CHINESE COME BY HUNDREDS

People for the Exposition Village Reach Omaha All Right

DELEGATION DIRECT FROM HONG KONG

Citizens of the Celestial Empire Who Hope to Enlighten Americans as to the Home Life of the Chinese.

The largest delegation of celestials that ever arrived in Nebraska came in last night shortly before 7 o'clock over the Union Pacific. A crowd of about 200 people was at the depot to welcome them, and as they stepped from the train all eyes were turned on them. The women in their gaudy smocks attracted especial attention. The girls as a rule are very attractive. They are a direct importation from Hong Kong, having left there thirty-six days ago on the White Star line steamer Gaelic, chartered by the Pacific Mail line. They arrived in San Francisco last Sunday and after going through quarantine were given their bath and steaming, which this country. They left San Francisco at 5 p. m. Monday. The party, which is composed of 215 peocompany. The company is composed of prosperous Chinese merchants of Omaha, Chicago, New York and San Francisco. Their object is to show the American people the manners and customs of the Chinese as practiced by them in their native land. The party is in charge of Inspector Urquhart, who will turn them over to the customs authorities here today. Their interpreter is Sam Wow, an educated celestial, who has been in this country nineteen years.

Among the crowd are actors and actdecorators, carpenters and waiters. The women are nearly all actresses. On the way from San Francisco they encountered quite a great deal of snow and the celestials, never having seen snow, looked out in silent admiration at Nature's work.

A consignment of two carloads of provisions reached Omaha yesterday for the company. The cargo was composed of 1,000 sacks of rice, smoked fish and various articles of merchandise.

After their arrival they were driven in Thirteenth and Harney streets, where they worth up to 35c. at once proceeded to have supper, which was composed of rice, fish and tea,

At inspection last night after their supper, the count showed everyone accounted for. They will be given their certificates today, issued under an act of congress of June 20, 1897, allowing them to be brought over to this country for the Transmississippi Exposition and allowing them to remain here until three months after the closing of the

The management of the Mee Lee Wah Village company will do all possible to give them a pleasant time during their stay and also show the public the exact actions of the Chinese in their native land.

Buckeyes Get Together.

A reception in the Commercial club rooms last night by those who claim Ohio as their native state for the purpose of making pleasant the stay of the Ohio exposition commission now visiting in the city. About 150 were present and an enjoyable program of addresses and dances was completed. The latter feature was in charge of an excellent orchestra and was interspersed with light refreshments and Buckeye sociability. The guests of the evening, Speaker Mason of use of representatives and Senators Rankin and Brarien, were introduced by John L. Webster, president of the club, and each expressed pleasure with his reception and the prospects for a good sized Ohio exhibit at the exposition. Those in charge of the entertainment last night were A. Hospe, Norman A. Kuhn and John Becan

Missourians Meet.

A meeting of about thirty Missourians was held in the Commercial club rooms last night to effect an organization and to plan for the reception of guests from that state this summer. It was decided that a Missouri supper shall be held in the near future to unite more closely the local representatives of that state. At this meal it was determined that such dishes as baked possum, red hawes, corn pone, lye hominy and ash cake would be prominent. The fol lowing officers were elected: Dudley Smith, president; R. W. Richardson and Warren Switzler, vice presidents; J. B. Utt, secretary, and Jeff W. Bedford, treasurer. Another meeting will be held Monday night.

To Receive the Britishers.

A freeting of the British and Canadian slub was held in the exposition rooms last aight to elect officers and to consider further the reception of British subjects this summer. A resolution also passed commending the attitude of the government in relation to Cuba and expressing the hope that war may soon be brought to a satisfactory conclusion. The following officers were elected: M. A. Hall, president: Thomas Kilpatrick, T. M. Orr. J. H. Millard, John Dale, Robert McClelland and Drs. Mattice and Gilmore, vice presidents; Robert Cowell, secretary, and James C Lindsay, treasurer.

Hard on Country Roads. The county commissioners are considerably worried over the condition of the macadam roads. They say that the present spell of wet weather has played sad havon with the driveways on the Dodge and Cen-ter street roads, and that unless it comes to an end soon, the wearing surface on both Heavy travel has worn the macadam into dust, and this mixed with the water, makes wagons pass over it, it rolls up on the wheels and thus is carted away.

GRADUATES EIGHT MINISTERS

Fifth Annual Commencement of the Omaha Presbyterian Seminary Held at the First Church. At the fifth annual commencement of the Presbyterian Theological seminary of Omaha, held last night in the First Presbyterian church, eight theological students were presented with diplomas and started on their life work as ministers of the gospel. The young men who were graduated are Bernard J. Brethouwer, James N. Currens, Fred H. Grace, Ulysses G. Lacy, William B. Lower, Stanton Olinger, Stanton A. Parker and Nels G. Sundby.

The exercises of the evening opened with an organ prelude followed by prayer and a vocal solo by Mrs. Reynolds. Then came an oration by B. J. Brethouwer, "Christ the Only Hope of a Lost World," and an oration by J. N. Currens entitled, "The Jews." Miss Lumbeck sang a vocal solo and W. B. Lower delivered an oration on "What is Truth?" and was followed by S. A. Parker, who spoke on "Satisfaction." Rev. S. B. church, delivered the annual address to the graduating class.

"A minister's real duty is to guide men to the fulfillment of their greatest possibilities for good," said Dr. McCormick. "Be Good Ministers of Jesus Christ," was the theme of his address. He emphasized the idea that a minister must become a servant of Jesus Christ in the full sense of the word; he must lose self completely and devote himself to the service of mankind. Ambition must be buried by the minister in Jesus Christ and he must be the humble servant of a supreme power. Rev. A. G. Wilson, chairman of the facutly, addressed the class briefly before presenting them to President McCormick of the board of directors for graduation. He advised them to make Christ the center and soul of all of their work in the ministry, and to remain faithful at all times to the word of God. The diplomas were then presented and the exercises were closed with the singing of a hymn and the benedic-

The Burlington's New Trains. Railroad men who have had the privilege f examining the four new trains which the Burlington Route, on the 1st of May, place I in service between Denver. Omaha and Chicago, say they are as magnificently equipped as any in the country—that even the famous limited expresses between Chicago and New York are not handsomer or more luxurious. Every car is wide vestibuled, and was built especially for the Burlington

The four trains are identical in appearance and arrangement. Each is composed of a buffet-smoking-library car (with both and barber shop), a palace sleeping car, a dining car, and two reclining chair cars. The butfet-emoking-library car to something new for a Denver-Chicago line. It is a veritable clubhouse on wheels, where one may read, write, smoke talk, or play cards, while traveling at the rate of fifty miles an hour. It is handsomely carpeted and furnished with setters, cuehioned easy chairs, a lavatory, a writing desk, a compartment for card-players, and a well stocked buffet. The current periodicals and newspapers are on t and a carefully selected library is provided for the free use of passengers. The eleeplog car is a gem, end the chair and dining cars are in every way worthy of the train of which they form an important part. Mark A. Polack Describes Some of

The care with which nature guards her riches in the Klondike and the obstacles which are met by the treasure seeker are quite fully shown in a recent letter from Mark A. Polack, a well known Omaha man now in that region. Mr. Polack was landed table damask, suitable for napkins, go at from the Valencia at Copper City, after an eventful voyage, and has been busy with his comrades for over a week carrying suppliespiecemeal over the Valdez glacier. This is a task of exceeding difficulty for the five One big lot of sample ends of fine linens and one-half tons of luggage carried by the running in size from 18 to 20 inches wide seven young men of the party must be loaded on sleds, in packs of fifty pounds. and hauled up a steep ascent to the first "bench," six miles distant. This is a labor of a week's length and only represents the merest start on the long trip over the

Regarding the process of disembarking the which brought us here has no wharf and as the ship was a large one it had to anchor six miles out in the bay. All our supplies had to be unloaded on little scows and towed remnants, calicoes, percales, silkoline, mus- ashore. The total weight of this cargo was lin, etc., all in short remnants, go as long 350 tons and the work of transporting it all had to be done by the passengers. At low tide we walked from the scows over about one-third of a mile of sandy black mud, with seventy-five or 100 pounds on our backs, to the shore above high water. To make matters worse a heavy snow storm was raging all the time and we were thoroughly and constantly wet during the work of disemtarking. The ship, which had not anticipated such a prolonged voyage, was not sufficiently provisioned, and we were obliged to get along on ship's crackers, salt pork and occasionally a little corned beef, which was the worst that was ever canned. After the goods were heaped in a great pile on shore a committee got on top and called off the marks on each package to be identified by the owners.

> Camped in the Timber. "Our tent here in Copper City is in the midst of an immense grove of cotton woods and there are about 700 people camping in the same neighborhood. We have our tent staked on solid ground in an excavation in the snow, which reaches a height of eight feet all around us, lending warmth and protecting us from the mountain winds.

> "The real work has now begun of getting our supplies over the Valdez glacier. From the beach to the foot of the glacier is a trip of six miles over the snow and we each load 150 pounds on our sleds and haul it painfully up to the first 'bench.' This operation is repeated all day long and it will be ten days before our provisions have all been transported over the first stage.

"The trail to the first bench is very poor, being half obscured by the drifting snow, but when we transfer our camp and begin will be impossible for each man to carry term. McCormick, president of Coe college and The people here say that no man has ever as has been stated in articles descriptive of this country.

Difficulties Ahead. "As it is about 134 miles by the glacier route to Copper river, we have 100 miles of mountainous country to cover after we get over the Valdez glacier. It is believed on vague report, however, that the country beyond is rich in gold gravel beds, and those who get over certainly deserve to find the report true. People are constantly giving up and steamers who bring passengers go back nearly as heavily laden with hose returning.

"We have not found it very cold, the temperature averaging about 25 degrees above zero, but it snows almost continuously and the ground is covered in some places twenty feet on the level. The snow-whiteness is very trying on the eyes and we all went snow glasses constantly. I find that the most important part of one's outfit is footwear, as it is almost impossible to keep the feet dry in an all day's march through the snow. Leather is almost useless and even high rubber overshoes do not keep out the dampness.

"We have just had news that a strike of very fair richness has been made up on Copper river and as that is the first report of the sort from that locality the camp feeling quite jubilant over it. Many of these stories of course spring up with little foundation, but there is some encourage ment to feel that the constant hard work may not be in vain."
