Three Men Disabled Sp as to Prevent Their Enlistment - Work Mustering Not Yet Taken Up.

LINCOLN, May 5 .- (Special Telegram.)-Camp Saunders is in the same sloppy condition as it was yesterday, with the cold rain still falling. The boys are standing the hardships with very little grumbling. General Bills made a personal inspection of the camp this forenoon, and found all the companies in good shape, considering the weather. The number of men in the hospital has not increased over yesterday, most of the cases being bad colds.

Three men have met with accidents that incapacitate them from further service as soldiers. Creighton Dettimore, company A. Second regiment, while chopping wood accidentally amoutated the forefinger of his right hand: Jacob Dowhower, company B of the Second, sustained a rupture while scuffling with a comrade; Oliver Fairchild, company A of the Second, has a badly

The mustering in of the men has not yet been taken up. The delay has been caused by the failure of some of the examining surgeons to appear for their own examinations. They are all on hand now, however, and the commissioned officers are being given their physicial examinations to-

The rain eased up this afternoon and a 4 o'clock it had entirely ceased, so that the boys were able to crawl out of their tents and look around. By 6 o'clock the grounds were quite passable, with the exception of few low places where the water still stood in poels. Some of the companies came out to drill late this afternoon and guard mount was held as usual at 5 o'clock, the two bands enlivening the camp with some stirring During the afternoon the following official order was issued: Company commanders are hereby directed to have the governor's address read to their respective commands at their company quarters at 6 o'clock this evening. I desire to congratulate the officers and men of my command in being permitted to listen to such an able and patriotic address as the one to be read in accordance with these orders, knowing that each member of the First brigade, Nebraska National Guard, will individually thank our com-mander-in-chief for the interest he takes in the welfare of the Guard, as is now once more demonstrated by this very able By command of Brigadier General Bills.

National Guardsmen of Nebraska: I de sire to express to you my hearty apprecia-tion of your ready and willing response to the call to duty. The spirit of patriotic zeal and loyalty to country evinced by your prompt action is most commendable and challenges the admiration and approbation of your fellow citizens. Nebraska has just of your fellow citizens. Nebraska like cause to be proud of her citizen soldiery. A crisis in the international affairs of our nation has necessitated a call to arms for the maintenance of national honor and integrity. Our government has heard the call of the unhappy Cubans struggling for civil and political freedom; has hearkened to the cry of distress from thousands of women and children perishing in misery and star-

Your short stay here in camp life, drill and preparatory instructions will doubtless brove of much benefit to you in entering upon the duties of active soldiers, and the patriotic citizens of this state will share with me the expression of pleasure in being periolited to assist in a small degree Inx permitted to assist in a small degree in the preparation necessary to fit you for the grave and responsible duties you may be called upon to perform when you have entered upon your new soldier life.

It is a voluntary act upon your part, as the words imply, when you become a soldier in the Nebraska volunteers. Thousands are clamoring for permission to take up arms and you of all Nebraskans are chosen because your service in the National Guard.

and you of all Nebraskans are chosen be-cause your service in the National Guard has rendered you best qualified for the serv-ice. This will afford an opportunity for you to do your part in demonstrating again the wisdom of our government's policy, main-tained since its formation, of keeping only a small standing army in times of peace, relying in times of necessity like this upon the citizen soldiery of the land to furnish a greater army to protect the flag from all threatened dangers.

I have no doubt whatever but your ready

I have no doubt whatever but your ready response, your valor and your patriotism will further confirm the now settled conviction of the people of this country that there are no better, braver or truer soldiers than the great body of patriotic, intelligent and courageous citizens, ready at all times to take up arms in defense of liberty and country. It is provided in section 6, of the act of congress, approved April 22, 1898, to temporarily increase the military establishment of the United States in time of war.

"That when the members of any troop, battery, battalion or regiment of the organized militia of any state shall enlist in the volunteer army in a body as such company, troop, battery, battalion or regiment, the regimental company, troop, battery and battalion officers in service with the militia organization thus enlisting may be appointed by the governors of the state and territories, and shall when so appointed be officers of corresponding grades in the same organization when it shall have been received into the service of the United States as a part of the volunteer army."

It is my earnest and well known desire that the two regiments of infantry of the Nebraska National Guard shall maintain their present company and regimental organizations when accepted into the volunteer army, and so far as my efforts may avail I shall strive diligently to secure this much desired end, neither sanctioning nor encouraging any change avent where lead encouraging any change except where legal obstacles may appear, or the public good and the efficiency of the organization seem to clearly require it.

Motives of Pure Patriotism.

In the war now existing between the United States and the kingdom of Spain, United States and the kingdom of Spain, the people of this government are actuated from motives of lofty patriotism and broad humanitarianism. It is solemnly declared by the people's representatives that this is not a war of conquest, or for the acquisition of territory, but a conflict to prevent a continuance of Spanish tyranny, misrule and oppression on the island of Cuba, and to put an end to the suffering, starvation and death of countless thousands of our unfortunate neighbors. There ought to be and can be but one conclusion when a nation is engaged in a cause so righteous, and that you may all return to your firesides and friends to again engage in the peaceful pursuits of life. In such a contest and to accomplish such high aims it should be esteemed not the duty merely, but the glorious privilege of patriotic citizens to promptly and enthusiastically respond in MORENIA SUPPORT to the government. promptly and enthusiastically respond in giving support to the government.

As you go from among us you will carry with you the heartfelt wishes, and the prayers of all your fellow citizens for your success wherever duty may call you, and for your safe and early return to your homes, bearing with you the esteem and homage of a grateful people and reflecting by your valor and patriotism, as I know you will, credit on yourselves and our beloved state, and the flag of our union, which has been unfurled in so many battles in the cause of human liberty and the advancement of civilization.

Damage by Cyclone. DECATUR, Neb., May 5 .- (Special.)-The cyclone which recently spent its force here has done more damage than was thought for. The news has just come in from the reservation that two or three houses were scattered over the prairie, several horses and a number of cattle and hogs killed. Horseless wagons and buggies were seen go ing up one hill and down another with a rapidity which eventually resulted in their destruction. One old man, an Indian, was seriously injured. The sides of the house were blown away and the roof fell down on him. The Salvationists of this city are highly elated over what they believe to be a miracle of the Lord. Mrs. Conway, a woman with a palsied arm and limb, who lives across the river, was brought over Tuesday evening. Prayers by the members for the intercession of the Lord in her behalf were offered up. Just before the meeting closed the woman arose, and clapping her hands and dancing for joy, declared she was cured.

The attorneys for Broatch in the Broatch-Moores case, appeared hefore the supreme court this morning arm filed a motion asking for a judgment of ouster against Frank Moores on the findings of the referee, and also asked that the edurt fix the amount of the referee's fees. Attorney Wharton for Moores had accepted the notice and added a protest against the matter being taken up at this sitting. Appearing before the court he argued that he was entitled to the statutory time in which to file exceptions to the report of the referee. The Broatch attorneys wanted the matter taken up at once. They thought it ought to be finally decided so that the change in the mayor's office could take place before the opening of the exposition, and that Wharton ought to be compelled to file his exceptions so that the final hearing could be had next sitting. In reply Wharton argued that he was entitled to twenty days in which to examine the referee's decision and file his exceptions and brief. He had not even had the required three days notice of Twenty-One Hits for a Total Twenty-Six Bases, Three Bases on Balls and Ten Errors Tell the Story.

ST. PAUL, May 5 .- (Special Telegram.) -

The Saints made a killing today. Mauck, a graduate of the Western Association, was in the box for Omaha, and he was hit safely twenty-one times for twenty-six bases. He got a very bad start. In the first inning he showed a lot of Des Moines curves which missed the plate by a foot or two and was charged with four bases on balls in suc-cession. A hit had preceded the passes, and two more hits followed, so that the game was practically won before the Omahas ever got a chance. After that he put them over and the Saints straightened them out. In no inning did they fail to get a hit and there Shugart made the first home run of the season at Lexington Park, repeating a similar performance of last year. Phyle pitched three innings for St. Paul and then gave way to Carney. Phyle was only hit once, but both Glenalvin's errors were made in the second and there were three bases on balls in the third, so that Phyle got out without any runs by sheer good luck. Carney was reasonably steady and very effective. The four Omaha runs were due to Shugart's error. It filled the bases after two were out, and Burnett's two bagger and McCauley's throwing was very bad and the Saints ran bases at will, accumulating nine steals. Carney fielded his position beautifully and Hollingsworth accepted to hold and the Saints ran bases at will, accumulating nine steals. PUGS AND WRESTLERS MEET.

Auspicious Opening for the South Omaha Athletic Association. Omaha Athletic Association.

The South Omaha Athletic association last night opened up very auspiciously. A nice little program was pulled off despite the fact that the main event of the evening a go between George Kerwin of Chicago an Billy Lambert of Davenport, had to be called off on account of the latter's nonappearance. The management squared the audience, which numbered very nearly 700, by announcing that any one who was dissatisfied with the program as rendered corner and Jim Ford and Jim Adams were Hart's seconds. Homer Kirk was referee and Patsy Failon timekeeper.

A corking wrestling match between Rudolf Havelka of this city and Fred Smith of Colorado followed. The local man agreed to secure three fails inside of thirty minutes and won handily. He had Smith on his shoulders for the first down in two minutes and forty five second by wreatened. shoulders for the first down in two minutes and forty-five seconds by means of a half Nelson; secured the second fall in six minutes and eleven seconds through sheer strength, and a hammerlock won him the third fall in five minutes and forty seconds. Smith was wiry and quick, but was no match for the Omaha man. Havelka was civen the decision having much the these given the decision, having made the three falls in fourteen minutes and thirty-six sec-

The final event, a twelve-round bout between Jim Adams of Pittsburg and Frank Crozier of Columbus, was alone worth the price of admission. Both men were in good trim. For the first part of the first round honors were even, but after a minute's rattling good fighting Adams commenced to force matters. He landed several times on Crozier's wind, and just before the round closed brought both hands on his opponent's mouth in meeting a rush. This angered Crozier, and in the second round he went at Adams in a hammer-and-tongs manner, redams in a hammer-and-tongs manner, re ceiving as a reward hard jabs in the and ribs. The bout was going Adams' ceiving as a reward hard jabs in the jaw and ribs. The bout was going Adams' way easily, but Crozier commenced to foul and on that ground the decision was awarded Adams. Adams looked to weigh around 160 at least, while Crozier was several pounds lighter. Billy Lambert and Jim Chalfon looked after Adams' interests, while Fred O'Neill and Jim Chalfon were back of Crozier. Patsy Fallon refereed. At the conclusion of the program Chalfon and Adams called off the match they had made, but promised to draw up new articles of agreement for a meeting in the near fu-and Police Board Given Power to Act. LINCOLN, May 5 .- (Special Telegram.)-

The supreme court has handed down an opinion reversing the judgment of the distriet court in the Cox against Moores case, and dismissed the case. The opinion is by In advance of consideration of charges against an officer by a beard having power to hear such charges, and upon finding them sustained to remove the officer thereby affected, a court of equity has no jurisdiction, upon the application of such officer, to enjoin action on the pending charges because of prejudice, abuse of discretion and irregularities in procedure alleged to in the hearing contemplated.

The opinion declines to enter into the political phases of the case, saving that this would involve a discussion of the very difficult question as to what constitutes a republican, populist or democrat under the present condition of state politics.

THERE'S a mint of money in a big business—even if we don't make much off anyone.

We've built up the largest tailoring business the world has ever known-and it's growing every minute. Thousands of intelligent buyers have yet to hear of our novel prices for up-to-date tailoring -and have yet to see our big assortment — and samples of our work on the dressy men of Omaha.

Large producers — like Nicoll-have their buyers in the principal markets of the world — and contract of ten for the entire output of a mill. To give you the most and to get your trade the quickest is the plan that has brought us to our present position, but we're still growing.

Got time to study our window?
