May Wheat Makes a New Record for This

HIGHER NOW THAN IN NEARLY TEN YEARS

Removal of the French Import Duty Couses the Advance, and All the Other Markets Are Favorably Affected.

CHICAGO, May 4.-Wheat advanced 405c & bu. on change today. May or cash wheat sold at $1.31 per bu., an advance since yesterday of 16c, and the highest price recorded for cash wheat since September. 1888, when it sold for $2 a bu. July rose 4c, closing at $8.5-8c. The rapid advance was due to the removal of the French import duty, which was followed today by large sales for export to France. Corn [6,00]; kunk, 15c, 25c, 50c; muskrat, 3c, 5c, 7c; raccoon, 15490c; red fox, 25c@$1.25; gray fox, 2506c; wolf (timber), 25c@$2.50; wolf (prairie coyote), 19650c; wildcat, 19625c; 5-8c, oats 1/c, pork 15c, lard 10c and (prairie coyote), 10050c; wildcat, badger, 5040c; silver fox, $5.00075.00.

Liverpool cables started the wheat market here on the up grade at today's opening. The English market was up 4½d on nearby futures, while the Paris market was reported 3lc lower. The latter report proved to be 20c out of the way, however, and caused plenty of selling here. But the fact remained that France had only enough wheat in sight to last two weeks. The country's consumption is 5,000,000 bu. per week and their own crop will not be available until August 1. Rumors were current that Germany and Austria would also abolish the import duty. Leiter reported foreign bids at 5c advance over yesterday's offerings. July started 1½c higher at 95a 95½c. The market cased off to 50½c. Scalpers were in a bearish mord and put out short lines without hesitation. Receipts here were 133 cars, of which 129 cars were sontract grade. Minneapolis and Duiuth, got 336 cars, against 311 a year ago. Atlantic port clearances were small, but primary western market recepts were 56,000 bu., against 30,000 bu. the corresponding day the year before. Closing cables showed Liverpool up for the day from 3d for May to 4½d for July and spot wheat up from 2d for No. 1 northern to 3d for Californian, Rumors of large cash sales to France kept the pit in a nervous state, but up to 12:30 the market was in a comparatively normal condition, with July selling around 96c and May st $1,24. Rumors were current that Germany and Austria would also abolish the import duty. Leiter reported foreign bids at 5c advance over yesterday's offerings. July started 1%c higher at 960 offerings. July started 1%c higher at 960 offerings. July started 1%c higher at 960 offerings, July and 120 offering western market receipts were 561,000 bu, against 330,000 bu, the corresponding day the year before. Closing cables showed Liverpool up for the day from 3d for May to 4%d for July and spot wheat up from 2d for No. 1 northern to 3d for Californian. Rumors of large cash sales to France kept the pit in a nervous state, but up to 12:30 the market was in a comparatively normal condition, with July selling around 96c and May at $1.24. Shorts made occasional effect the close Leiter calimy announced that he had just sold 500,000 bu, of wheat for export, presumably to France, at an adminished of 5c over yesterday's figures, He at companied the news with heavy buying orders through his brokers, the Allen Grier-Zeller company. They bid May up from $1.24 to $1.31. Leiter's efforts to secure more May wheat, which is equivalent to the cash article, threw the bears into a panic. July jumped by eighths and quarters from 96c to 98%c. The close was at 98 5-8c, a net gain of 4c. May closed at $1.39, a net gain of 9c, Leiter's tactics today apparently show him to be in complete mastery over May wheat a

Interest in May, the bears may have fancy losses to meet.

Corn opened higher, but ruled heavy until near the end. Receipts were 695 cars; seaboard clearances, 338,000 bu. Shorts bought eagerly, when wheat got excited and closed the market strong at the top for the day. July opened 3-se higher at 341-36, declined to 23 1-8c, rallied and closed be net higher at 34 1-8m344c.

Outs ruled dull but firmer. There was no cash demand and no speculation. Chicago receipts were 281 cars. The market rallied slightly at the end in sympathy with wheat. July ranged at 25 5-86 25c, closing 3c higher at 25c.

Provisions opened strong, but ruled weak on liberal offerings until near the close. The advance in grain caused prices to re-

Totals 3,092 7,995 All told, there were 200 loads of stock in the yards, a considerable falling off, as compared with yesterday, but still a 200d run even for a Wednesday. The markets, as a whole, were in very satisfactory condition for sellers, and practically everything in the yards was sold and weighed up in good season. It may be inferred from that fact that values were strong to higher all around, and that was the case. been a sudden increase in the capacity of the market to take cattle. Yesterday's very large run was followed by liberal re-ceipts again today, 137 fresh loads being reported in, but contrary to what might reported in, but comtrary to what might have been expected the market was active and higher.

The demand for corn-fed steers was large, both local and for shipping account, and, as was the case yesterday, every one bought freely. Buyers were especially hungry after handy little cattle, and the offerings of such sold readily at an advance of about lee, while the general market on fat cattle could safely be quoted for to lee higher. As has been the rule right along the heavy cattle were not as free sellers as light cattle, but still they felt the improvement in the market, though not to as great a degree as the more desirable kinds. Practically everything sold in good season. strable kinds. Practically everything sold in good season.

Butchers' stock was also in active demand, but the supply was small, and buyers had to travel fast and look sharp to fill orders. The market, in consequence, was active on good killing cows and helfers and 5c to 10c higher. Amang the offerings were some choice spayer, before. Everything was cleaned up in tode season.

There is not must in say regarding the market on stocker, tied feeders. So few stock cattle are arriving that it is no easy matter to make comparisons, but one thing is certain, and that is that good cattle are bringing way up prices. The demand does not appear to be so very large, but there is some inquiry all the time, and as only a few are coming, the supply is kept well cleaned up. The fact that money is easing few are coming, the supply is kept well cleaned up. The fact that money is easing up, and that parties who were completely shut off at the breaking out of war, have been notified during the last two or three days that they could have money, will have a strong tendency to help the market on stockers and feeders. The general market was quoted justahout steady, though as a matter of factsome sales were made at prices that were a little better than were paid yesterday which would indicate that the tendency was certainly no lower. Representative sales certainly no lower. Representative sale

Makes Severe Criticism of the Gov ernment's Conduct in the Phil-Ippine Campaign.

MADRID, May 4.-The increased censor ship and the cautions issued by General Daban in reference to the publishing of news, etc., causes El Nacional to exclaim: What is taking place in the telegraphic service is truly scandalous. As far as provincial correspondents are concerned, "the black cabinet" has seldom worked so thoroughly as at the present moment, when it depends on a minister who calls himself

This irritation is sharply provoked by the government's suppression of facts as to the battle at Manifa. Commenting upon it El Nacional, which is the organ of the Weyler

Ite party, says:
Yesterday, when the first intelligence arrived, nothing better occurred to Admiral Bermejo, minister of marine, than to send to all the newspapers comparative statistics of the two contending squadrons. By this comparison he sought to direct public attention to the immense superiority of a squadron of ironclads over a squadron of wooden vessels, dried up by the heat in that latitude.

Spain undoubtedly sees therein the hero ism of our marines, but it sees also, and above all, the nefarious crime of the government. It is unfair to blame the enemy for possessing forces superior to ours, but what is worthy of being blamed with all possible vehemence is this infamous gov-ernment who allowed our inferiority. Nacional continues:

A good battery on Corregidor island, with great reflectors and guns capable of sweep-ing the seas for miles around, would have kept the American squadron out of the bay In Corregidor there were only a few wretched guns, taken from the war ships a few days ago. This is the truth. Our sailors have been basely delivered over to the grapeshot of the Yankees, a fate nobler and more worthy of respect than those baneful ministers who brought about the first victory and its first victims.

El Heraldo de Madrid says: It was no caprice of the fortunes of war. From the first cannon shot our fragile ships were at the mercy of the formidable hostil squadron. They were condemned to fall, one after the other, before the powerful fended only by the valor in the breasts of their sailors.

What has been gained by the illusion that Manila was fortified? What is gained by the intimation that the broad and beauti-ful bay, on whose bosom the Spanish fleet perished yesterday, had been rendered inaccessible? What use was made of the famous island of Corregidor? Where were its guns? Where were its torpedoes Where were those defensive preparations concerning which we were requested to keep silence?
El Heraldo, referring further on to the extent of the disaster, says: We cannot define it. The government has not defined it for the information of the country, and, although the greater portion of yesterday's cabinet council was devoted to the subject, the government has failed to issue even a note, leaving us in ignorance as to this fateful event. There is othing rash in the suspicion that the gov ernment's attitude is a desire to hide a part of the truth. This, however, is a banefu

El Liberal demands that Parliament insist on having light thrown on the causes of the Manila disaster. It says:

Those of whom, in these columns, we have requested an explanation of the ocult it seems rather a poor specimen. causes which have brought about the cat-astrophe of Manila have met our demands with silence. They have employed force to silence those who in the streets have protested against the real authors of our great misfortune, and for this have proclaimed our eyes would indeed be full of tears, and our souls filled with sadness, but our vital force would not be weakened if we were certain that the destruction of our Philippine squadron, and the glorious death of its crews were attributable solely to war's tude. Unfortunately, we are all depressed with a presentiment that the disaster of embodied in the public conscience, does not and, if necessary, the punishment be delayed.

Our faherland requires its soldiers to fight without analyzing the risk, but not that they should do this under conditions of horrible inferiority and while employing weapons deprived of their edge. El Heraldo further says: Even a numerical advantage would have been utterly useless without guns of larger callber, without protection and without means of gaining a speed equal to the enemy's ships. It is not a question of num-bers, but of the quality of the war ships.

THE NEW MUSTACHE.

It Spreads at the Ends and is Not to Be Raised Without Trouble. A young man with a specimen of the "new mustache" which would have satisfied even the most exacting demands, relates the New York Sun, sat at a table in the Hotel Logerot the other night and while the perfection of the adornment of his upper lip may have been wonderful to the persons who knew what it meant, the uninformed must have wondered at it. The "new mustache," as the initiated know, recently made its appearance in London, and is so similar in design to the butterfly tie seen there four or five years ago that the persons who remember what those ties looked like will readily be able to picture to themselves this new mustache. It is very narrow in the center and spreads out toward each end. The specimen at the Logerot the other evening was dark, and according to all published descriptions, diagrams and illustrations that have been seen here it was perfect. For that reason the objection of a cavaller who looked at it superciliously was difficult to understand.

"Those mustaches about which London is talking just at present have been common in Germany and Austria for years," he said, "and they are worn in the army by the young men who want to be schneidig or smart. They are not to be acquired without training, and when a man makes up his mind to have a mustache of this kind he must be prepared to wait for it

"The Germans use an appliance made of gauze and clastic and this is worn at nights over the mustache. The elastic stretches over the ears and the gauze is held down tightly over the mustache, which is either thoroughly wet or in some cases made fast with a thin solution of gum arabic. The mustache in this form has been popular with the fashionable men in the German and Austrian armies for several years and has come to be one of the distinguishing marks of this set in the army. Probably the mustaches seen in London were on foreigners who were there on leave. "The sort of men among the Germans or Austrians who would cultivate these mustaches are the kind that are dressed by the best of London tailors, and they might readily have been mistaken for Englishmen. I don't believe that more than two or three were seen there at any time. They take too long to grow. At least six months is required to turn out even a moderately effective one.

"The fact that the 'new mustache' is not confined wholly to any one nationality is shown by any picture of D'Annunzio taken before he had grown a beard. He had for several years worn just such a mustache. It is familiar in continental Europe among all well dressed men and is probably less known in England than in any other country. I fancy that this chap at the other table got the idea for his from a visit to Carlsbad. To anybody not accustomed to the genuine article his mustache might be impressive enough. But to the experienced

Opens University to Women, PHILADELPHIA, May 4.-The board of trustees of the University of Philadelphia has decided to offer undergraduate courses for women in every way equal to those now open to and which are to lead to the same degrees now given to the male students. The authorities have had this matter under consideration for some time, and considerable influence has been brought to bear on the trustees of the university to gain their favorable endorsement of the proposition.

The movement has been given impetus by the success that has been attained by Cornell university, which is probably the only large university where co-education ex-ists on a very extensive scale. Explosion in Rolling-Mill.
