Road Fund Matter Reaches the Court on the City's Application.

ALTERNATIVE WRIT OF MANDAMUS ISSUED

Petition of the Council Filed Yesterday and an Order Made by Judge Smith Returnable in Ten Days.

The Board of County Supervisors having against the Athletic Association of the Unifailed to comply with the demand of the versity of Nebraska was commenced yestercity that the portion of the county road day in the district court. Thanksgiving day, claiming that the Ne-City Attorney Wadsworth yesterday aftermandamus to compel the supervisors to turn services as coach. over to the city treasurer all moneys received as taxes from the levy from and after upon the streets of the city or highways of County Supervisors to expend the money received as taxes from the 1 mill road fund levy upon the property within the city limits from and after October 1, 1897, only under the direction of the city council. Judge mandamus issue, commanding the supervisors to turn over to the city treasurer all the funds referred to in the petition or appear on Wednesday, May 18, at 9:30 a. m. and show cause why the relief prayed for should not be granted.

Following the usual preamble the petition filed by the city sets forth that the assessed valuation of the property within the city limits is $4,659,350, and that the 1 mill road fund levy would yield $4,659.35, of which amount already more than one-half has again. The trial had been set for this term been paid to the county treasurer. The petition then cites the portion of the new code conferring on the city the right to direct the expenditure of the portion of the road fund raised within the city, and that formal demand had been made by the city on the Board of Supervisors, and sets forth "that notwithstanding the provisions of the statute the said Board of Supervisors is attempting to unlawfully and fraudulently misappropriate the funds arising from said 1 mill road fund levy within said city and refuses to comply with the requirements of the statute and refuses to expend said fund arising from the property within said city limits under the direction of the city council as provided by law; that said refusal is contrary to law and equity and will work great and irreparable injury and damage to the city of Council Bluffs.

"That said Board of Supervisors at its adjourned meeting in April, 1898, attempted to misappropriate said funds by passing the following resolution, to wit:

Resolved, That the expenditure of the county road fund tax collected from the city The case against Edward Richardson, who with his brother Robert was charged with breaking into Mrs. Christina Weeberg's house during the night time and the brance of the county road rund tax collected from the city of Council Bluffs and Kane township shall be controlled by Supervisor Baker for use in his district and that the county road tax paid by the brance of the county road tax breaking into Mrs. Christina Weeberg's paid by the balance of the county shall bouse during the night time and stealing be equally divided between the other four supervisors, the limit of the amount to be expended in the four other districts to be

They threw a road fund arising from taxation of property in Lewis, Garner and Crescent townships amounts to $1,085.33. The petition

That by said resolution said board of su pervisors is attempting to misappropriate the money received from Crescent, Garner and Lewis townships and expend it on the roads in other parts of the county and is attempting to misappropriate the money re-ceived from the road fund levied upon the property in Council Bluffs and to expend said money in the improvement of the highways in said Crescent, Garner and Lewis townships, thereby injuriously dis-criminating against the city of Council

That attempting to oblige the citizens of Council Bluffs to pay out of the 1-mill road fund levy for the improvement of the roads in the townships of Crescent, Garner and Lewis is unjust, unlawful and inequitable. The petition sets forth that there are 270 miles of streets besides about 270 miles of city, and they are in such condition that it of professionals. is absolutely necessary to spend all the money received from the road fund levied within the city on them to repair, improve and make them passable, and concludes.

That the board of supervisors has expended no money received from said 1-mill levy in the improvement of the streets within the city, although often requested to do so, and that unless commanded to so do by order of court it will expend all of the fund derived from the levy upon the property within the city upon the roadn outside of the city limits. and make them passable, and concludes.

outside of the city limits.

The demand of the city to control the expenditure of the road fund for this year is resisted by the supervisors on the grounds that they claim that the new law does not apply to moneys levied before the code went into effect. The tax was levied in August, 1897, while the new code did not go into effect until October 1 of last year.

Just what pressure can be used in Washington to give the men an opportunity of holding their places is not known. The officers who failed to pass are snown to be competent officers and they think the matter of weight should not shut them out.

The men in the camp are much excited over the results and many of them think the examinations were made unnecessarily severe in order to secure the rejection of certain officers. The work of fitting out the 3,000 members of the national guard at Camp Mc-Kinley with new shoes has progressed well toward completion. The army shoes cannot be secured yet and a contract was made for footgear of solid structure and with broad toes for immediate use. General Byers has no intention of permitting the soldiers to develop corns and sore feet by drilling in the narrow-toed shoes which many of them wore from home. Camp life and long marches are hard on shoes and many pairs were wearing out. The shoes were issued by Colonel King and his assistants. The men were marched into the quartermaster's building by companies, seated in squads of twelve and told to fit themselves with shoes from the convenient piles. The fitting was done on the largest foot, and when a soldier had equipped himself with one shoe it was assumed that the other would fit and he was marched back to quarters wearing one new and one old shoe and carrying the same assortment. New blankets have been issued to men who were unprovided.
