

WASHINGTON, April 26.—(Special Telegram)—At a meeting of the government board last night in charge of the Omaha exposition which was held at Grand Island was elected disbursing officer for the government, providing such office is deemed necessary by the Treasury department. The board also considered the feasibility of asking congress to set aside the surplus from the Nashville exposition for use at Omaha. The question of unloading a large lens, weighing 100 pounds, from the government building was also taken up and it was decided that in the event a truck could not be built into the building a platform would have to be erected from the building to the end of the spur.

The exhibit of the land office at the Omaha Exposition will be shipped tomorrow.

British-American Club Meets

A meeting of the British-American American society was held in the exposition rooms last night to consider arrangements for the reception of British subjects who may visit the city during the exposition. John Laughlin occupied the chair and explained the desirability of showing his fellow countrymen who are in the city during the exposition a good time. As there was only a small percentage of British Americans present it was determined to lay definite action regarding the reception of guests over until the meeting next week.

The Twentieth Century

The twentieth century will begin on Jan. 1st, 1901, and end with 2000. People did not begin to reckon time from A. D. 1, but waited until the 500th year of the Christian era, and people who begin to take the great health restorative, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, immediately after the first outbreak of dyspepsia, malaria, rheumatism, constipation, nervousness or kidney trouble will date their cure immediately from then.

COMMERCIAL CLUB MATTERS

Executive Committee Looks After the Indian Supply Depot.

At the meeting of the executive committee of the Commercial Club a letter was read which had been received from Congressman Mercer relative to the purchase of supplies, stating that the bids of Omaha firms on supplies would be considered together with the bids of eastern firms, who make a price on supplies delivered in Omaha. Charles Martin and E. Ut have gone to Chicago to look after the interests of the Omaha dealers in this matter.

A committee made up of Messrs. Picken, Palmer and Carpenter was appointed to consult with insurance men and make an effort to lower the rate in Omaha because of the improved fire protection and the comparatively small losses recently.

William Newton and J. H. Huskie were elected to membership in the club and J. H. Huskie was appointed a member of the retailers' bureau in the place of C. C. Beiden, who resigned.

Not Goodyears...

Speaking of shoes did it ever occur to you that where you buy a shoe has something to do with the wear of it? It has. All shoes look well enough when they're new, but the cheats come out after you've worn them a few times and then is the time that the place you bought them comes in. Nebraska shoes must wear. Nebraska shoes must give you the worth of your money. Every single shoe we sell carries our guarantee for satisfactory service and we stand ready to make good any weak spots that wear may develop. We were the first shoe house in Omaha to offer "new shoes or your money" for any pair that didn't give the full worth of the price you paid for them. Today we call attention to our great lines at $1.75 and $2.00, which we consider the handsomest, the best fitting and the best wearing shoes ever seen for the money. They come in lace, in congress, in narrow toes, in medium toes, in wide toes, in blacks, in tans, in vicis, in cloth tops, in leather tops, in twenty-six different styles and in all the newest improvements, and nowhere can you find any more styles or any more attractive shoes for the money. These lines are made up with Wardwell welts, which are the imitation of a Goodyear welt, and many stores sell them for Goodyears. This is a good year to see that you get a Goodyear when you want a Goodyear.
